Newton Rotary Active at Boston Convention

Members Place Thirty Cars at Disposal of Visitors

"If I can see Bunker Hill and Plymouth Rock, I shall be perfectly satisfied," said one of the Rotary-Anns, a long-distance visitor at the convention last week, to one of the Newton Rotarians whose courtesy car was waiting to be of service. "I can take you right over to Bunker Hill now," said the Newton man, but I am afraid it is too late for Plymouth today for you know it is some forty miles away. I shall be delighted to take you tomorrow." "Oh," replied the lady, "I always thought they were close together."

Thirty Newton Rotary members placed their cars at the disposal of visitors from Sunday to Friday. All of the clubs of Greater Boston helped in this and other ways to make the convention of International Rotary the successful and pleasant affair that it was. The excellent planning of the Boston Rotary Club for many months furnished the stimulus to the clubs in the nearby towns to do their best. Visitors coming by auto were greeted as they entered the suburbs, some of which were gaily decorated with welcoming signs and bunting. In the twenty-four years of Rotary conventions, the Boston meeting was the third largest in registration, and it was declared the best ever held by many delegates and visitors.

These and other facts were brought out in brief talks by Harry Hanson, newly elected president, and by Lyman Bruce, secretary, at the luncheon meeting of the local club on Monday. Both were impressed with the excellence of the program during the convention week, with the remarkable addresses of overseas as well as American delegates. Most eloquent were the pleas for international understanding, one of Rotary's chief aims. In the sectional meetings, the discussion was plain and to the point, sometimes even blunt, and notable was the unanimity in point of view. One was much impressed with the sincerity of the speakers. The consensus of opinion was that the strength of the Rotary movement depended largely upon the individual member, mass or group action being a secondary matter. The importance of getting the Rotary message across to the younger generation in order to make it truly and lastingly effective was strongly urged. Both Mr. Bruce and Mr. Hanson were greatly impressed with the promptness and dispatch with which the meetings were conducted. It was a great convention in every respect, one in which Boston—and that means Greater Boston—may truly be proud.

The Rotary-Anns are cordially invited to attend the meeting of the Club next week. Edward E. Whiting will speak on the international political situation.

Gets Jail Term for Drunken Driving

Patrick Durra, 24, of West 8th st., South Boston, was given a jail sentence of 30 days, fined $65 and held for the Grand Jury, when he was tried in the Newton court on Wednesday on several charges. He appealed and was held in $2900 bail. The jail sentence was for drunken driving; a $50 fine was for reckless driving; a $15 fine was for drunkenness. He was held for the Grand Jury on charges involving the theft of an automobile and number plates. Durra was arrested at Newtonville recently by Patrolman Walker after the latter had jumped on the running board of the stolen car. Durra was driving in the struggle to stop the car. Walker was injured, but he chased Durra on foot, when the latter jumped from the car, and captured his man. Durra boasted he was a member of the Gustin gang, according to testimony, but this was found not to be true.

Foisy Speaks on Cost of Crime Before Kiwanis

Says Crime Cost $135 Per Family Last Year

Paul R. Foisy, Asst. District Attorney, spoke on the "Cost of Crime" at the Kiwanis meeting held Wednesday, July 5, at the Charles River Country Club.

Mr. Foisy said, "Only 10% of the country's criminals actually serve time. The cost of crime and crime prevention mounted from $40 a year per family in 1913 to $135 a year last year. Our national crime bill is $1.8 billion of dollars. This means that one-fifth of our national expenditures goes for crime and crime prevention."

"135,000 people in the United States are guilty of homicide—which means that there are 52,000 more murderers roaming the street than there are policemen to go and catch them."

"In New York City only 20% of those caught are punished, in Chicago only 10%, in Cleveland 30% and in Baltimore 51%." Mr. Foisy pointed out "that the racketeers and gang organizations made it possible for criminals to go on their release."

"30% of our crimes are committed by youngsters 21 years old and younger," Mr. Foisy stated "that out of a group of 64 recent indictments, 59 were 21 years of age."

"We have 10 million laws in the United States and are making 100 thousand more every year. This is more laws than there are in the 5 leading nations of Europe."

"In 1932 the City of Detroit had 185 murders and just across the lake the City of Ontario did not have a single case of murder in 1932."

Mr. Foisy emphasized that there must be something wrong with our system and it was not a lack of laws. He concluded his talk by pointing out that the Middlesex County is very fortunate in the matter of its court system.

That in 1927 the sum of $270,000 was appropriated but that the courts spent only $205,000—turning back the $65,000 saved. In 1928 $210,000 was appropriated, only $186,000 was spent and $24,000 returned to the county. This record was even bettered in 1929 for only $155,000 was spent out of $210,000 appropriated."

Next week the meeting will be held on Tuesday, July 11, at the Charles River Country Club with Charles A. Mahoney, former President, presiding. The Club elected Dr. H. F. Paul, Charles A. Mahoney and George L. White as delegates to the Johnsbury, Vermont, convention to be held by New England Kiwanis on September 24, 25 and 26. William Pike, James Forbes and Tom Ryan were elected as alternates.

Hats Off To Rotary

Boston Rotary Convention is over. The high ideals of public service and unselfish idealism that are the high lights of their expansive fellowship illuminated our horizon for a while. The afterglow remains.

Kiwanis, dedicated to underprivileged child work, the elevation of business ethics, the increase of cooperative business effort, takes it hat off to Rotary. We wish it Godspeed in its good work.

Mrs. Teresa Galvin Of West Newton Burned To Death

Neighbors Thought Screams Came From Children at Play

Mrs. Theresa D. Galvin of 29 Holman rd., West Newton, was fatally burned at her home yesterday afternoon about 4:30. About 5 o'clock Mrs. Ruth Ingraham of 39 Holman rd. saw smoke issuing from the Galvin home. Investigating, she found the unconscious form of the woman on the rear piazza of the Galvin house. Mrs. Galvin's clothes had been almost entirely burned. Mrs. Ingraham telephoned for the police ambulance and the fire department. Mrs. Albert Tierney of 38 Holman rd. and Walter Guild of 25 Holman rd., who had rushed to the scene, extinguished the remnants of flames which were consuming what remained of the woman's apparel. Mrs. Galvin was rushed to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance and died there last night.

It is supposed that Mrs. Galvin was smoking a cigarette while lying on a divan in her living room and she fell asleep. The glowing cigarette ignited the divan and her clothing, the fire spreading to the floor and walls of the room. In her efforts to beat out the flames she had rushed out onto the rear piazza. Neighbors heard screams 15 or 20 minutes preceding the discovery of the fire, but thought they came from children at play. Mrs. Galvin was 32 years old. She was the wife of William A. Galvin, an auditor employed at the Federal Internal Revenue Bureau in Boston.

Old Films Burn At Abandoned Newton Studio

Atlas Film Studio at Newton Highlands Destroyed

The abandoned film studio of the Atlas Film Company off Alden st., Newton Highlands, was destroyed by fire Friday afternoon. The studio, built in the earlier days of the film industry, had not been used for this purpose for some years. A quantity of old films, stored there, furnished highly inflammable fuel for the flames and the glass roof of the structure was quickly destroyed. Francis Flaherty, hosiery man on Engine 7, Upper Falls, received a severe cut on his neck from a piece of falling glass. He was taken to the Newton Hospital for treatment. Leon Daddum of Dedham st., Newton Centre, is the owner of the property.

Drives Car At Police; Fined $100

George Ryan of North Dighton street, Taunton, was fined $100 by Judge Bacon; $50 for driving a car so as to endanger the lives of the public, and $25 each on two counts of refusing to stop when ordered to do so by an officer. A charge of speeding against Ryan was dismissed by the judge. Motorcycle Officer Dowling, the complainant, testified that on June 29 he and Inspector Culbertson of the Registry of Motor Vehicles were on duty at Needham st., Newton Upper Falls, when Ryan came along in a car going at a speed of 45 miles an hour. Culbertson signalled Ryan to stop because of the speed at which he was driving. Instead of stopping, Ryan headed right at Culbertson, according to the testimony, and the latter had to jump to save his life. The inspector and Dowling jumped into a Newton police car and followed Ryan to the Webster st. intersection. Needham, taking a short cut, in the belief that Ryan was following Route 128, and that he could head him off. Dowling's hunch was correct and at an intersection in Needham he saw Ryan coming along. Dowling stood out in the street and signalled Ryan to stop. The latter, according to the testimony, repeated his tactics and drove at Dowling, forcing the policeman to leap to save himself. Dowling attempted to pursue Ryan, but the police car could not match speed with the fugitive's car, which escaped at an estimated speed of 70 miles. Dowling obtained the numbers from the registration plate on the Brockton car and traced ownership to Ryan.

Ryan agreed to appear in the Newton court on last Friday and when he failed to do so, a warrant was issued for his arrest. His lawyer argued that 45 miles an hour on Needham st. was not excessive. Ryan appealed the fines imposed.

Badly Cut Jumping Through Window

George Barton, 22, of 528 Grove st., Newton Lower Falls, was severely cut on July 4th when he jumped through a window at his home. He gave down Webster st. and was taken to the Newton Hospital to have cuts on his abdomen treated and raised a rumpus there which caused a telephone call to be sent to police headquarters. Serg. King and Inspector Feeley placed Barton under arrest. In the Newton court on Wednesday he was fined $10 for disturbing the peace. A charge of drunkenness was placed on file.

Double Wedding In Newtonville Brilliant Affair

John Gardner of Newton Centre Dies In Auto Accident

Fatally Injured at Topsfield When Reckless Driver Cuts In

John Gardner, 21, of 181 Langley road, Newton Centre, was fatally injured Wednesday morning when the car he was driving crashed into a stone wall on the Newburyport turnpike at Topsfield, near the Ipswich line. Young Gardner had spent the holiday with friends at Sebago Lake, Maine, and was returning home. He was accompanied by Mrs. Mary Greenleaf of Medford, a friend of his hosts at Sebago. When he reached the scene of the accident, the driver of another car cut sharply in front of Gardner's car, and the latter to avoid a collision, applied the brakes. His car skidded into the wall and overturned. Gardner's skull was crushed. He was carried to the Memorial Hospital at Danvers by passing motorists, and he died within two hours. Mrs. Greenleaf was thrown clear of the car and not dangerously injured.

John Gardner was born in Jersey City, New Jersey, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gardner. He attended Newton High School and was prominent in athletics there. He was a student at Northeastern University. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Robert Tucker of Union City, New Jersey; his grandmother, Mrs. S. S. Howland of Ohio; an aunt, Mrs. Eugene Phillips, with whom he resided. His father died several years ago. His funeral service will be held today at Caldwell, New Jersey.

Burglary At Hubbard Pharmacy

Thief Breaks Two Cash Registers—Makes Haul

The Hubbard Pharmacy at 425 Centre st., Newton, was burglarized early Monday morning. The thief entered the cellar of the Elks Building and gained entrance to an empty store next to the pharmacy. Squeezing through a narrow window in a toilet at the vacant store, the burglar risked his life to reach several feet across and cut a pane of glass from a rear window at the Hubbard store. While doing this he was risking a drop of 15 feet into an arway at the foot of the concrete stairs leading to the cellar of the building. Having gained entrance to the drug store, the burglar broke open two cash registers, destroying a large and valuable cash register in the process. A considerable sum of money was stolen by the thief.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

According to statistics compiled by insurance experts, the City of Newton had the enviable record in 1932 of having the fourth lowest suicide rate of any city in the United States. Its rate per 100,000 of population was 5.4; the cities bettering this record were Troy, New York, 1.3; Holyoke, Mass., 1.5; Waterbury, Conn., 4.9. Strangely enough, the city following Newton in a low suicide rate was Cicero, Illinois, where gangsters are supposed to abound. They don't have to commit suicide.

The first worst suicide records in the U. S. A., last year were made in the following cities—Davenport, Iowa, 50.3; Sacramento, Calif., 43.1; Seattle, 42; Cedar Rapids, 41.5; San Francisco, 39.9. The best record among nations, as regards suicide in 1932, was made by the Irish with a rate of 3.3; the worst by the Austrians with 34.5. The Irish suffered privations for so many centuries that the depression of the past few years didn't change their jovial nature. Austria has been suffering ever since it was denuded of territory and wealth following its defeat in the World War.

A certain large corporation making and retailing gasoline and other petroleum products has also gone into the sale of tires and other automobile accessories. This company insists that the attendants working at its filling stations must sell a certain amount of tires and other side lines if they want to hold their jobs. This "high pressure" business stuff may add to the profits of the company in one way and another, but it is also losing many customers for the too enterprising corporation. Autoists who drive into a filling station for gasoline or oil, eventually are apt to become tired of being asked to purchase other articles.

There have been several burglaries at Newton Corner stores the past week and some persons have been criticizing the policemen who patrol that section nights. Two of the breaks, those on Washington st., were in buildings not on the route of the night officer at Nonantum square. The other break, at the Hubbard Pharmacy, occurred on the route which was patrolled that night by a policeman whom we know from personal observation is very faithful in trying doors of stores in that section of Newton Corner where he patrols, the doors at the GRAPHIC office included. We have criticized the abolishing of most of the patrolling of the city by policemen on foot, and the lack of motorcycle policemen to control traffic. But, we don't believe that policemen who are doing their duty should be unfairly knocked.

Former-Principal Palmer Goes With Beacon School

Mr. Palmer Will Serve as Teacher and Consultant

Mr. Irving O. Palmer, who for more than eight years was Principal of the Newton High School and was retired last June, has returned to Newton from a stay in Los Angeles, California. Prior to his Principalship, Mr. Palmer was for thirteen years head of the science department of the Newton High School, and for eight years Principal of the Technical High School.

Feeling that a fund of experience such as these connections denote should be available to boys, Beacon School of Wellesley Hills, a college preparatory school for boys, is engaging Mr. Palmer as teacher and consultant on its staff. He will take his place as a member of the faculty when the school opens in September. During most of the summer he will be at his old home in Newton.

Want River Beach At Lower Falls

A meeting was held last night at Early Hall, Newton Lower Falls, by residents of Newton Lower Falls in an endeavor to obtain a bathing place at the Metropolitan reservation near that village. Alderman Cronin and Floyd were present. A committee including James Cooney and John Higgins was appointed to interview the Metropolitan Commission and petition for a bath house and bathing beach on the former Crechore estate, where the old bathing place was located. Rev. Mr. Fairweather spoke regarding the hazard of speeding and other traffic hazards at Lower Falls, and the abolition of unsightly gravel pits in that village.

Burglars Active At Newton Corner

Two more burglaries occurred at Newton Corner stores during the early morning hours yesterday. The breaks were at the insurance office of Woodward & Tyler, 345 Washington st., and at the former Crechore estate, where the old bathing place was located. Rev. Mr. Fairweather spoke regarding the hazard of speeding and other traffic hazards at Lower Falls, and the abolition of unsightly gravel pits in that village.

Protest Against Addition To Mill At Newtonville

Many Attend Hearing Before Board of Appeals

About 50 persons attended a meeting at City Hall last night held by the Board of Appeal of Newton to listen to protest against the granting of a permit to the Security Mills for an addition at their plant on Munroe st., Newtonville. The opposition was led by W. C. Frazier of Clarendon st. The protestants claim that the neighborhood near the mill is disturbed by noise of machinery at night, and by odors from the dye house there. They object to further enlargement of the plant. In fact, some of them would like the plant removed.

The Security Mill building was erected in 1921 after much opposition and following hearings of protest against it. It was erected after the owners of the company had agreed to stop the construction work in the swampy area where the mill was built provided the city, or the citizens of Newton who objected, would reimburse the company for the money already expended or contracted. When this was not done, the work on building the mill proceeded. As a result of the controversy over this mill, the zoning ordinance of Newton was devised and enacted.

The company has built several additions to its plant during the intervening years and Buildings Commissioner Hageman granted a permit recently for another addition which would be used by the finishing department of the mill. He ruled that under the zoning ordinance the business has been legally established and has a right for reasonable extension. The members of Board of Appeal present—C. Raymond Cabot and Adrian Sawyer—took the matter under consideration and will shortly make a decision.

Pulled False Alarm; Must Pay $50.00

Three Newton youths who thought they would display patriotism on July 4th by pulling a false alarm appeared in the Newton court on Wednesday and were ordered to pay $50 as reimbursement to the city for the cost incurred in bringing the fire apparatus out needlessly. The trio pulled Box 267 on Lowell avenue, Newtonville at 10:30 Tuesday night. A passing autoist got the registration number on the car they rode in, and performed a creditable civic duty by informing the police. The trio, who were placed on probation, in addition to being ordered to pay the $50, were Carl Stone, 19, 3 Vernon st.; Richard W. Goode, 17, 331 Kenrick st.; John Ryan, 18, 5 Copley st., all of Newton.

The will of Miss Clara M. Hayes, who died on June 7, was filed yesterday in the Middlesex Probate Court. The value of the estate was not given. She made bequests of $4000 to relatives and friends. The residue of her estate was left in equal shares to the Pomeroy Home and the Stone Institute at Newton Upper Falls. Miss Hayes was for many years superintendent of the Pomeroy Home at Hovey st., Newton.

PUBLIC COURT CHAMPIONSHIPS OF NEWTON TO START

Next week Thursday the annual public tennis championships of Newton will begin under the direction of the playground department. An elimination singles tournament will be staged with the winner earning the right to represent the city in the annual New England Public Parks championships at Springfield early in September. There are no restrictions as to age the only restrictions being that the participant must be an amateur and must not be a member of a private tennis club or a private club which has a tennis court.

Contestants in the preliminary rounds will have a limited time in which to arrange their own matches on any of the local public courts with the semi-final and final round matches to be played at a court to be announced later. Entries close on Wednesday, July 12th, with Francis Broun of 23 Pembroke at Newton, Tel. N. 0609 or at the office of the Playground Department at City Hall.

Donald Martin of West Newton, a former B. U. tennis captain, and well known in various tournaments has been the Newton representative in the New England tournament in recent years and won the event at Springfield in 1931 and last year was runner-up. It is expected that the local tournament will draw a large number of contestants with the increase of interest in tennis among local players. Last year the tournament attracted over seventy entries.

The first round in the Newton Twi-league race will be completed this week with the Newton Y. M. C. A. nine, with an undefeated streak of eight games, far ahead of the field. Each manager will name two players and the Board of Umpires will choose two players from each team to form an All-league squad which will play a home and home series with one of three teams. Proceeds from this series will be used to purchase the trophies to be awarded to the members of the championship teams. The team to be selected as the opponents for the All-league team will be either the Presentation of the Boston City League, Watertown A. A., or Daley Post, V. F. W. of West Newton. Sports Briefs

W. E. Long of Newtonville finished second in the double American round shoot of the Eastern Archery Association at Deerfield last Saturday. Long's mark of 177-1209 was beaten by 22-year old Donald McKenzie of Greenwich, Conn., with a new record of 179-1251. McKenzie's score was three points better than the former mark made in 1927 by Dr. Paul W. Crouch of the Newton Archers. Mrs. Dorothy Cummings of Newton Centre lost her 1931 record mark of 144-1032 in the double Columbia round to Dorothy Duguid of Greenwich, Conn., with 144-1060. Mrs. Cummings placed third in this event with 143-953. Mrs. Horatio Rogers of Newton Centre won the flight shoot for women with a distance of 2184 yards. Madeleine Taylor of Newton Centre won the club shoot for women with a score of 36-224. Two all-star schoolboy baseball groups representing the 1932 and 1933 all-scholastic nines met last Saturday at Russell Field, North Cambridge, with the 1932 players winning 14-4. The 1933 opened the scoring with a single tally in the second inning when with runners on second and third a grounder went to Warren Huston, 1933 all-choice who was playing third base. Huston nipped the runner at the plate by a wide margin but a return throw by the catcher went into left field and the other base-runner scored—with two on in the last of the second Huston's timely single started the 1933 team off and at the end of the inning the score was 2 to 1. 1932 countered with 3 in the third and 1933 scored two more to tie it up at 4-4. Four runs in the seventh and one each in the eighth and ninth gave the 1932 outfit its winning margin. Bill Reilly's Newton team in the Boston Twilight league got off to a great start on the holiday when the second half of the race opened. Newton beat University City Club 4 to 1 at the West Newton Common with a home run by Mel Hemeon the timely blow. Hemeon, a former Newton high, Cushing academy, and Penn. University athlete, connected for the circuit with one on in the third. He also got a two-bagger in four times at bat. Warren Huston at short hit for two bases in his only hit in three trips. Malcolm Clark in the semi-finals of the Oldtown Country Club singles tournament at Newport. Arthur Noble of Newton Centre, teamed with Paul Gubord of Melrose, is in the semi-finals of the doubles tournament at Newport. The Cabot Tennis Club has changed its name to the Burr Tennis Club renewing the activities of that organization in the Old Colony tennis league. Burr has a leg on the handsome trophy emblematic of Old Colony championships and with a number of players who were former members hopes to get a second leg this year. The Burr team plays West Medford tomorrow on the local Burr courts and the second team plays the Lakeside tennis club at Newton Highlands. Donald Martin, Norman Harris, Malcolm Clark, Oscar Jarrell, Harry Sylvester, Henry Simon and Dr. Edward Sawyer comprise the first team. Bob Ashley, Dick Brennan, Walter Taylor, Frank Wetberbe, Bob

YOUNG NEWTON PLAYERS STAR IN STATE TOURNEYS

Several young Newton players figured prominently in the closing rounds of the juvenile tennis championships last week at Longwood with Elena Ciccone now holding or sharing the titles. Miss Ciccone, who resides on Willow st., Newton Centre, won the girls singles title from Caroline Everts of Newtonville last week Thursday as stated in these columns. On Friday the two local girls captured the girls doubles and then on Saturday, with her partner, Ellis L. Tarshis of Montreal, she went on to win the final match in the junior mixed doubles. Later she and Thomas Slattery of Newton Centre were defeated in the final round of the younger mixed doubles tourney by Miss Everts and her cousin, William F. Everts, Jr., able of Newtonville.

Miss Ciccone is the outstanding young tennis star among the girls in the state. She is a graduate of the 1933 class of the Weeks Junior high school and next year will easily make the girls tennis team at the senior high school when she will undoubtedly figure prominently for the next three years. The Ciccone-Tarshis combination in the older mixed event at Longwood defeated Sylvia Hatch and Norman Dalrymple of Winchester in a hard-fought match. The first set was a royal battle into extra games with the local girl and her partner finally triumphing 11-9. They then went on to capture the next set 6-2 and with it the title.

In the younger class event Miss Ciccone and Slattery made a great bid for the honors against the Everts team. The first set went to the Everts' team by an 8-6 margin but Miss Ciccone and her partner came back to win the second set by a 6-2 margin. Building up a 3-1 lead in the third set the Ciccone-Slattery pair seemed to have the match won but the Everts duo capitalized on a streak of errors by its opponents to forge ahead 5-3. The ninth game ended rather unfortunately for Miss Ciccone and her partner. With Miss Everts and her partner holding advantage 3-2, the Everts' team 6-3 with it the match. Miss Ciccone and Slattery entered the final round when they scheduled match with Nancy McNeill of Brookline and William C. Chick, Jr., of Newton was defaulted by the latter pair.

In the boys' doubles tournament Walter Muther and Chick reached the final round where they opposed John G. Palfrey, Jr., of Brookline and his partner, Harry Thompson, Jr., of Arlington. This pair had opposed each other in the younger boys' singles finals with Palfrey winning. In the final doubles match Palfrey and Thompson won in straight sets of 6-4, 6-1.

In the younger boys singles Thomas Slattery won his first two matches before running up against Thompson. Although defeated by the Arlington player young Slattery showed considerable promise and came into his own in the doubles tourney with Miss Ciccone. He has been playing tennis but little more than a year, picking up the game at the Newton Centre playground courts. He is the 14-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Slattery of Warren st., and graduated last month from the Weeks junior high school. Like Miss Ciccone he should be a valuable addition to the high school team in the next few years. With the wider playing experience he will undoubtedly receive he should receive the necessary polish to his game.

Skills, Victor Haven and Percy Lewis are on the second team—the girls team has a match with the Winsor Club of Watertown next week Wednesday at Watertown. Elena Ciccone, Alice Jack and Elise Geary will play in the singles matches and Lillian Mancini, Constance Ober, Carolyn Whitaker, and Barbara Hansen will play in the doubles matches.

JUNE BUILDING REPORT

During June 87 permits were issued by the Public Buildings Department of Newton. The estimated cost of the work to be done under these permits is $352,126. Of the 87 permits, 32 were for single dwellings valued at $331,500; 19 for private garages valued at $5415. Despite the attitude of the Newton aldermen against advertising signs, two of the permits were for signs. The increase in building activities is shown by the fact that the total estimated value of work done under building permits issued for the first five months of this year in Newton was only $373,423.

GARDEN CLUB NOTE

On Monday, July 10, the Waban Community Garden Club is invited to the Mass. State College Field Station, which is located at 240 Beaver st., Waltham. Mr. Dempsey, of the Station, will first guide the club members around the premises, and will later answer questions from a "question-box" which members will have the privilege of asking in regard to various garden problems.

Plant Wound Causes Swelling
Most any sort of wound received by a tree or plant will cause a swelling. Of the thousands of galls, which affect nearly all forms of plant life, the greater number are caused by animal parasites, especially insects. The oak, willow, rose and goldenrod stand at the top of the list of the higher plants having galls. Those caused by insects on the oak produce commercial dyes, tanning chemicals and ingredients of ink.

FREDLEYS OPEN SHOP IN HYANNIS

It will be of interest to many to know that FREDLEYS of Boston and Welleley have just announced the opening of their new summer shop at Hyannis.

This shop has achieved an enviable reputation for the distinctive clothes they display, and a view of their collection is always worth while to those seeking the unusual in feminine wearables. The new shop at Hyannis is very charming and is devoted to resort wear and evening clothes for late summer and early Fall. It should prove a great convenience to their patrons who are spending the summer on Cape Cod.

Yes... owners "treat 'em rough"

... but find a Terraplane that can't take it
... or a Terraplane owner who doesn't love his car as he loves his dog!

The way Terraplane owners drive, you might think they had a grudge against their cars.

But watch them smile while they float along at sustained speeds that would make most cars cry for mercy. Talk to them after they've done a stretch of high-gear mountaineering. Challenge them to say why they breeze so nonchalantly over rocky detours.

"Why, that's Terraplaning!" they'll say. "This car's no sissy—why nurse it? It's grown up. All you do is drive it—it takes care of itself."

And that's what makes Terraplaning a sport instead of just transportation. No—you don't have to hop along at 70 or 80, or take the side of a mountain at 55 or a rutty lane at 40. But you can if you want to—with-out repair-bill worry. "That's Terraplaning!"

"Don't I know it! We've done 748 miles in two days without a hill-shift. And both we and the car are as fresh as dewy daisies!"

"Lots of Terraplanes up here this summer—they're the only cars that can take these mountains in high gear."

Police News

Herbert Wahl of Cummings rd., Newton Centre, was fined $100 in the Newton court on Friday by Judge Allen for driving a car while under the influence of liquor.

John Kershaw of Southbridge was fined $5 in the Newton court on Wednesday by Judge Weston for not stopping before entering a through street. He told the court he is out of work and could not pay. Because the judge thought Kershaw did not show a proper attitude in manifesting a willingness to pay within a specified time, he sentenced him to jail for non-payment of the fine. If the Southbridge man does not raise the money, he must serve 10 days in the hoosegow.

Another autoist fined by Judge Weston on Wednesday for not stopping before entering a through street was Rev. Jacob Grogg of Walnut st., Boston, who paid $5. He was one of a dozen autoists summoned into court by Patrolman Frank Monroe who has been doing good work in apprehending autoists who ignore the STOP sign at the dangerous intersection at Washington and Beacon sts., Lower Falls.

Robert Cullis, 20, of Dunster rd., Jamaica Plain, was fined $100 in the Newton court yesterday for driving while under the influence of liquor. Unlike many autoists appearing in the Newton court on similar charges, Cullis was honest, and admitted the charge. His car was involved in an accident at Washington and Beacon sts., a few weeks ago and several persons received injuries.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

A car driven by Alfred Goyette of 92 Hudson st., Boston, was in collision on Wednesday at Boylston st., Newton Highlands, with a truck which was driven away after the accident without Goyette obtaining the identity of its driver. In the crash Goyette's 7-year-old son received cuts on the nose and mouth and the father rushed him to the Newton Hospital. Goyette and his wife received minor injuries.

Cars driven by Albert Pitcoff of Salem and Oliver Buntin of Cohasset collided on Wednesday on Commonwealth avenue at the Weston line. Pitcoff thought he heard something drop from his car onto the street and brought the vehicle to a stop. Buntin's car crashed into the stopped automobile and pushed it about 20 feet onto a lawn nearby. Buntin and John Goffey of Meriden, who was riding with Pitcoff, were reported as having received injuries.

MRS. MARY A. FOGG

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Fogg, widow of Ira Wayland Fogg, was held Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock in Immanuel Baptist Church of Newton, Rev. Newton A. Merritt, pastor of that church officiating.

After the service she was taken to Northwood, New Hampshire, for interment in the family lot. A short commitment service by Mr. Merritt was held at the grave in the presence of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Fogg was a former resident of Lynn, and lately of Salem, and leaves many relatives and friends who will miss her genial happy presence. She had been ill for the past three months at the home of her daughter Mrs. Chester W. McCaul of Newton, besides whom she also leaves a son, Robert Fogg of Syracuse, N. Y., a sister and two brothers.

NEW CURE FOR WHOOPING COUGH

At 5:30 Monday morning a resident of Watertown who lives on Pleasant st., near the Charles River, telephoned the Watertown police that a man was pushing a baby carriage along the river bank on the Newton side. The Watertown police telephoned Newton police headquarters and two police cars were rushed to the scene. They found a man residing on Beech st., Nonantum, wheeling his baby along the river bank. He explained that the baby had whooping cough and that his mother-in-law had advised him to wheel the infant along the river bank in the dampness of the early morn. The policemen advised him to take the patient home and obtain the service of a physician.

BAD MONEY PASSED AT WEST NEWTON

Owners of two small stores at West Newton were victims of a passer of counterfeit money on Saturday afternoon. A middle-aged man made a small purchase at the stores of Catherine Ryan, 4 Auburndale ave., and Mrs. Leavitt, 130 River st., tendering a $5 bill at each place and getting change. The bills were found to be counterfeits.

CHURCH SCHOOL HAS GOOD ATTENDANCE

The vacation school conducted by the churches of Newton Centre on the campus of the Andover-Newton Theological School opened on Monday, July 3, with a registration of sixty pupils. A much larger registration is looked for in the coming week, the holiday week-end having retarded many in registering. Any child between the ages of four and eleven may be registered free of charge each week-day morning except Saturday.

Many activities have been arranged in the curriculum according to age groups. Story telling, project enterprises, group games and handwork of various kinds—leather work, block printing, jigsaw work, sewing and others—all these tend to make busy mornings for little hands.

This year the school is especially fortunate in its competent teaching staff, most of the teachers having had special training in working with children.

The school will continue its program until July 28th.

FIRE RECORD

At 1:45 Saturday morning Box 245 was pulled for a fire at the house of Severio Carlevale, 43 Faxon st., Nonantum. Considerable damage was done to the building and contents. The fire started in a couch, supposedly from a cigarette butt.

At 2:13 Friday afternoon Box 15 was pulled for a fire in a shed on land at Nonantum place, Newton, owned by Henry Hawkins & Son. The fire is supposed to have started from firecrackers thrown by boys.

For the last half of the week, John Barrymore will be seen in "Reunion in Vienna," a picture which has been meeting with favor with Boston audiences. On the same program Jack Holt and Fay Wray will be seen in "The Woman I Stole."

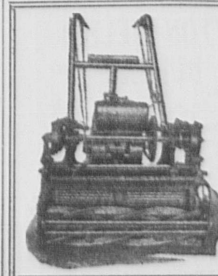

Byron's Cave Disappears

Byron's Cave, on the headland which forms the Gulf of Spezia, near Pisa, Italy, has disappeared. Erosion has destroyed the grotto-like place. It was here that Byron dived into the sea to swim the five-mile stretch to Lerici, where Shelley had settled in his last home in April, 1822, the month in which Byron lost his daughter Allegra. A few weeks later Shelley, sailing home from Leghorn, was wrecked and his body washed up near the cave.

LOOKING AHEAD

The natural growth of the city requires continual foresight into the needs of the future. It is a well-known fact that within the next few years Newton will be called upon to provide additional school facilities for the rapidly growing enrollment of pupils. We fully realize that the subject of school expenditures is not a popular one and is extremely controversial. Nevertheless, the problem must be faced. At the present time consideration of the situation is important. Welfare lists are long, prices are on the increase, money is available. It would seem that now would be the time to go ahead with some of these projects. It is well within the realm of possibility that the money needed for the work could be obtained through the opportunity afforded by the terms of the National Industrial Recovery Act. If the problem can be worked out along these lines it would, we believe, follow out the intentions of the Federal law.

PENALIZING EFFICIENCY

While the Emergency Finance Board may be within its rights in distributing moneys received from the Federal grant for welfare purposes where it is most vitally needed there is little question but what such distribution penalizes those cities and towns which have kept their financial house in order. A uniform distribution would, from this angle, be perhaps more just, but it is doubtful if such a distribution would result in the lifting of the acute burden on those cities and towns which are in dire need. Although efficiency is paying the penalty at the present, it will, perhaps, receive its reward at some further step along the road to recovery.

Under The Gilded Dome

Somewhat slowly but none the less surely the Legislature is reaching the few remaining major measures before it with prorogation ahead within the next week or two. Due to the holiday many of the members of the House and Senate spent little time on Beacon Hill this week. In order to recess over the long week-end holiday under the legislative rules an informal session had to be called last Saturday morning. All of the members from the western part of the state had left Boston Thursday or Friday afternoon and thus at the Saturday morning session of the House but two members were present. Rep. Cahill of Braintree, Republican floor leader, presided as Acting Speaker with Rep. Thomas Barry of East Boston as the only member present. In the Senate with Pres. Fish in the chair the only other members present were Senator Hollis of Newton and Sen. Holmes of Weymouth.

Brief sessions were held in both branches on Wednesday with no important action in the House of Representatives. The Senate, with similar action having been taken by the House last week, voted to override the Governor, 26 to 9, on a bill reimbursing a state employee in Dalton for damages he had paid out as the result of a judgment against him in an automobile accident. The Senate also refused to reconsider its action of last week in sustaining the Governor on the latter's veto of a bill abolishing educational requirements in certain civil service examinations. Senator Hollis was among several speakers in opposition to the passing of the resolve calling for $15,000 with which to repair and send the Gloucester fishing schooner, Gertrude Thebaud, as the Massachusetts exhibit at the World's Fair in Chicago. On Wednesday a vote of 26 to 10 the Senate passed the resolve to be engrossed. When the resolve was returned to the House on Thursday for its final stage of passage an unsuccessful attempt was made by a few Representatives to kill the bill. The bill was passed along by a standing vote of 81 to 24.

On Thursday the House of Representatives ordered to a third reading a bill authorizing Massachusetts banks to participate in the purposes of the Federal Home Loan Act. The bill, based on a message of Governor Ely and upon a petition of three Representatives provides that Massachusetts banks may sell real estate mortgages and accept in exchange the notes of the Home-Owners Loan Corporation. Rep. Pratt of Saugus offered an amendment making it compulsory for banks to make this exchange so as to give relief to their clients. The amendment would have made the Home-Owners Bank Incorporation a home loan board and give it the authority to compel a bank to refrain from foreclosing on mortgages and compel the acceptance of bonds from the Federal board. After some debate on the amendment Rep. Bigelow of Brookline raised a point of order that the amendment was in violation of the clause, made the legislation beyond the scope of the petition upon which the bill was based. Speaker Saltonstall ruled that the point of order was well taken and the amendment was ruled out. Speaker Saltonstall's decision was based upon the fact that a mortgage is a private contract and as such mandatory measures are unconstitutional and also that the Federal act was clearly permissive and a mandatory State measure would be rendered inoperative.

Presidential in the near future centers around measures to be reported by the Committees on Ways and Means and on Municipal Finance under which the state and municipalities may take advantage of moneys available under the National Industrial Recovery Act. The former committee has named a sub-committee to draft a measure relating to state public works projects while the latter committee has named a sub-committee to draft legislation affecting municipal projects. Both of these sub-committees were to report to Governor Ely this morning and are shortly expected to report back to their main committees in order that the latter may offer some legislation early next week. The main committee has before it the message from the Governor regarding the expenditure of about $75,000,000. It is doubtful whether the Legislature will authorize the expenditure of such huge sums as an attempt will be made to amortize the debt over as long a period as possible at the least expense to the taxpayer. With this hurdle out of the way the Legislature can then turn its attention to the supplementary budget and the State tax, the final matters of the session.

It is rumored that Governor Ely will shortly send a message to the Legislature asking for equal legislation in the event that the 13th Amendment is repealed before the General Court convenes again next January. It is doubtful whether the present session will consent to re-mission to enact such legislation but will attempt to refer the matter to a recess commission with the possibility of agreeing to return for a special session in the fall if repeal is imminent.

Governor Ely has turned his attention to the Boston Police situation and has stated that he will endeavor to get the bottom of the problem. The rumors that the Governor will seek to remove Commissioner Hultman and otherwise shake-up the department are apparently without foundation. The Governor has stated that he is interested in facts and not conclusions.

A measure requiring the State Emergency Finance Board to distribute funds for public welfare on a uniform basis to all cities and towns was filed on Thursday by Acting Mayor Joseph McGrath of Boston. Under the laws passed by the last Congress each state was granted one-third of its public welfare expenditures for the year, the State in turn to pay the money to its cities and towns. The Emergency Finance Board, which has supervision over the distribution, has given out its decision that it will place the money where it is most needed. Earlier in

By Edw. H. Powers

Several weeks ago, under this column, we criticized Mayor Duane of Waltham for issuing permits which allowed so called "carnivals" to do business in that city and we commended the Newton Board of Aldermen for having consistently, during a long term of years, refused to allow such undesirable ventures in this city. The following week as a result of protests from Waltham citizens and the Chamber of Commerce of that city Mayor Duane announced that he would not grant further permits to "carnivals". In the item we refer to, we stated that it has been the practice of the owners of such carnivals to obtain permits in towns and cities through the medium of veteran organizations; such organizations being paid a sum of money for co-operating.

When we wrote the item, we were not aware that at that time a certain Veteran's organization in this city had negotiated with a "carnival" company. The following week announcements appeared in newspapers that this organization had obtained a permit from the Playground Department to hold a "Mardi Gras" at Victory Field Playground, Nonantum during the week starting June 19. We were informed the organization received $300 from the Carnival owners for getting the permit. "Mardi Gras" is the French name for "Shrove Tuesday" and literally means "Fat Tuesday". It was so called from a custom, centuries old, of holding carnivals in European countries for several days preceding the Lenten season and on this last day "whooping" was made. The "Mardi Gras" carnival established by the French in New Orleans, in this country, has long been famous.

The name has been misused in recent years by promoters of travelling carnivals such as held forth on Victory Field, Nonantum, a couple of weeks ago. No gorgeous floats are shown in connection with such affairs, certainly they are not even remotely connected with the observance of Lent, and instead of limiting their "fat" days to Tuesdays, they endeavor to make every day a "fat" day for themselves.

The carnival or travelling show which masqueraded on Victory Field playground under the alluring title "Mardi Gras," was like others of its kind. It gave an exhibition of high diving to attract a crowd, had amusements such as merry-go-rounds to extract nickels from children, had some side-shows, included refreshment booths to sell food and drinks and last, but not least, it depended largely for profits on a number of gambling devices run wide-open. These gambling concessions at carnivals are run scientifically. According to complaints made by suckers who lose their money at them, the wheels at these games are not operated on a "free wheeling" mechanism. The chauffeurs of these gambling machines are alleged to be quite expert in applying the brakes. And the easy marks who are enticed into gambling their cash are lured by seeing apparently lucky persons win plenty of money.

The writer is not hypocrite enough to pose as being rigidly righteous. He is not absolutely opposed to gambling. Most persons gamble more, or less. Either in the stock market, playing bridge or poker, or among the humdrum of these gambling machines and the like. We don't object to veteran organizations or fraternal societies running field days and obtaining money by conducting games of chance. But, we do object to professional gamblers coming into Newton, running questionable gambling devices and causing persons to squawk to the police that they have been cheated, as was done at the recent carnival in Nonantum. A few weeks ago when the writer was a member of the Licenses Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen, a member of a Newton veteran organization asked our support in voting to grant a permit to a carnival which applied for a permit to operate for a week in this city. That carnival was to have paid $200 to the veteran organization. We told our friend that we would oppose the granting of the permit, which was refused by the Aldermen at that time. We also told him that we thought such a method of obtaining easy money would not redound to the credit of his organization or enhance its reputation.

The large majority of the people of Nonantum do not want such ventures in their district. They don't want the week Mayors of Springfield and Worcester entered their protest against the Board's decision and asked for uniform distribution. Chairman Joseph W. Bartlett of the Board is planning to go to Washington to confer with Federal authorities regarding the situation.

Yesterday the Senate passed to be engrossed the bill calling for the payment of annuities to dependents of policemen, firemen and investigators or examiners of the Registry of Motor Vehicles killed or dying as the result of injuries received in the performance of duties. The bill is made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1930.

The bill for the abolition of the Metropolitan Planning Division was referred to the next annual session by roll-call of 23 to 9 with Sen. Hollis voting against the abolition. The members of the division was recommended by the special commission on reduction of expenditures along with six other divisions, five of which have passed out of existence. The Senate's action means that the Planning Division will function for another year at least.

An order was adopted directing the Public Utilities Commission to investigate the expediency of prohibiting service charges for the domestic use of gas and electricity. The measure is a Senate order and requires neither action by the House nor signature by the Governor.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Sacrament" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 9.

The Golden Text is: "The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?" (1 Corinthians 10:15).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even Christ our passover is sacrificed for us: therefore let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (1 Corinthians 5:7, 8).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "If all who ever partook of the sacrament had really commemorated the sufferings of Jesus and drunk of his cup, they would have revolutionized the world. If all who seek his commemoration through material symbols will take up the cross, heal the sick, cast out evils, and preach Christ, or Truth, to the poor—the receptive thought—they will bring in the millennium" (p. 34).

Youths who are attracted to such affairs disturbing the sleep of the neighborhood by noisy conduct as they travel homewards after midnight. They don't want the children deprived of their playground for a week, and the grass on the playground trampled bare. Victory Playground was donated for years to Nonantum through the generosity of the late Andrew Adie of the Saxony Mill, with the co-operation of Samuel Hyslop, former agent of that mill. It took years of effort to develop the grass and this section for growing grass on playground, take a look at Boyd Park playground at Newton.

With a large number of Nonantum residents receiving welfare aid from the city, it was logical to permit a money-extracting "carnival" to chisel in this section for a week. It was the first "carnival" permitted to appear in Nonantum for many years. It should be the last and it will be if the wishes of Nonantum residents are recognized by officials of Newton. And such money-extracting activity should not be permitted in any other section of the city; particularly in any section populated by working-class people who need all the money they have under present conditions.

Cathedral of La Paz is Finished After Century

A century of effort culminated in the completion of the Cathedral of La Paz, originally ordered by Marshal Santa Cruz, president of Mexico in 1835. Five thousand persons filled the big church for the initial mass.

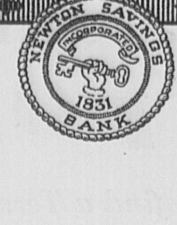

Architecturally, the edifice is something of a phenomenon. There is a difference of level between the entrance and the altar which amounts to 45 feet. This was responsible, in part, for the remarkable depth of the foundations, which reach 95 feet. The floor area of the cathedral is 13,000 square feet.

Situated 12,000 feet above sea level, the cathedral is the largest building of any kind at such an altitude in any part of the world. During the hundred years required for its construction, civil wars and revolutions alternated with depressions and lack of funds in preventing an early completion of the work, and its walls have seen more history during the construction period than many other completed cathedrals have seen in their entire existence.

Indians from the surrounding mountains contributed some of the most precious carving, both in wood and stone. Indian labor raised the giant dome, piece by piece, in this rarefied atmosphere until it towered 215 feet above the remainder of the building.

Gasoline Mixture

Gasoline requires to be mixed with a large amount of oxygen or air in order to make it explode. According to an authority, from 1.4 to 6.4 percent of gasoline makes an explosive mixture with air; a greater percentage of gasoline burns without explosion. To burn gasoline completely, about 16 pounds of air is needed for each pound of gasoline. The force or power of the explosion depends on the amount of compression of the charge of gasoline vapor and air. It is usually compressed to a third or a quarter of its former volume, say from 15 pounds per square inch to 35, 60 or 75 pounds per square inch at the end of the compression stroke of the piston.

Polish Corridor One of European Peace Problems

The Polish Corridor, one of the problems of European peace, and one of the points of German irritation, is a strip of land running from Poland proper to the free city of Danzig. It gives Poland an outlet to the sea by way of Danzig, but it drives a line through Germany in such a manner that East Prussia is cut off from the rest of Germany.

As a result of this barrier or outlet, depending upon the viewpoint, Germans living in East Prussia must either face the inconvenience of passing through the Polish border and customs guards, or reaching Germany proper by way of the sea. The corridor was set up by the treaty of Versailles, but since that time has grown to be a constant source of fear and worry.

A comparable condition would exist if New York city were a free city similar to Danzig and Canada were given a strip from the Canadian border down to New York, thus cutting off New England from the rest of the United States.—Washington Star.

Fire Department Of Newton Wins Merited Praise

Commended For Promptness And Efficiency

The following letters of commendation have been received by Chief Randlett of the Newton Fire Department.

Newton Upper Falls,
June 25, 1933.

Chief Randlett,

Dear Sir:

"I wish to congratulate your branch of the Newton Fire Department, the Newton Highlands truck, on the most wonderful and efficient work which they performed at 14 Cheney Court, Newton Upper Falls, Thursday evening June 22. There is no question but that they saved the life of a friend of ours on that date with a pulmotor. I feel that I should make mention of this case as your department receives little, or no mention. Thanking you again, and wishing your department the best of success, we remain,

Yours respectfully,
Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McLaughlin."

From Swedish Charitable Society

Dear Sir:

"At a recent meeting of the Board of Directors of this Society, it was mentioned how promptly the Newton Fire Department responded to a fire call at the home for the aged at 206 Waltham street, West Newton, a few weeks ago, and how quickly the fire was extinguished, with very small damage to the home. It is an indication of the efficiency with which the Fire Department functions in such emergencies and deserves to be acknowledged.

"We had the pleasure of a visit from Hon. Sinclair Weeks, Mayor of Newton, at the home on the afternoon of June 24 when this was called to his attention. He was very pleased. We therefore, take this opportunity to express to you and your department the Society's sincere appreciation."

Yours very truly,
CARL J. BJORK, Secretary.

Serious Fire in Newton Home

The home of Michael Mulcahy at 52 Gardner st., Newton, was seriously damaged by fire last Saturday afternoon. The fire started in a pantry off the kitchen and gained great headway before it was discovered at 3 o'clock. When the firemen arrived in response to an alarm from Box 171, the rear of the house was in flames. Miss Eleanor Mulcahy was slightly burned when she rushed through the blazing kitchen to the garage at the rear of the house and drove out the family automobile. The flames spread from the kitchen to the dining room and gutted the rear of the residence. Smoke badly damaged the furnishings throughout the house. The damage will amount to several thousands of dollars.

Lightning Hits First Church at West Newton

Bolt Shatters Spire and Knocks Holes In Roof

The severe lightning storm last Saturday night caused serious damage at the First Unitarian Church, West Newton. A bolt hit the northwest spire on the tower at the church and some of the heavy fragments of granite crashed through the roof of the parish house at the church, 30 feet below the location of the spire. Four holes were made in the roof, and pieces of the shattered spire littered the church yard and Washington st. The fire department was notified and ladders were raised to the roof of the structure by the firemen who spread canvas over the holes to prevent the heavy rain damaging the interior of the building.

Cave-in Nearly Buries Workmen

Two workmen nearly lost their lives at Garland rd., Newton Centre, on Monday afternoon when a trench they were digging caved in. The men, Pasquale Yarossi, 39, of 84 West st., Norantum, and Carmine Trillo, 47, of 13 Middle st., Norantum, were employed by Louis Proia of Boyd st., Newton, with other men to make a connection from a house to the sewer in the street. At 4:50 one side of the trench in which they were working caved in. Yarossi was buried up to his neck; Trillo was buried up to his waist. Fellow workmen, headed by Giuseppe Salvucci, dug frantically to free the endangered men, and in half an hour had them free. Both men received bruises on their legs, but refused to go to the hospital. The police ambulance had been driven to the scene shortly after the cave-in occurred.

No Mail Delivery Wed. Afternoons

The people of Newton, in common with residents of the other cities and towns in the Boston postal district and other postoffices hither and thither, received no delivery of mail to their homes or places of business on Wednesday afternoon. And, according to the present plans of the Postoffice Department they will receive no delivery of mail on any Wednesday afternoon for the next three months. The ingenious excuse given by some postal officials for this further curtailment of the postal service is—that a large percentage of retail business places close Wednesday afternoons during July and August, and the postoffice department is merely co-operating in this movement. The real reason is—that an order was recently promulgated by the Postmaster General imposing an additional lay-off of nine days on postal employees, and these Wednesday "half-holidays" (without pay) is one way of putting this nine days lay-off into effect.

Boy Scout Camp Moves to Douglas Reservation

New Site Well Adapted To Camp Life

The Pioneer Camp of the Norumbega Council, Newton, and Wellesley, Boy Scouts of America, was moved on Tuesday from the Nobscot Reservation, where it has been in operation since July 2, to Camp Barker in Douglas.

Camp on Beautiful Site

Camp Barker is located on the shores of Laurel Lake, in Douglas, Mass., near the Rhode Island line and about 18 miles south southwest of Worcester. The country roundabout is quite wild and the lake itself is very attractive. The site is covered with large, old deciduous and conifer trees, with a big grove of white pines and hemlocks. It is in this grove that the Whippoorwill starts his melancholy song and the Patrol located there last year took its name from the bird which gave them their nightly serenade.

The staff last year moved the entire waterfront down in front of the big, long-slatted mess hall and built a one-hundred-foot pier with a forty-five-foot cross-section. This entire waterfront set-up will be used this year. The camp fleet consists of eight canoes, four row boats, a life boat (used in swimming periods only) and two sail-boats of the Cotuit-Bay type. This entire fleet will be recommissioned for camp use as soon as possible.

Unusual Camp Plan

The plan for operating the camp this year is quite unusual and was inaugurated by the Council last year, during the summer, at the Nobscot Reservation. As is the custom in Norumbega's summer camps, the boys are divided into Patrols, following a basic principle of Scouting, each with its own Patrol Leader. At the pioneer-type camp, however, instead of a central mess hall, each Patrol has its own kitchen, under improvised shelter and does its own cooking all the time. The menu is well balanced, the food of sufficient quantity and of high quality; and, as observation of the cooking or eating of the meals would quickly prove, the boys do an excellent job of cooking.

The entire principle of the camp is that "we do not camp for camping's sake," but strive to make the most of the great opportunities for character building which go with a proper camp program. Cooking for themselves is not primarily to save money, though it does cut the cost materially, but it develops a great deal of self-reliance, self-confidence and ability to meet and deal with situations as they arise.

Very Low Fee Charged

The fees at camp run from 50c per Scout per period to a maximum of $4.00 per period, plus 60c for extra meals for every Scout who stays over a week-end between periods. The very low fee is due entirely to the fact that there is an infinitesimal overhead; the staff is entirely volunteer, there is no camp cook to pay, there is no insurance or maintenance of buildings, so the fee charged is simply to cover the cost of food and a very slight amount allowed for some repairs and fixing up equipment so that it will be in proper condition to use. This unusual situation may never arise again in connection with the Council's summer camping program at a site like Camp Barker, so the conditions this year cannot be taken as a precedent.

Fine Staff to Operate Camp

While camp is extremely low in cost per Scout, it is in no sense of the word "cheap." Equipment, staff and all else are rated at a very high standard. Scouts will sleep in large tents, with board floors and every Scout will have a spring cot with a tick. Kitchens will be properly equipped and sheltered.

The most important part of the camp, the staff, is composed of high-grade, experienced men and young men. The Camp Director is Mr. L. A. Bruce, Jr., Scout Executive of Norumbega Council for the past six years.

Edward E. Whiting Addresses Rotary On New Deal

Says Both Parties Should Support New Deal

"The New Deal" is a heroic gesture, an attempted escape from an intolerable situation, and whether we are Democrats or Republicans, we should give it our whole-hearted support," said E. E. Whiting, well-known journalist and citizen of Newton, in a speech before the Newton Rotarians at the Braeburn Country Club. "We must keep our heads in this time of change. We must banish pessimism. In the oldest known writing on Egyptian papyrus, the same pessimistic note is struck that we hear today, and again and again we read in history that the good old times are gone and that children do not obey their parents as they once did. What we should aim at now is a reasonable prosperity, not a boom, and until that prosperity comes, we should not allow politics to enter the situation."

Mr. Whiting told of an incident at the New York Convention of 1924 when Franklin D. Roosevelt, crippled by infantile paralysis, passing by a room filled with weary newspapermen, made such an impression upon them that they all instinctively took off their hats. They felt that here was a man in a thousand, able by sheer pluck and perseverance to rise above his infirmities, and yet even then they could not foresee the creativeness and the dynamic energy that he has shown as President. The speaker told many humorous anecdotes to illustrate his points, some of them stories of former President Coolidge.

It was ladies' day and Rotary-Anns to the number of 22 came as guests with husband and friend. There were eight other visitors, six of whom were members of other Rotary Clubs. President Harry Hanson was in the chair and Vice-President L. A. Bruce introduced Mr. Whiting. Ernest F. Dow of West Newton will be the speaker at the meeting next Monday. He will speak on Esperanto and its possibilities for serving as a common language.

Aldermen Vote Big Appropriations

At Special Meeting Held Last Night

A special meeting of the Board of Aldermen was held last night by order of Mayor Weeks; seventeen members were present. Most of the time was spent in committee conference behind closed doors during which discussion was held on matters involving the appropriations of large sums of money. These appropriations included $14,400 for the payment of the land at West Newton now occupied in part by the police headquarters building; $15,000 for the Welfare Department for aid of poor outside the city home; $14,000 for the Water Department to have the water mains in the city tested by a device known as a "pitometer"; $2,000 for water mains; $50,000 additional for the new high level sewer; $420.30 for two new motorcycles for the police department; $175 for a fire alarm signal at the pumping station of the Water Department.

The discussion regarding the appropriation of the money for the land at West Newton is printed elsewhere. The money for the aid of the poor is necessitated by the continuance of unemployment among a large percentage of Newton residents. The appropriation for the fire alarm signal at the pumping station was made because the Water Commissioner stated that this signal is necessary in order to allow the engineers at the pumping station know just where in the city fire occurs, so that water pressure may be increased in such a section.

The considerable amount of money appropriated for the "pitometer" tests of the water mains resulted from the assertion of Water Commissioner Ellis that such tests are necessary. About $200,000 has been or will be spent by the city in laying new water mains. The "pitometer" is a device which is attached to the top of a water main and it shows what the pressure and carrying capacity is. Ellis says that by its use, leaks in mains will be detected and waste eliminated. Also, by finding what the capacity and pressure of the mains are, and thus a more efficient extension of the water main system can be made. The Water Commissioner said that he does not know what the exact cost of the survey by means of the "pitometer" will be, but it will cost $14,000 for a starter. The work of making excavations for using the device will be done by employees of the Water Department.

The aldermen also authorized the sale of $60,000 more of the bonds which comprise part of the Cousins Fund which was donated for the purpose of enabling persons of small means in Newton to acquire their own homes.

At the special meeting of the Board of Aldermen last night it was voted to appropriate the sum of $14,400 to pay persons, who in 1918 donated a parcel of land at West Newton to the city; this land to be used as part of the site for a new city hall. On part of this land is now located the police headquarters building. There were seventeen aldermen present at the meeting; the absentees were Aldermen Farrell, Gordon, Howlett and Jamieson. Those who voted for the appropriation were Gallagher, Grebenstein, Hill, Collins, Bowen, Hutchinson, Floyd, Cronin, McKay, Chandler, Cordingley, Hawkins, Murray. Those who voted against the appropriation were—Holden, Pratt, Sprout and Temperley.

The donors of the land comprised a group of West Newton residents and the land was the site formerly occupied by the old Congregational church on Washington st., adjoining the site of the old city hall. When it was decided to build the new city hall at the "triangle site" in Newton Centre, Mayor Weeks conferred with the trustees representing the donors of the West Newton land. The trustees are Hon. Charles E. Hatfield, Henry B. Day and George Barker. On the supposition that the trustees and donors of the land, who were interviewed, were willing that the site should be used for the police headquarters building, the costly structure was erected thereon. After the building had been erected demands were made by a few of the donors that they be paid for their

Weeks' Mayoralty Campaign Started

Workers Circulating Papers to Obtain Pledges

Supporters of Mayor Weeks in his campaign to be re-elected as Mayor of Newton next December, were circulating endorsement papers through the city yesterday. These papers, on which citizens are asked to endorse Mr. Weeks, contain the following statement:

"City Election Pledge"
"We—the undersigned, qualified voters of the City of Newton, hereby approve the administration of Mayor Sinclair Weeks, and promise to vote for his re-election on Tuesday, December 12, 1933."

"We do this in the interest of the City Government, its employees, and the home owners of Newton, and for the purpose of continuing in office the Mayor, who has given Newton the lowest tax-rate of any city in the State, which has established an enviable financial standing for our city and which, at the same time, has maintained a high standard of service to the public."

Two Youths Held For Burglaries; Heavy Bail Set

Two youths who were arraigned in the Waltham Court last Friday and held in $15,000 bail each for a burglary at Watertown, are also charged by the Newton police with having committed a burglary at Auburndale. The pair are Frank Argosky, 21, of Lawrence, and William Dickens, 20, of Stedman st., Brookline. They were captured by a Watertown policeman after they had broken into a store at that town. An electric clock, found in Dickens' room, was identified as one stolen on June 25th from the jewelry store of Howard Mayhew, 269 Auburn st., Auburndale. On the night of this burglary a number of watches and jewelry were stolen from Mayhew, and a radio set from E. L. Ufford who occupies part of the same store. The watches were recovered at a bicycle shop in Lawrence where Argosky is alleged to have sold them. The radio set was recovered at a gasoline station in Lawrence. The loot was recovered by Inspectors King and Feeley. The pair are also accused of having been involved in a postoffice theft at Lawrence.

Bids Asked For Worcester Pike

Street Commissioner Stuart has been notified by the State Department of Public Works that bids will be opened next week from the contractors who figured on the construction of that portion of the Worcester turnpike which will start at the Hammond Pond Parkway, near the Brookline line, and extend easterly into the Town of Brookline. The parkway traffic will cross by means of an underpass.

Y.M.C.A. MAKES IT TEN STRAIGHT IN TWI-LEAGUE RACE

The Newton Y. M. C. A. nine continued to make it a runaway race in the Newton Twilight league circuit this week by taking two more games to extend its winning streak to ten straight. With the second and ninth place teams separated by only a two game margin a general shakeup in the standings occurred. The Highlands A. A. clung to second place by splitting even in its two games with the Auburndale nine winning its two contests to climb from fourth to a tie for second with the Highlands. The Newton Cubs jumped two notches, from sixth to fourth, by winning two out of three games while the West Newton Town team also jumped from seventh to fifth by splitting even in two games. The Newton A. C. made the most notable advance by winning two of its three games and climbing from ninth place up to sixth. The Nonantum Boys Club with Cliff Choquette and Dominic Lupo taking regular turns in the box is now one of the most feared clubs in the league. The Boys' Club won one and lost one this week but climbed a notch in the standing going from eighth to seventh place as Upper Falls and Silver Lake struck snags and each dropped two games. The double defeat for the Upper Falls tumbled them from third place down to eighth while Silver Lake slid from a four-cornered tie for fourth place into ninth position. Newton Centre dropped its two games and remains deep in the cellar with ten straight defeats.

Two games tonight with the Newton Cubs meeting West Newton at Cabot Park and the Newton Y. M. C. A. traveling to Victory field to meet the Newton A. C. will result in a further shakeup in the standing while next week's games as scheduled below will show further changes. A series with the Daley Post, V. F. W. of the Boston Twilight League is being arranged with an All-Newton Twi-League team which the umpires and managers will name shortly. Two series will take place during the week of July 24th with the field of play to be announced later. One of the games will probably be played on the high school diamond on Claffin Field, Newtonville.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

N'VILLE RACQUET CLUB TOPS NORTHGATE CLUB 5-3

The first of a series of inter-club challenge matches in Newton was played Saturday, July 8th, between the Northgate Club of West Newton and the Newtonville Racquet Club.

The Newtonville Racquet Club won, taking two singles and three of the doubles matches.

Each club had twelve players with four single teams and four double teams participating. Two of the doubles and two of the singles were played at each club so that everyone had a chance to watch the progress of the tournament.

The finest exhibition of tennis was given by Rycroft of Northgate who with a rushing, driving game completely overpowered Toas of the Newtonville Racquet Club, whose back court game suffered from the pounding which Rycroft gave it at the net.

The longest match for the afternoon was between Doane of Newtonville and Forte of Northgate. This match went to three sets with both men driving deep from the back courts. It was a beautiful game to watch and the gallery applauded almost constantly.

The entire tournament hinged upon the results of the Allen-McCormick versus Brigham and Dewey match which had just past the first set when all the other matches had been completed and while their opponents fought hard it was the steady, sure, conservative tennis of Allen and McCormick that brought the victory to the Newtonville Club.

The summary:
Singles—Rycroft (Northgate) d. Toas 6-0, 6-1; Taylor (Northgate) d. Russell 6-2, 6-2; Auryansen (Newtonville) d. Wulf 6-1, 6-1; Doane (Newtonville) d. Forte 6-2, 4-6, 6-4.
Doubles—Eaton-Butler (Newtonville) d. Ramee-Stockbridge 6-3, 6-4; Edmonds-Barlow (Newtonville) d. Forte-Stromer 6-2, 6-2; Allen-McCormick (Newtonville) d. Brigham-Dewey 6-3, 6-2; Taber-Eldridge (Northgate) d. Brown-Rockwell 6-1, 6-3.

QUANSET WINS HOLIDAY YACHT RACE OF CHATHAM CLUB

The third race of the season of the Baybird Class, sailed at the Chatham Yacht Club, around the triangular course in Pleasant Bay, took place on July 4th in the afternoon. The weather was very cold, with a heavy north-easterly wind, rain, and a two-reef breeze.

Quanset's Big Q, with Lois Rockwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Rockwood, of Newton Highlands, at the tiller, took first place. Tending the job was Ned Hammett of Antioch College, with Mr. Francis Hammett of Baton Rouge, La., in charge of the boat.

The Black Q, another of Quanset's fleet of racing boats, came in second, with Margaret Hodges, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Hodges, of Newton Highlands, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor Marcy, tended the job and Bree Hammett of Baton Rouge, La., was in charge of the boat.

The boat taking third place in the race was No. 8, owned by Mr. Allen McClenon of Chatham, Mass., and Cambridge, Mass.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

Peggy Hopkins Joyce, internationally famous beauty, heads the large roster of radio and screen stars which appears in Paramount's musical comedy extravaganza "International House," opening Sunday at the Paramount Theatre. The radio stars include Rudy Vallee, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Col. Stoopnagle and Budd, Cab Calloway and his Orchestra, and Baby Rose Marie. Screen stars are W. C. Field, Stuart Erwin, Sari Maritza, Bela Lugosi, Lona Andre, Sterling Holloway, Franklin Pangborn, Edmund Breese and Lumsden Hare. The Girls in Cellulose, novel beauty chorus, are also featured.

Naming Passenger Ships Requires Good Judgment

In naming passenger ships consideration must be paid to ease of pronunciation. An example exists in the case of the Cunarder Tyrhenia, says a writer in the Weekly Telegraph.

As soon as she was named half a dozen different ways of pronouncing her title came into existence. She was called "Tie-rhinia" by her officers; "Tie-rhenia" ashore; and by the crew, after unhappy experiences with the German shipkeepers when she was on the Hamburg-New York run, she was wittily nicknamed "Try-and-ruin-you."

The result of these complications was that the Cunard authorities made a complete change from their usual practice of naming their vessels after countries, etc. (Lusitania for Portugal, Mauretania for North Africa, and so on), and renamed the Tyrhenia Lancastria, thus incidentally paying Lancashire a compliment.

Being Serious and Solemn

To be serious is one thing; to be solemn is another. Often the two are mistaken, the one for the other, but they are very different and may be far apart. A thing may be awfully solemn and not serious at all because it is stupid and absurd. All of us know the solemnity of ignorance, of prejudice, of sanctimoniousness, and how flippant they are in fact. Every hoary old humbug is solemn even funeral, and needs only a tiny thrust of serious thought to prick it.

The property is 9,500 square feet of land, and the total value of the property is $15,000. William I. Stark and Mildred A. Stark purchase for a home and will take immediate occupancy.

In the West Newton district Burns & Sons have sold for Axel Jacobson a lot of land containing 6,700 square feet, located on Pleasant st. Mr. Anthony Bonica of Waltham was the purchaser and will erect a single residence on the property immediately. The lot is valued at $2,500.

Protect the Owls

The owl is a valuable bird. The only two destructive varieties are quite rare. Owls eat enormous quantities of gophers, rats, mice and other pests. In one year in Washington, D. C., a pair of barn owls and their young ate 1,506 mice, 134 rats, 59 shrews, and 37 other mammals. Owls are well fitted for their work. They have keen vision, excellent hearing, and their flight is noiseless. They tear their prey to pieces, then swallow meat, bones and fur. The meat is absorbed, and the indigestible matter is disgorged.—National Farm Journal.

Hearse at the Game

The arrest of a New Jersey city man for having stolen a hearse, on which he took a joy ride that ended in a wreck, recalls that in the days of the old Eastern league, of which Springfield was a member, a baseball enthusiast who drove a hearse for a New Haven undertaker once gave unexpected evidence of his loyalty to the home team. Returning from a funeral, he could not wait to change vehicles, but drove his hearse deliberately into the grounds, parked it by right field and from his driver's seat enjoyed the game. That, however, was not the origin of Yale's "undertaker."—Springfield (Mass.) Republican.

Wednesday Closing Of Newton Stores

Give Employees Well-Earned
Summer Half-Holidays

Most of the stores and shops at Newton Corner closed Wednesday at noon to allow their owners and employees a half holiday. This is a custom which has prevailed in this city for many years during July and August. The independent markets and grocery stores, with a couple of exceptions, closed, and the chain markets and grocery stores did likewise. Included in this number were the A. & P. Stores, S. K. Ames, Dewey's Market, Economy Grocery Stores, Ford's Market, Forsyth's Market, First National Stores, Mohican Market, Wilson Brothers. All three hardware stores closed, including Campbell Hardware Company, Moore & Moore, and Newton Hardware Company.

Other stores which closed were—Kane Furniture Company, Newton Glass Company, Newton Music Store, Newton Men's Shop, Fred St. Jean, Harry's Department Store, Parke Snow Company, McCammon's and Brier's shoe stores, Miss Cunningham's millinery shop, Welsh Electric Company, Wilson jewelry shop and the jewelry department at Leonard's. Of the several dress shops, the Small Shoppe joined the commendable closing movement Wednesday. So did all the shoe repairing shops with the exception of one on Washington st. near Bacon. Those which did close included—Frank Alexander, Thomas Laza, Joe Concladi, Jacob Gullian, M. Boodorian, K. Topozian. The tailor shops, with one or two exceptions also closed. Those cooperating included—Mannhattan Tailors, Newton Fur Company, Bay State Tailors, Newton Tailoring Company.

The cleansing shops, with the exception of the Tip Top Shop on Centre st. did not close. The failure of the others to close was caused by the non-cooperation of a chain shop on Centre st. The barber shops did not close. The owners of all the barber shops had agreed to close, but the last minute refusal of one owner caused the remainder to keep open. The shops willing to close included—Caruso, Phillips, Salvi, Community Barbers on Centre st., Fell on Washington st., Tomkins on Centre place. The beauty shops which closed Wednesday afternoon included Hoffman's, El Ray, Mary Louise and Wilfred Beauty Shop.

Camp Frank A. Day

Over 300 parents and friends visited Camp Day last Sunday. Many arrived in time to attend the worship service in the beautiful chapel. On July 19th the first three-week period ends. A number of the first group are staying 3 weeks longer.

Among those who are going to camp Wednesday are: John Embach, Ralph Washburn, Jr., John Bliss, Jr., Charles Bell, Walter Havens, Paul Havens, Louis C. Calo, Alan Batstone, William Burton, Wells Brown, John E. Drake, Richard Emery, Warren Kelley, Charles Llewellyn, Jr., Edwin Meserve, Jack Perry, Marvin B. Perry, Jr., Richard Rice, Howard C. Thomas, Jr., Wendell H. Slayton, William H. Slayton, Jr., H. Cranston Lawton, Donald M. Rowe, Edward Dunn, Edward Perkins, Merlen C. Bullock, and Arthur A. Feinburg.

Boys' Department

In addition to the boys at camp, numbers of the members are taking part in the daily programs in the Boys' Department which are proving very popular this year.

On Monday morning at 9:30 a group of twenty-eight boys showed up for games in the athletic field. Under the leadership of one of the Boys' Secretaries, the boys had a lively game of Indian Baseball. Tuesday found a group of 33 boys at the "Y" waiting for a Midget Baseball Game. However, as the opposing team did not show up, the whole group went out for practice both in the infield and outfield. On each of these days, the program was followed by a swim in the pool.

Wednesday morning, a group of boys from the Boston Churches appeared on the scene and were entertained from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. with baseball, mass games, swims, lunch and movies. This was just one section of the group which is entertained each summer by the Newton Y. M. C. A.

As usual on Wednesday afternoon, three reels of movies were presented for the members of the "Y." Two of these reels, a picture entitled "Won by a Sweet," was obtained through the courtesy of the New England Manufacturing Confectioners' Association.

Through the courtesy of the Ford Motor Co., a group of the members paid a visit to their Assembling Plant at Somerville. Mr. Arthur Clarke had charge of this part of the program.

Again on Friday the Midget Baseball team swung into action at 9:30 and this game wound up the program for the week.

Due to the severe rain storm on Monday evening, the Employed Boys group held a game tournament and Marshmallow roast. John Trumble proved to be the best Cue-Roque player among the Employed Boys. He defeated "Pete" Morrison after a close battle which was nip and tuck until the finish.

In addition to the morning program, the boys have enjoyed a daily swim at 3 P. M., and the Employed Boys on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings at 7:45 P. M.

Plan to Herd Gypsies

Gypsy rromance may become a thing of the past, if efforts at Prague, Czechoslovakia, are successful. An attempt is to be made, in aid of the settled peasants, who are frequently victims of gypsy practices, to force the nomads to remain on reservations. They will be registered and punished if they leave. This is not the first time that the law was proposed to deal with the incorrigible dusky son of the highways. Like previous efforts, it may end in the gypsy continuing on despite many beatings and occasional imprisonment.

One-Way Windows

Windows which permit an unobstructed view one way, but which are as opaque as a brick wall the other, are being installed in the institute of pathological psychology at the University of Bonn, Germany, so that mental patients, and especially children, may be watched without knowing that they are observed. The windows are also sound-proof, and the observation chamber is equipped with a one-way sound apparatus which permits the observer to hear as well as see.

pay because she didn't have a telephone. She used to have one, but she tried to save a little money by taking it out.

What happened was this. Mrs. White planned a dinner. She wanted Mary to help for a couple of days as usual. She tried to telephone, but found the service discontinued. Another "accommodator," with a telephone, got the job.

Mary Smith has her telephone back now. She knows this one job would have paid her telephone bill for a month or so, and she isn't going to miss any more.

"Goodbye, darlings. Swell wedding, but don't try to beat happy couple to ferry unless you Terraplane!"

It isn't the speed... it's the RAPIDITY!

To beat all other cars in an Essex Terraplane, you don't have to exceed the speed-limit.

Terraplaning is fast if you want it to be, even up to eighty-five and more. But conservative drivers are so keen about it because it saves the minutes that other cars waste.

You save minutes in every mile of city-traffic by Terraplaning rapidly into the free lane ahead to command the road. You Terraplane quickly around other traffic by a slight pressure on the accelerator without shifting gears. You Terraplane up the steepest hills in high gear without rushing. You Terraplane around curves in safety without cutting down your normal speed.

And you accomplish all this with a smooth lack of haste that has been the dream of motorists ever since the automobile was invented.

Terraplaning is safer because it is more skillful. It is more thrilling because it is so much easier. Try it, and see.

Black Bear Likes Ants

The black bear, though relishing a great variety of things as food, from centipedes to skunk cabbage roots and from roads and field mice to honey, is especially fond of ants. His method of obtaining these choice morsels is to run his paw down into an anthill and leave it there until the ants swarm up on it where he can lick them up.

Breathes While Drowning Prey

The breathing mechanism of the alligator is located so high on its head that this creature can breathe unstrained while holding an animal under the water in its jaws until it drowns. The same is true of the crocodile. Their eyes being similarly located both the alligator and the crocodile can approach their prey unnoticed by keeping the rest of their bodies submerged.

THE NEW DEAL EXTENDED

The "new deal" is extending into the various states. Under the terms of legislation proposed here the State, cities and towns will be authorized, provided the projects receive Federal approval, to expend a total of $75,000,000 upon public works projects, plus the sums to be granted the State under the terms of the National Industrial Recovery Act. Various changes are being announced almost daily as to just what can be done under the Federal bill and it is, to say the least, indefinite. The proposed State legislation divides the matter into two distinct parts, one dealing with projects to be done by the State and the other by municipal projects. Under the former the State will be allowed to spend $22,000,000 with no more than $17,000,000 to be borrowed from the Federal government and the remainder being received as the grant. A clause in the bill provides that Massachusetts will not be called upon to repay this amount if any other state has a similar debt cancelled or relieved in any way. In order to provide for repayment the measure takes the money from the highway fund with the exception that any loans will be for long term periods of about thirty years. Such long term borrowing is unusual in the financing of the State of Massachusetts and while it has many objections against it there is considerable to the feeling that Massachusetts taxpayers will pay the money to the Federal government in the first instance and if there is a likelihood that it will not have to be repaid they should not be called upon to pay it again to the State in order for the State to pay it to the Government on its loan.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

Employees in the Newton postoffice, in common with other postoffice employees throughout the country who have 30 or more years of service, received official inquiries yesterday as to whether, or not, they desire to be retired on a pension. This proposal on the part of the U. S. Government may seem very generous to persons who do not realize its real meaning. It not only, if made compulsory, will greatly increase the inefficiency of the already shattered postal service, but it would cause a great injustice to many thousands of competent employees who have served the public faithfully for 30 years and more. It would reduce by 50% or more the comparatively small incomes postoffice workers have been receiving. It would deprive the public of the experienced service of men in the prime of life. It would retire on pensions men of 50 years of age, or slightly over; men who entered the service as youths of 18 to 21. And although such comparatively young men would be retired, employees considerably older would be retained on active duty because they did not enter the service until they were in their 30s. If you desire to retain the services of your faithful letter carrier or postoffice clerk, protest to your Congressman against this plan.

We are hearing much these days about the "new deal" for humanity. About codes being formulated to control agriculture, business, industry. About the endeavors of President Roosevelt and his fellow countrymen to end the depression, to get this country out of the rut, to make the world a good place again in which to live. We are watching the efforts being made to reduce working hours so that more persons will have employment; efforts to better working conditions.

Here in Newton (as in other places) the custom for many years to close retail stores and other business places on Wednesday afternoons during July and August in order that the owners and employees may have a few opportunities during the summer months for relaxation and recreation. Such stores and shops are usually business enterprises where those engaged must work Saturday afternoon and evenings, unlike the great majority of workers who enjoy Saturday half holidays. Most of the stores and shops in Newton observed this custom starting last Wednesday. If the people of the Newtons want to assist in procuring for workers in the stores and shops of this city a few opportunities for well deserved relaxation during the two hottest months of the year, they should refrain from doing any shopping in this city on Wednesday afternoons during July and August. They should show their appreciation of the Wednesday afternoon closing movement by planning to shop, or patronize, either on Tuesday shares in the land donated on the allegation that the city had broken its agreement by not building the city hall thereon.

At the meeting last night those who spoke in favor of paying for the land included Aldermen Bowen, Gallagher, Hawkins and Cronin. The latter was not a member of the Board when the discussions regarding the use of the land and the erection of the police building thereon were discussed and action taken and therefore did not have first-hand knowledge of what had transpired.

Alderman Holden, the first speaker on the matter, said: "It might appear to some that I was in the unusual position of knowing that whatever I may say will perhaps not influence the final vote of this Board on this question. However, it has occurred to me that last year about this time, fourteen of us had the courage to change our minds and our votes with regard to the Hammonds Pond Parkway and by that act we have shown to the public our beginning to realize that there is nearly two hundred thousand dollars available for their use that would not be available if we had not reversed our decisions. Therefore, it seems to me that I am talking to a group of men who are open minded and it is up to me to prove my contention."

This Board of Aldermen has had a gentlemen's agreement with the Mayor and with its members that we would appropriate money only for essentials. It is my belief that we have followed this rule religiously, and not without some criticism to ourselves. In other words, there is not one of us who has not been forced to turn down worthy and needed improvements for the citizens of this City because we felt that we must hew to the rigid line of economy during the depression period. I could bring up many examples to prove this point, but I think that we all understand it and I think that the citizens of this City know it. Consequently, I am taking my first point as a fact that we, as a Board of Aldermen, have only appropriated money for essentials during this year. Therefore, if I can prove to you gentlemen that the expenditure of this money is not necessary at this time it seems to me that the appropriation will not be made."

I wonder how many of you have looked up the Deed of Gift. I have here a copy from the records of the City Clerk's office which gives the exact wording of this Deed of Gift as recorded on February 25, 1918 at the District Registry of Deeds of Middlesex County and being Deed Number 23,713 and being transcribed into Registration Book 59, Page 237. I will not bother with the detailed description of the land as given but will only read that part of the deed which refers to the actual condition in which the land was given to the City of Newton. "Said premises are hereby conveyed subject to the condition subsequent that the said City of Newton shall within a period of thirty years from October 1, 1917 erect an adequate City Hall in whole or in part on the premises hereby conveyed, and thereafter during the residue of said period of thirty years, unless before the end of said period of thirty years said city shall be consolidated with or merged in a greater city, occupy the same and the City of Newton shall have until 1947 a clear and unquestioned deed to this land. I have heard the argument raised that because we have erected a new City Hall in Newton Centre, that we will not erect a City Hall in West Newton. That may be true, but under the terms of the Deed as I see it, we still have until 1947 to erect a City Hall on this land in question if we so desire, and because we have erected a City Hall here at this site does not invalidate our Deed to the City of Newton. The City Hall in West Newton during the next fourteen years."

I have heard it argued that because the new Police Station is now occupying a portion of this land that we are trespassers on the land, and that we are breaking the terms of the Deed of Gift. This, to my mind, is not a fact because during the last sixteen years we have used the old church building for a library, to house our Building Department and polling booths, and the American Legion. In other words, we have used it for municipal purposes. We are now using it for municipal purposes, and although it is beyond the wildest imagination that we would ever be forced to abandon this site for a City Hall, or tear down the present Police Station, yet the fact remains that there is a possibility. Consequently, it seems to me without question of doubt that we have a deed to this land for fourteen more years."

I have heard also the argument that this appropriation would be the final windup of our cost on the new City Hall, and that instead of considering it only as a fourteen thousand, four hundred dollar appropriation, we should consider it as a million dollar proposition, because it applies to the erection of the new City Hall. It may be possible in the minds of you gentlemen to consider it in such a way and I, for one, would not question the application in the larger sense if one could get away from the fact that by the appropriation of fourteen thousand, four hundred dollars, we are increasing our tax rate by eight or nine cents. In other words, by failing to appropriate this money and assuming that we have the tax rate of last year, we might this year have a tax rate of twenty-four dollars and ninety-one and a fraction cents."

One good argument is that the purchase of this property at this time would mean that we are buying it at its lowest possible cost due to economic conditions. I might argue that if one talks to the merchants in West Newton, he will discover that because the people on the south side of Washington st. are buying in Boston, and the people on the north side of the street are buying in Waltham, the West Newton merchant is being forced out of business. If this is true, it will mean a depreciation in business property in West Newton, and therefore the price of business-zoned land will decrease in value. However, both of these arguments are based on possibilities and are perhaps not worthy of our consideration. The fact, however, remains and that is that money put out at compound interest doubles itself in twelve years so that we still could afford to pay one hundred per cent more for this property in fourteen years' time and still be the winners from the straight dollars and cents point of view in the transaction."

In the face of the above arguments it seems to me that technically there is no question but that the money should not be appropriated. However, all of us can go into strict legal or technical arguments and win a point. There yet remains the moral point. To me, the generous men and women who got together and gave this money for the purchase of the land so that it might be given to the City of Newton, should have a large factor in determining the final outcome. Also the splendid generosity of Mayor Weeks in sacrificing his father's donation to the city comes to his sister and her heirs of his father's estate, should also have due consideration. Therefore, instead of sticking directly to the legal or technical side of the question, I think that a middle course should be pursued and that these men and women who so generously gave of their goods to the City should not be compelled to wait the full legal time before financial restitution is made. Therefore, I, for one, favor the City spending this money and the purchase of this land just as soon as the City begins to spend money for non-essentials. It may be in a year's time, it may be in two years time, it may be in five years time. Who knows?

But until such time is reached I cannot conscientiously vote for spending of money for non-essentials to one group of citizens and turn down another group, no matter how public-spirited the first group may be.

Following Alderman Holden's remarks, Alderman Bowen spoke in favor of the appropriation. He said that the donors were public spirited citizens whose terms of gift had not been respected and that as a matter of justice they are entitled to the return of their donations. He commented that they are not impoverished, and that it is probable that the money which will be returned to them, will be donated to philanthropic causes.

Alderman Pratt said that when he voted for the erection of the police building on the site it occupied, he understood that the site occupied by the old city hall was to be sold by the city and the proceeds to be used in no time for the taxpayers to be further burdened by the purchase of more land for park purposes, and he asserted that the appropriation for the land in question should be made only after the old city hall site will have been sold, and then only that part of the land actually occupied by the police building should be purchased.

Alderman Gallagher asserted that some of the donors of the land are now "broke", are badly in need of money, and argued that the contributions returned. Alderman Pratt, in reply, commented that many of the taxpayers are also "broke" and are entitled to consideration. Alderman Hawkins, favoring the payment, said a mistake had been made and should be corrected. Alderman Sprout agreed with Alderman Holden. He said that at the present time the city needs all the money available for the relief of the needy and for other public demands which are pressing.

Alderman Temperley reviewed the history of the donation of the land, the conferences between the Mayor and the Aldermen and the understanding on the part of the latter, when they voted for the erection of the police station that it was to be erected on the site of the old police building; land owned by the city for some years. Instead, when the old police building was moved at an expense of $900 on a part of the land, other than what was originally planned, the county court house was built on the city land and the police station on the donated land. He referred to the fact that the aldermen had voted to build the police station at West Newton in deference to the residents of that village because of the removal of the old city hall. He told of the purchase of the land on Cherry st. by the county officials for the site of the court house; how the city had taken over this land in exchange of the much more valuable site on Washington st., at a cost to the citizens of Newton of about $40,000 without a scrap of paper being shown to the aldermen to assure them that the city's interests were being safeguarded. He told of the covering of Cheese Cake Brook and the construction of a large drain in connection with the project, and he agreed with Alderman Holden that there is no reason why the money should be appropriated now, when the deed gives the city until 1947.

Mayor Weeks and his sister, Mrs. John Davidge of Washington, entitled to $1600 as their shares of the donated land, waived their rights and will not accept any money.

Burglars Caught
At Newton Centre

Two With Jail Records Are Caught In Drug Store

Two burglars were caught in the drug store of Giles Mosher, 638 Commonwealth ave., corner of Centre st., Newton Centre, by a squad of the Newton police shortly after 1 o'clock on Monday morning. The two were identified as Raymond Bertram, 18, of 55 Gardner st., Newton, and Martin
Farrell, 20, formerly of Nonantum, and who had recently been enlisted at the U. S. Reformatory Camp, Bellows Falls, Vermont. Bertram is on parole from the Shirley Reform School and Farrell from the Concord Reformatory.

About 1 o'clock, Alma George, who resides above the drug store, observed the men entering Mosher's premises and telephoned police headquarters. A police car with Patrolmen Murphy and Stevens hastened to the scene and two cruising cars, which had observed the warning signals on patrol boxes also brought Patrolmen Chadwick, Howley, O'Connor and Keating to the spot. Patrolmen Gegan and Lyons, who were passing by, also joined the squad which surrounded the store. The police found the windows and doors to the store all locked, including the window through which the burglars had gained entrance. Patrolman Chadwick went to the home of an employee at the store, George Ger-rie, 355 Commonwealth ave., and the latter came and unlocked the door.
Entering, the police found the two burglars behind a counter. Bertram had $20 secreted on his person and Farrell $10. Merchandise had been gathered to be stolen from the place.
The two were arraigned in the Newton court on Monday and held in $2000 bail each for trial on July 17.

Four New Beer
Licenses Granted

The Newton License Commission has granted four new licenses for the sale of beer to the following stores:
Tito Passarini, 205 Eliot st., Upper Falls; Antonio Mandile, 575 Boylston st., Newton Centre; S. Nicola, 9 Lincoln st., Newton Highlands; Silver Lake Market, 380 Watertown st., Nonantum. The license formerly issued to Gertrude Cohen, 882 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, which was revoked, will be re-issued if the common victualer license at this address is transferred to Mrs. Gertrude Cohen, mother of the former holder of the beer license, and wife of Bernard Cohen who holds the common victualler license.

TIDE WATER PIPE LINE
UP TO 72% OF CAPACITY

World's leading refiners of Pennsylvania oil reports a continuous increase in the movement of crude oil from the Pennsylvania fields to the board in the Tide Water double trunk pipe line.
The output of Tide Water's own line, which extends 288 miles from Bradford, Pa., to Bayonne, N. J., is now running 72% of the system's 16,000 barrel daily capacity. This new high compares with a low of 52% reached during September 1932.

The Tide Water pipe line was built in 1878 and during its 55 years of service has been an accurate barometer of every major up and down swing in business conditions. Tide Water also owns jointly and operates a 50% interest extensive gathering pipe line in the Pennsylvania fields.
Tide Water Oil Company markets its principal products under the trade names of Vedol Motor Oil and Tydol gasoline.

STUDEBAKER SALES
BEST IN YEARS

Studebaker, world's oldest vehicle manufacturer, wound up the first six months of 1933 with the highest volume of business since 1930, according to an announcement made here today by Paul G. Hoffman, President of the Studebaker Sales Corporation of America.
"Sales of Studebaker and Rockne passenger and commercial cars during June of this year reached a total of 5,050 units," Mr. Hoffman said.
"This was 8.5 per cent ahead of June, 1931, when 4,656 cars were sold and 5.9 per cent over June, 1932, when 4,770 sales were made."

"Despite these increases in sales, the factory's June production schedule was unable to meet the demands of the dealers for cars. A total of 7,548 orders for Studebaker and Rockne cars were recorded for June, the largest number for any June since booming 1929," Mr. Hoffman stated.
It is also heartening to Studebaker, with its 81 year background and its $70,000,000 of net assets to realize that since last March more than 200 new dealers have taken on the Studebaker and Rockne franchise. Many of these are located in strong automobile markets and their total investments run into many thousands of dollars.
"Ordinarily, total sales are down in June but the above facts and figures go contrary to the usual seasonal trend—which goes to show a widespread faith in Studebaker and business conditions generally. Our dealers' stocks are low. We are going into July with 2,800 unfilled orders.
We are confident in what lies ahead for the entire industry and for Stude-

No Mail Delivery Tues. Afternoons

The delivery of mail was further reduced this week. In addition to no delivery on Wednesday afternoon, there was no delivery on Tuesday afternoon. As there has been no delivery on Saturday afternoons for some time, this makes three days in each week when there will be no afternoon delivery of mail. This additional curtailment of the mail service is not confined to the Boston Post Office District. It is country wide. The cause of the suspension of the free delivery service on these afternoons; a service which residents and business people of this city had enjoyed for about 40 years, is the 9 days' furlough which was ordered for postal employees by the Postmaster General recently. This furlough is in addition to a 30 days furlough previously ordered. Both furloughs were—and are, without pay, and the object is to reduce the expenditures of the Post Office Department and help balance the national budget. The postal employees get a substantial reduction in wages; the public is deprived of service which has been given for more than a generation. The Tuesday afternoon deliveries will be suspended during the months of July and August; the Wednesday afternoon deliveries during the months of August and September. The Post Office Department promises that following these months the deliveries on these days will be resumed.

City Buys Coal At Lower Prices

It was announced from the Mayor's office this week that contracts have been awarded for the city's coal supply for the coming year. The contract for supplying 7000 tons of bituminous coal was awarded to the Massachusetts Wharf Coal Company at $4.68 per ton; a decrease of 48c per ton from last year's price. The Burton, Furber Coal Company of Boston was given the contract to supply 2000 tons of nut and slack coal at $4.18 the ton. The Commonwealth Fuel Company of Somerville, which supplied most of the city's coal last year, received contracts for smaller lots—including 23 tons of blacksmith coal at $5.75 per ton; 200 tons of egg coal at $10.15 the ton; 200 tons of nut coal at $10.15; Adams Coal Co., 145 tons of pea coal at $8.25. Last year's prices were $11.40 and $9.50, respectively.

Catching Autoists Who Fail To "Stop and Enter"

Officer Munroe Waging Campaign to Prevent Accidents

Patrolman Frank Munroe has been doing excellent work in apprehending autoists who ignore the "STOP" sign at the Washington st. end of Beacon st., Newton Lower Falls. Many accidents have occurred at this place, largely because of the failure of autoists to obey the law and stop before entering Washington st. Recently two young women were badly injured in an accident there. As a result of accidents and complaints, Patrolman Munroe has been devoting attention to the infractions of the law there. Undetected by the action of a judge in the Newton court a few weeks ago, when a number of cases of offenders he was the complainant on, were placed on file, Munroe has persisted in his good work and has secured many convictions the past two weeks.

In court last Friday a number of autoists were fined $5 each for not stopping before entering Washington st. Included in the number were: Agnes McCarthy, Dorchester; Cornelia Bemis, Cambridge; Helen Barber, Wellesley; Margaret Pratt, Lancaster; Nick Lambros, Brighton; Richard Howard, Waltham; Joseph Lass, Boston; Paul Hessler, 246 Lake ave., Newton Highlands; Maynard Swift, Brookline; Raymond Person, Worcester.

In court the same day Vincent Loughlin of Washington rd., Newtonville, was fined $5 for parking his car on a prohibited area at Middlesex rd., Chestnut Hill. He appealed.

Newton Lodge Of Elks Wins Championship

The ritual team of the Newton Lodge of Elks won the Championship of the United States at the National Convention of Supreme Lodge at Milwaukee on Wednesday. With it is awarded a $1000 cup for one year and other special prizes. This was the first time in the history of Elksdom that a team from the East has been the victor.

The team was composed of Exalted Ruler, Wm. F. Parker; Past Exalted Ruler, D. Walter Kern; Esteemed Leading Knight, Hugh Boyd; Esteemed Leading Knight, Thos. F. Ryan; Esteemed Leading Knight, David Greer; Esquire, Robert P. Driscoll; Organist, George King; Inner Guard, Horace Bellis; Tiler, Matthew Hurley; and Secretary, Thomas F. Coplinger. The team was headed by Past Exalted Ruler D. Walter Kern. The official candidate of the ritual team was Eddie Wright of the Newton Lodge who accompanied the team to Milwaukee.

It is planned to give the team a reception on its return.

More Burglaries In This City

That the home of Alfred Black at 5 Whittier rd., Newtonville, was broken into and burglarized was discovered on this week by Frank Jerald of Armory st., West Newton, a caretaker employed by Black. Mr. Black and his family are at the winter resort in Mississippi and how much was stolen, or what, will not be known until the family returns. Entrance was effected by forcing a bulkhead.

That the home of J. Joseph Mahoney at 49 Jackson rd., Newton, was broken into, was discovered when a neighbor observed a cellar window opened. Entrance was effected by cutting a small piece of a screen door and apparently forcing a lock. Mr. Mahoney and his family are at their summer home in Swampscott. The house did not have the appearance of having been ransacked.

Trucks Collide; Drivers Fight

A truck driven by Amos Samuda, of 75 Rutland square, Boston, collided with a truck driven by Thomas O'Rourke as the latter vehicle was parked near Newton Centre square on Tuesday. According to testimony, when O'Rourke asked Samuda for his license, the latter attacked the Celt and a lively scrap ensued. Samuda then alleged to have threatened to hit O'Rourke with a hammer. A warrant was issued for his arrest and he was taken into custody in Boston by Inspector Feeley. In the Newton court yesterday Samuda's case was continued.

Newton Woman Hurt In Bus Crash

Two Providence women riding in the small car were killed. Mrs. Thompson received slight injuries.

Addresses Rotary On Esperanto As Ideal Language

Ernest Dow Prominent Student of the Universal Tongue

"Go to, let us go down and there confound their language that they may not understand one another's speech." Using this verse from Genesis as his text, Mr. Ernest F. Dow of West Newton, gave a very interesting talk on Esperanto, the universal language, at the weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at Brae Burn on Monday. "All other attempts at a universal language have failed," said the speaker, "for they were too ambitious. Volapuk, in favor when Esperanto appeared thirty-seven years ago, failed mainly because it was too arbitrary. A universal language must be neutral. It supplements the other languages and does not displace them."

A young Russian Jew in Warsaw, L. L. Zamenhof, after much experimentation and work during a number of years hit upon the simpler and more logical Esperanto. Publishing first under the pseudonym, Dr. Esperanto (Hopeful), this name was adopted for the new system. He took the root words from the principal Romance languages and supplemented these when inadequate with German and occasionally with Slavic words. The great simplicity of the grammar and accent, the phonetic spelling, accuracy of expression, and ease with which the language may be learned were made very clear by Mr. Dow. Long a student of Esperanto, he is prominent in the movement. In Boston he has taught classes, one of which has been in the University Extension series. He told interesting anecdotes of experiences at the International Esperanto meeting in Washington and at a Boston meeting. In conclusion he spoke of the great growth of Esperanto over the world. The state of Maryland is the first in this country to allow the teaching of it in the schools and the London Chamber of Commerce offers examinations in it for those applying for positions.

A little pamphlet, "The Key to Esperanto," was distributed to all present. With this key practically every thing written in non-technical Esperanto can be translated at once without previous study. Rotary being an international organization is much interested in Esperanto.

Many Autoists Are Fined in Newton Court

Most of the time of the Newton court on Monday was occupied in trying cases of persons who had violated automobile laws. For endangering traffic by driving to the left of the center of a street, fines of $5 were imposed on Lawrence Tocci, 89 Jewett st., Newton; Paul Kearns of Charlestown and George Fisher of West Roxbury. For speeding, Ernest Sadler of Charlestown and Daniel DeGeorge of 23 High st., Newton Upper Falls, were fined $10 each; John Killam of Brookline, Bruno Gentile of Framingham, William Shea of Charlestown, $5 each. For not stopping before entering a through way—Paul Pettitmermet of 300 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, and John Anastas of Cambridge were fined $5 each.

The fact that Brookline st., Oak Hill, is prohibited to heavy trucks didn't stop heavy trucks owned by Robert Cuniff, an excavating contractor, from being operated over that road. Residents of the street complained, so Patrolman Hammill summoned three of Cuniff's drivers into court on Monday. Each was fined $10 and appealed.

Francis S. Tirrell Addresses Newton Democrats

The Democratic Ward and City Committee held a meeting on Friday night, July 14, at the Newton Public Library. About 50 men and women were present. The meeting was in charge of Alderman William Sproat, chairman of the City Committee. The speaker of the evening was Francis S. Tirrell of Boston, the first chairman of the former Commission of Economy and Efficiency of the Commonwealth. His subject was the reconstruction program of President Roosevelt. Arrangements were made for a series of entertainments to be held in the various Wards of the city to help Democratic activities in Newton.

Obliged To Use Dynamite On Old City Hall Vault

The large reinforced concrete vault at the site of the old city hall in West Newton was blown apart on Tuesday after several charges of dynamite had been used on that and the preceding day. The vault was strongly constructed to hold valuable city records. A steam shovel was brought to the site on Tuesday to remove the fragments of the destroyed vault.

Why The Survey Of Water Mains Will Be Made

Water Commissioner Says It Will Save City Money

The action of the Newton Board of Aldermen in making an appropriation of $14,000 at the special meeting held on July 13 for a survey of the water mains in this city has, naturally, caused many inquiries. Particularly when it was stated that the ultimate cost of this survey is not known, and that the $14,000 may be only part of the cost. It was also explained that a device known as a pitometer will be used in the process of this survey.

Water Commissioner Ellis explains that a pitometer is a device quite frequently used in taking surveys of hydraulic conditions and the purpose of this survey in Newton is principally to ascertain the conditions existing in the trunk water mains of this city to better design adequate future extensions. The Water Department of Newton has been engaged in the work of extending and improving the water system of the city. This program, starting about two years ago, calls for an estimated expenditure of $400,000; of which amount about $150,000 has already been spent. Among the objects of the project are—increasing the water supply, the reconstruction and modernizing of the pumping station, extension of water mains to eliminate dead ends and small size pipes, and to provide proper fire protection. By eliminating dead ends it is believed that Newton residents will have less trouble in the future with rusty colored water.

In the survey to be made, a number of excavations will be made to enable the engineers engaged to test parts of the city. One goes to the covered reservoir at Waban Hill, another extends along Chestnut st. towards Waban and West Newton; a third goes towards Newton Centre. From the reservoir, mains travel westerly along Ward st. and north-easterly along Waverley ave. There is a large main under Commonwealth ave.; another has just been laid under Boylston st. (the new Worcester turnpike). There are cross-overs between these various mains at their intersections at certain points in the city. It is not known in what direction the water flows through many of the big mains, or what the pressures are at various points. The survey will determine these questions. The work of making the survey, gauging stations will be established. These stations can be used from time to time in the future by the Water Department to make other tests.

During the discussion of the $14,000 appropriation at the special meeting of the Aldermen, one member of the Board stated that the present Commissioner found a maze of pipes when he assumed his duties. This remark caused some to suppose that a rather chaotic condition existed as regarded Newton's water mains. As a matter of fact, the Engineering Department of Newton has a complete map of the city of the system of water mains in this city. The survey is not necessary to learn where the water pipes are located, it is for the purpose of obtaining hydraulic data. It will be made by hydraulic engineers. As yet these engineers have not been selected.

Starting July 10 the Department discontinued making cash relief payments. The new plan adopted provides for the payment of food, gas, electric light and rent bills. During the year the children's clothing problem has been handled through the schools, the adults in need of clothing are provided through the Clothing Chest at City Hall. Old age and mother's relief are provided on a sliding scale which ranges from five to twenty dollars a week according to individual needs.

The Welfare Department is also paying an average of $1500 a week for hospital care for indigent families. Most of these patients are treated at the Newton Hospital. The rate paid by the city is five dollars a day for ward care.

Approximately one fourth of the money expended by the city for public welfare goes for the benefit of non-residents. The amounts thus expended are in turn collected from the cities and towns where these people have legal residence, or in case no legal residence is found, from the state. The amount of these refunds for the year just about balances the payments which the city pays for the support of its indigents who are living in other communities.

Miss Fitzgerald still retains her faith in human nature and in the desire of most people to be independent and respectable. She believes that fully eighty per cent of those cared for by the Department desire to secure work and to become completely self supporting again.

Families Receiving Aid Decreasing Since July 1st

Department of Public Welfare Discontinues Cash Payments

There has been a noticeable drop in the number of families on the relief list of the Department of Public Welfare since the first of the month. At that time there were 448 families receiving aid. On July 8 the number had dropped to 322, or an apparent decrease of over twenty-five percent. Since that date, however, several former recipients have drifted back for grocery cards and other assistance so that the exact situation will not be exactly known before the end of the month. Nevertheless, an improvement is undoubtedly taking place which may become permanent, if business continues to improve.

Miss Florence Fitzgerald, the Director of the Newton Department of Public Welfare, says that this decrease is due in the main to two causes, temporary employment and the exodus of those formerly employed in the Saco-Lowell shops in Upper Falls to Maine where they hope to find employment in the Saco-Lowell shops there. There are others who have gone to summer resorts in the hope of securing employment for the season.

The problem on the hands of the Welfare Department is still a serious one. Since the first of the year the relief burden carried by the Department has steadily mounted until recently. In January of this year the Department paid out $9,028.10 for the assistance of 374 families. In March these figures jumped to $19,660.16 for 633 families. This increase during the months of February and March was in large measure due to the Department being obliged to take over about three hundred families which had been under the care of the Mayor's Relief Committee, which it was unable to carry beyond that time because of lack of funds. During the month of June 614 families were assisted by the Department and received $22,007.43. On Tuesday morning of this week 75 applicants for relief were interviewed at the office of the Department.

Old age assistance and mother's relief also increased since the first of the year. During the month of January there were 105 cases of old age assistance which received $2,875. In June the number had increased to 126 and the amount expended to $4,349.40. Those receiving mother's aid increased during these months from 32 to 35 and the amount expended for their benefit from $1,968.22 to $2,349.50.

All cases applying for city relief are well studied. The Mayor's Relief Committee acts as a clearing house for all applications for aid, and refers the cases to the proper agencies. Those referred to the Welfare Department are interviewed at city hall and are then investigated by the case workers of the Department. It's a good thing that something happens during these harrowing times to make folks smile; the diminutive pieces the females of the species are wearing on their heads, for instance. No wonder the milliners are not doing much business when the girls are wearing dollies for hats.

Thomas W. White's entrance into the Mayoralty fight should assure a lively campaign during the coming months if Mr. White will battle seriously and with the same vigor and skill he displayed in former political fights. Few men in Massachusetts have had more experience in politics than Mr. White. He broke into political life in this city as a young man over the opposition of the Republican political machine then in power in Newton and he rapidly became an important factor in the Board of Aldermen. In 1910, when he entered the State Legislature, he soon became prominent in that body. Calvin Coolidge was a fellow member of the Legislature and soon he and Mr. White became close personal and political friends as was evidenced by appointments to important public positions of Mr. White by Mr. Coolidge when the latter became Governor and later President.

Childs Believes White Will Be Next Mayor

Thinks Weeks Will Retire From Contest

AD EDWIN O. CHILDS Comments
The announcement of Thomas W. White that he will be a candidate for the office of Mayor of Newton at the election next December will cause many citizens of Newton to inquire as to the attitude of Hon. Edwin O. Childs, who was also expected to be a candidate. Following the radio broadcast last evening of Mr. White's candidacy, Mr. Childs was interviewed and he made the following comment on the latest development in Newton politics:

"Tom White has certainly fathomed the Mayor's curves. If all who have, will only unite, the Mayor will be 'knocked out of the box' at the next city election. However, I look to see him exercise rare judgment and gracefully retire 'for business reasons' before the knockout, now that he can be reasonably sure that Ned Childs will not be his immediate successor."

Girl Rescued From Drowning in Charles River

Betty Goldberg, 13, of Charles st., Auburndale, was rescued from drowning in the swimming pool at the Riverside Recreation Grounds last Friday afternoon. Her rescuer was Angelo Perma of Waltham, life-guard at the place. The Goldberg girl was walking along the edge of the pool when she fell in at its deepest point. Unable to swim, she sank a couple of times before she was rescued by Perma. He applied artificial respiration treatment and she quickly recovered.

About Town

By Edw. H. Powers

If you have any money to donate for charitable purposes there are plenty of men, women and children here in Newton who are in need of the necessities of life. Don't give nickels, dimes or quarters to individuals who accost persons in the business section of this city wearing caps bearing the inscription "Disabled veteran." These men are not residents of this city. They do not belong to the veteran organizations of this city and are against the wishes of these organizations. These men who peddle poppies or carnations (real or artificial) do not represent the Legion or the V. F. W. They operate on a State peddler's license. A law recently passed at this session of the Legislature forbids them from using uniforms or parts of uniforms representing those of the two organizations mentioned. Don't encourage outsiders to come into Newton and collect money for themselves when there are plenty of veterans and others in this city to whom you can give any small donations you may have to assist those in need.

When elected I promise to be the Mayor—there will not be a Deputy Mayor, nor will my authority be delegated to a selected few.

Contracts and agreements between the employees and the City are lawful and will be treated in that manner. Contracts running to the City will be enforced and open competition will be invited.

Tax rates will be established on actual facts and not by methods of bookkeeping.

Sound financing of City affairs will again prevail.

During the "period of reconstruction" it will be my duty to bring the City back to the high standard set by former Mayors and not to "carry on" in its present detour.

It is my intention to be a Mayor who will be at City Hall at convenient hours in order that the Mayor may personally meet and care for the welfare and needs of the people of Newton.

White Announces That He Will Run For Mayor

Issues Statement Criticising Present Administration

Thomas W. White of 1173 Boylston st., Newton Upper Falls, has announced that he will be a candidate for Mayor at the city election in Newton next December. In a statement released yesterday he indicates that he will conduct a vigorous campaign. Mr. White has been for years seriously regarded as a probable candidate for the office he now seeks. For nearly 30 years he has been prominent in local, State and national politics.

THOMAS W. WHITE

He started his political career as a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen in 1904 and served until 1909, inclusive. In 1910 he entered the Massachusetts Legislature as a Representative from Newton, and served in that body for five years. He became Chairman of the important Ways and Means Committee and ranking member of the Rules Committee. In 1915 he was appointed by Governor Walsh as the Republican member on the Efficiency and Economy Commission. In 1917 he was appointed by Governor McCall to the position of Deputy Supervisor of Administration. In 1918 Governor Coolidge appointed him Supervisor of Administration. In 1922 Governor Cox appointed Mr. White a member of the newly created Administration Commission, and the following year made him chairman of this commission. In 1925 President Coolidge appointed Mr. White Collector of Internal Revenue at Boston. He assumed this office on December 1st of that year and he still holds it. The statement issued by Mr. White in announcing his candidacy follows:

Following the precedent set by the present Executive, I have also changed my mind and will be a candidate for Mayor of Newton in December.

The voters are entitled to a choice. I shall not resort to the practice of obtaining written pledges, with or without coercion, therefore, it will not be necessary for me to keep a card index of the people of Newton to whom large and small favors have been granted.

The intelligent electorate of Newton are fully competent to make their own decision after the issues have been presented and debated during the campaign.

When elected I promise to be the Mayor—there will not be a Deputy Mayor, nor will my authority be delegated to a selected few.

Contracts and agreements between the employees and the City are lawful and will be treated in that manner. Contracts running to the City will be enforced and open competition will be invited.

Tax rates will be established on actual facts and not by methods of bookkeeping.

Cocos, or Queen Palm, Is Graceful and Pleasing
One of the most graceful and pleasing types of the feather palms for street parkway use, says the Los Angeles Times, is the Cocos or Queen palm (Cocos plumosa). There are several different varieties of this type such as the flexuosa and Roman offiana species. They are all similar in appearance. However, the flexuosa type seems to be harder and has a more generous bunching of fronds. The Royal palm (Oreodoxia regia), which grows in Florida, is not hardly enough for southern California.

The ornamental Cocos palm used in southern California is a native of Brazil. It usually attains a height of twenty-five to thirty feet with occasional specimens forty to fifty feet in height. It sheds its fronds naturally in time and therefore has a smooth trunk. However, it is usually necessary to pull the old leaves off. The trunk diameter rarely exceeds eight inches. For this reason it is particularly valuable for narrow street parkways. While they will grow in a three-foot parkway or in a three-foot opening in a solid sidewalk, it is better to grow them in a wider parkway. From twenty-five to thirty feet is usually the most satisfactory spacing for parkways.

The Cocos palm does not thrive in very cold weather and young palms are often checked in growth when in cold exposed locations. They also require good soil with adequate drainage.

Redbud or Judas Tree Is Known to Old Fishermen

The redbud is known as the Judas tree, and there is a tradition that this was the variety on which Judas hanged himself. Most observers know the trees as redbuds, and about the only tradition associated with the redbud or the dogwood has to do with fish. Some of the larger fish are said to spawn when the redbud blossoms, and there is a belief that the fisherman will have luck if he casts his line when the dogwood is in flower. The affinity between blossoms and fish originated, however, before legislation established a closed season for certain species.

The redbud is found in Canada along the shores of Lake Erie and Lake Ontario. It runs through New York to Michigan and south to the Gulf states. In Indiana is recorded a redbud having a circumference of two feet nine inches, a clear bole of twenty-three feet and a total height of fifty-four feet. Many of them are considerably smaller.

The Atmosphere
It seems that not all atmosphere is life-giving substance which man has believed it is. The atmosphere of cities frequently may be dangerous if not absolutely deadly. Poisons are in the air as though sprayed there from enemy airplanes. But instead of airplanes it is the smokestacks and chimneys, vents from drains and sewers, exhausts from myriads of automobiles and the canyon-like streets. Health authorities have long warned against the increasing saturation of the atmosphere with these poisonous acids.

Bee-Shipping Center
Cottonwood, Calif., situated in Shasta county and one of California's smallest towns, holds the distinction of being the largest live bee-shipping center in the world. State department of agriculture officials said virtually all of the 50,000 tons of live bees shipped from California last year were sent from Cottonwood.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NO UPSETS IN FIRST ROUND OF TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Six seeded players came through their first round matches easily in the local public courts tennis championship which began this week with the remaining two seeded players having been forced to postpone their initial matches until today. Don Martin, top seeded player, and Henry Jones, seeded fifth, won their respective matches against William Hudson and Percy Lewis in love sets while Harry Sylvester, second seeded in the tournament, won from Willard Babcock after Babcock had taken a 4-2 lead in the first set, by scores of 6-4, 6-2. Babcock, one of the smallest players in the tourney, is a member of the Browne & Nichols School team and his game at the start of the match was surprising.

In the other matches in which the seeded players advanced to the second round, Roland Coombs eliminated Joseph Coffey, 6-2, 6-3; Malcolm Clark disposed of Manning, 6-1, 6-2, and Gordon Kitchin turned back Gilbert Adams, 6-1, 6-1. The results of other first round matches were: Leo Geary d. Jack Morris, 6-0, 6-0; Charles Hall d. Walter Cavanaugh, 6-1, 6-2; E. A. Fletcher d. Frank Spain by default; Charles Jack d. Carter, 6-0, 6-1; Gordon Naylor d. A. O'Neill, 6-1, 6-2; Jackson Skillings d. Wilson Walker, 6-2, 10-8; Robert Ashley d. Louis Volpe by default; Edward Strun d. T. O. Sylvester, 6-2, 3-6, 6-0; Frank Wetherbee d. J. Mitchell by default; Joe Murphy d. Ralph Bishchoff by default; Tom Slattery d. Julius Ober, 6-3, 6-1; Daniel Goodridge d. Gilbert Adams, 6-1, 6-1; Richard Fraser d. Donovan by default; Richard Brennan d. P. Jarrell, 6-4, 8-6.

Cockroach Race Included in List of Freak Sports

Wagers have been made on the most unlikely things. Railway passengers have been known to bet on the raindrops falling on the window—as to which of two selected ones would reach the bottom first—and Mark Twain's immortal story, "The Jumping Frog," is the classic instance of the lengths to which man will go in this direction. French sportsmen at Cannes are exhilarated over the sport of racing thoroughbred cockroaches! It is said that bookmakers cover bets of thousands of francs on each race. The method is simple but effective. How would you make two cockroaches run for their lives? The answer is: Show a light! Narrow tracks covered with glass are provided. Each competitor is numbered with white ink. At the starting line the cockroaches are restrained by transparent covers. At the finishing line is a large black box, invitingly open. At the starting signal a strong light is switched on behind the roaches and their cover instantly removed. Hating bright lights, and loving darkness, the black competitors run for the darkness for all they are worth. The first into the dark box is the winner.—Montreal Herald.

First Actual Work Done on Panama Canal in 1882

The first actual work done on the Panama canal was undertaken by a company chartered in France, headed by Ferdinand de Lesseps, a French engineer and diplomat. This was on January 20, 1882, when the excavation of the Culebra cut was begun. But the enterprise got into financial difficulties and work was stopped in 1889. A reorganized company resumed operations in October, 1894, and continued work of varying extent until its rights and property were purchased by the United States under authority of the act of congress of June 28, 1902.

The building of the canal was taken up by this country in May, 1904, with Gen. George W. Goethals as chief engineer, and finished ten years later. The first ocean steamer passed through on August 3, 1914, and on August 15 the canal was opened to commerce.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

What Is Rayon?

Rayon is artificial silk, and is made of cellulose, in imitation of the way the silkworms make real silk from the cellulose of the mulberry tree. Only two raw materials are being successfully used in making rayon—cotton linters and bisulphate wood pulp. In manufacturing the short cotton staples not suitable for spinning, or spruce, are treated chemically to get rid of everything except the pure cellulose pulp. The pulp is made into a solution thin enough to press through a very fine orifice and form artificial fibers, which are immediately hardened in a liquid bath.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Hawk Moth Unique

The hawk moth is one insect nature was at pains to provide with an adequate means of feeding itself. These moths, which feed on flowers, have a long tube for extracting the honey which often attains a length twice that of the long, spindle-shaped body of the moth itself. This tube, during flight, is curled up spring fashion and tucked away under the head of the moth, where it does not interfere with the flight. In its feeding habit, the hawk moth, or sphinx, hovers over plants much after the fashion of the hummingbird. The tomato worm and the tobacco worm are both larvae of the hawk moth.

THREE WEEKS OF TWI LEAGUE RACE REMAIN—Y UNBEATEN

With only three weeks left of the regular season in the Newton Twilight League all but one of the teams continue in the running for the play-off positions.

Y. M. C. A. continues undefeated having won 13 straight games. Highlands by winning twice has taken possession of second place and the Cubs lead Auburndale by a few points for third place. The rest of the teams are bunched with Newton A. C. in ninth place only three games behind the second place Highlands.

The feature game of the week was between Nonantum Boys Club and Newton A. C. These two teams are composed of young players from the same district and are natural rivals. The game went the full nine innings and going into the 9th, Lombard pitching for the Newton A. C. led 1 to 0. In the last of the ninth the Boys Club, on hits by Shorton, Champagne and Custard scored two runs winning 2 to 1. Choquette pitched for Nonantum and had 10 strike outs.

The first game of the Benefit Series between the All-Star Team of the Newton Twilight League and the West Newton Team of the Boston Twilight League will be played at Claffin Field, Monday evening at 6:30, weather permitting. This year "Buck" Donahue, who led the All-Star Team to victory over the Waltham and Watertown All-Star Teams, will be at the helm for West Newton against his old champions. "Charlie" Bidey will have charge of the Newton Twilight All-Stars this year.

A practice game between two All-Star teams of the Newton Twilight League will be played at Cabot Park on Sunday afternoon at 2:30. From these two teams will be selected the players to represent the League against West Newton.

London's Famous Museum Holds Great Collection

The British museum is a famous institution in London, founded in 1753, when the government, by act of parliament, purchased for 20,000 pounds (two-fifths of the original cost) Sir Hans Sloane's extensive collection of curiosities of natural history, works of art, books and manuscripts. This collection, together with the Harleian manuscripts and the Cottonian library, was deposited in Montague House, which was bought for the purpose and opened as the British museum in 1759.

The present buildings were erected chiefly during the years 1823 to 1857. The museum was originally divided into three departments—printed books, manuscripts and natural history. Now there are seven classifications—printed books, manuscripts, prints and drawings, Oriental antiquities, British and Medieval antiquities, and ethnography, Greek and Roman antiquities, and coins and medals.

Additional sections in zoology, botany, mineralogy and geology are now at the South Kensington museum. The library consists of some 3,000,000 volumes, and receives a copy of every book published in the United Kingdom. It increases at the rate of 50,000 volumes a year.

The Elgin marbles and the Egyptian and Assyrian antiquities are among the most famous items in the museum's collections.

California Likes Peppers

Peppers have been a favored vegetable in California since the founding of the missions. They had a place and first place, too, in the mission gardens. Later, during the "splendid idle '40s," peppers were highly prized in the gardens of the ranches and few dishes came out of the kitchen without some use of the pungent chili. Long strings of red pods were much in evidence about the old ranch homes and, to this day, those who wish to create atmosphere around their modern "early California" style homes, secure strings of chili as one of the decorative features.—Los Angeles Times.

Y. M. C. A.

The Y. M. C. A. Tennis Team continued to go undefeated this season by bettering the Cabot Tennis Club group in a match at the "Y" courts Saturday afternoon. Three matches to two. Track Meet

In the first outdoor track meet held at the Newton Y. M. C. A. for several years, Newton was defeated by the "Y" State Champs 66 to 13. Art Linthwaite, crack half-mile runner for the local club, was unable to run. Fast times were turned in for every event, the results either equalling or coming close to the records of the state meet held in June at the Dickinson Stadium. Henry C. Pierce, coach of the Newton team is developing a fast aggregation of runners. Results of the events:

Boy's Department

The members of the Boy's Division are showing more and more interest in the morning program. On Monday morning the group gathered on the hill in back of the "Y" for a game of "Relievo." Tuesday, the Midget Baseball Team met and defeated the Watertown West Ends by a score of 4-2. The batteries were D'Angelo and Martin for the Midgets and MacLeod and Newell for the West Ends.

On Wednesday morning groups of boys from the Highland Church in Roxbury, the Central Church in Dorchester, and the Boylston Church in Jamaica Plain were guests of the "Y" for a program of games, swims, lunch, song period, and movies. The movies were supplied through the courtesy of Mr. Robert Friend of Friend Bros. Inc. Bakery.

Thursday found another group of boys under the leadership of Mr. Arthur H. Clarke on their way to visit a candy factory and to see for themselves just how some of the popular brands of candy are made. Again on Friday, the Midget Baseball Team is scheduled to meet the Watertown West Ends for a return game.

Of course this program is in addition to the daily swim which is held every afternoon with the exception of Saturday, when it is at 10 A. M.

During the coming week plans are underway for a visit to the East Boston Airport, where the boys expect to examine the planes and hangars. Plans are also underway for a trip either to Provincetown or Benson's Wild Animal Farm in Hudson, New Hampshire in the near future.

WINS AT GOLF WITH BROKEN RIB

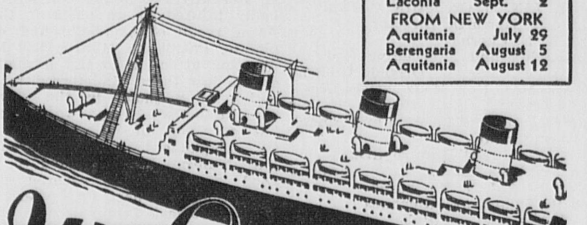

Dorothy Hunter, 19-year-old Albe-marle girl golfer, played through the five-day Tedesco women's invitation tournament last week with a broken rib. It was revealed yesterday. What is more, she won it, paired with Margaret Curtis of Essex County.

Miss Hunter complained of a pain in her side during the play, but did not consult a doctor until the tournament ended. Examination revealed the fracture, which Miss Hunter now believes she suffered when she tripped and fell over a chair at home the morning of the opening round at Tedesco.

White Man in Tropics

The white man can live in the tropics, according to a scientist who made a study of the question for the Smithsonian Institution, but he needs intelligence and a rigid discipline in order to do so successfully. Life in the tropics will certainly become more comfortable as well as safer for the white race, says this authority, but acclimatizing in its full and literal sense is and will remain an impossibility.

Stubbornness of Socrates, the Grecian Philosopher

The indictment brought against Socrates by his enemies read as follows: "GUILTY of crime, first, for not worshipping the gods whom the city worships, but introducing new divinities of his own; next, for corrupting the youth. The penalty is death."

The case was referred to a board of 500 judges. The philosopher defended himself with much eloquence, but his fearless utterances rather prejudiced the judges against him as giving color to the charge of infidelity. He was adjudged guilty by a small majority.

According to custom, he was allowed to name his punishment. He then said that in his own opinion he deserved to be subsisted at public expense for the rest of his life as a benefactor to the state, but acting upon the advice of his friends he would ask for a fine of 30 minas. This laughable so enraged his judges that they voted by a majority of 80 votes for his death.

The means of escape from prison were offered to the philosopher by his friends, but he refused to avail himself of them, thus attesting his law-abiding character. After conversing at some length with his friends on the immortality of the soul, he drank the cup of hemlock poison with perfect composure, bade a cheerful farewell to all, assuring them that he was merely setting out upon a happy journey. And thus passed away the greatest of the Greeks.

Soybean Oil

Soybean oil, as the name implies, is a vegetable oil obtained from the mature seed of the soybean plant. It is classified technically as a semi-drying oil, which merely means to say that its capacity to dry is not equal to that of the classic example of a drying oil—linseed oil, but is superior to that of the non-drying oils, such as cottonseed oil. This capacity to dry is of extreme importance especially in one great industry, the rubber industry.

Black Widow Spider Only Poisonous One of Family

Throughout the West, South and up into the New England states occurs our only really poisonous spider, the black widow or hourglass spider (Lactodermes mactans). This naked, shiny black spider is not confined to this continent alone but, according to Herms, is found in the West Indies, Madagascar, New Zealand and Algeria. The name, says the Rural New Yorker, is derived from its color and from the fact that on the lower surface of the abdomen of the females there appears a reddish figure much resembling the old-fashioned hourglass. Except for this there are no marks upon it. On the males there may be additional reddish marks on the sides of the abdomen. In length the female will measure from one to one and one-half inches in diameter over all.

It is most common to find the spider hiding in old houses, outbuildings, barns, woodpiles, in cracks and under brush or stones. The spiders often attack from these hiding places and thus many cases of biting have been without provocation on the part of the victim. For those who find it necessary to frequent the haunts of the spiders, it would be best to destroy such webs and spiders as are known to occur, but if a bite is inflicted much the same procedure should be followed as in the case of the rattlesnake. Bleeding should be induced, a tourniquet applied if the wound is on an extremity, and a doctor summoned.

The poison from the bite causes great bodily pain which reaches its maximum in about three days, when it gradually subsides, but it may be some weeks before all the effects have passed off.

Holder of Pike's Peak Record Now Undisputed Champion

Mt. Washington, N. H., June 30—Two stock Essex Terraplanes, a Six and an Eight, under official supervision of the American Automobile Association, both broke the all-time automobile record up Mt. Washington today—the Six by 51 seconds; the Eight by 1 minute, 16 seconds.

As a climax to the day's work, the Terraplane Eight, starting with the gearshift lever locked and sealed in high gear, climbed to the summit in high gear all the way—a feat unparalleled in the history of the mountain. The farthest point ever before reached by any car in high gear was the half-way house.

These achievements, added to the great Pike's Peak victory in which a Terraplane Six also beat the all-time record for all stock cars, regardless of price, makes the Terraplane the undisputed champion for hill-climbing, performance and ruggedness.

We believe this series of records made by Essex Terraplanes constitutes the most powerful evidence ever assembled to prove the ruggedness, reliability and stamina of any make of motor car. No owner's use of his car will ever approach the punishment given these record-breaking Terraplanes.

N'ville Church Day School Has 127 Enrollment

Closing Exercises Will Be Held
Next Friday Evening

AD. NEWTONVILLE CHURCH DAY SCH. The Newtonville Church Day School has an enrollment of 127 children representing all the churches in Newtonville, and some of the churches of Newton and West Newton, nine in all.

By classes and sex the enrollment figures are an interesting combination. There are 63 children in the primary department and 64 in the junior, made up of 63 boys and 64 girls.

The attendance has been excellent. Grade three has an average attendance of 97 and grades five and six 95 per cent.

The chief project of the program has been the building of a "Golden Rule City," around which much of the social and religious teaching has been visualized.

All of next week will be "Closing Week." On Thursday parents and others interested are cordially invited to visit the school, watch the teaching in progress and view the exhibits of work by the children. On Friday there will be a picnic, and on Friday evening closing exercises will be held, which the public is also cordially invited to attend.

Firemen and Police Fail To Save Boy

Richard Coshnear, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coshnear of 430 Commonwealth ave., Newton Centre, died last Friday of septic sore throat. When the family physician and a specialist failed to relieve the boy of the malady and he became in a critical condition because of inability to breathe the doctors called on the police and fire departments for aid. Manchuria Advancing

"The desire to be educated is not a new ambition among Manchurian young people; but the fervor for clean unblemished bodies and sanitary surroundings is sweeping across the land like a fresh sea breeze blowing sweet across drained moors which hitherto have been miasmic sloughs of putrefying ditch water." Dr. Arthur Torrance narrates in an article in Hygeia Magazine which shows the tremendous advances that have been made in health education in Manchuria. The school children in that country now receive the benefits of the most approved modern methods of training and are given excellent medical and dental care.

Dickens' Railway Accident

The accident in which Charles Dickens suffered injuries a few years before his death was the Staplehurst accident. On Dickens' way home from a short holiday in France, the train in which he was travelling ran off the rails at Staplehurst, a few miles south of Maidstone, throwing all the coaches except the one in which he was riding, into an adjoining stream. Dickens was uninjured, but suffered a severe nervous shock, from which he never fully recovered. But Dickens assisted, however, in removing the dead and dying from the wreckage, for which the railroad company sent him a resolution of thanks. The accident occurred June 9, 1865, just five years before his death.

Butterflies' Sight

It is believed that butterflies can see by ultra violet light more than by the gray mixture of colors which we call daylight. Ultra violet rays are shorter in wave length than those colors of the visible spectrum, so that they can render minute objects more visible and show up ordinary colors in a different form. This principle has been used by the European police to detect alterations in the figures of checks, for unless the same ink is employed for the faking the added color only looks the same when studied by daylight.—Montreal Herald.

Many Species of Owls

There are about 200 different species of owls in the world, but only about 20 in North America. The only owls known to be very destructive are the "Great Horned" and the "Screech" owl. All owls may now and then take a few small birds, but the good they do is far greater than the harm.

BISHOP BURNS SEVERELY INJURED IN RECENT ACCIDENT

Bishop Charles Wesley Burns of the Methodist Episcopal Church who resides in Newtonville was so severely injured in his recent automobile accident that he has been forbidden by his physician to undertake any physical engagements this summer, it became known this week.

The Bishop who is fifty-eight was driving his own car July 6 when it collided with another on Washington st. near Newton Corner. He was taken to the Deaconess Hospital where he remained until Saturday when he returned to his home on Frederick st.

Woman's Club Activities

Members of the General Federation of Women's Clubs headed by the president, Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, will set sail July 22nd for their first World Friendship Tour, their destination being the principal capitals of Europe and the League of Nations in Geneva. The party is sailing from New York aboard the SS Scythia, and will return September 16th aboard the SS Franconia. It numbers more than forty of the club leaders of the country, who will visit England, France, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Austria, and Switzerland.

The American Women's Clubs of London, Paris, Dusseldorf, Berlin, Prague, Vienna, and Zurich, are planning many elaborate social functions to honor the visiting women. In addition to the luncheon which the London club will tender, Lady Lee of Fareham has invited the group to a garden party at her house "White Lodge," once a royal residence, Queen Mary having been born there.

"We learn so much on this first World Friendship Tour of ours," said Mrs. Poole. "We are going to be more sympathetic and understanding and patient too, after we see weary old Europe face to face. The intimate contact with women of our own nationality and of the countries we visit will, I am confident, cement us into a closer understanding of today's problems."

Mrs. Poole, who has made many trips to Europe and has made a serious study of its history and of its social and economic problems, will lecture twice daily on shipboard, so giving the members of her party an invaluable background for all the things they will see.

Massachusetts women in the party are:—Mrs. E. Stanley Hollis and Mrs. Herbert F. French, Braintree, Mass.; Mrs. John J. Williams, Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. Charles L. Fuller, Mrs. Lester G. Flag, and Miss Louise H. Flag, Brockton, Mass.; Mrs. H. L. Pierce, Shrewsbury, Mass.; Mrs. Mary E. Wheelock, Randolph, Mass.; Mrs. Corabelle G. Francis, Newton, Mass.; Mrs. Walter Scott Dillingham and Walter Scott Dillingham, Jr., New Bedford, Mass.; and Mrs. Walter H. Woods, Brookline, Mass.

HOUSEHOLD NURSING ASSOC. EXPLAINS ATTENDANT NURSE

In case of family illness, many times money can be saved by the employment of an attendant nurse, says the Household Nursing Association of Boston. The family physician understands the places for registered and attendant nurses and the matter should invariably be left to his judgment.

The attendant nurse has been trained for the care of cases of those mildly ill and of those who are convalescing beyond any danger point. She is often called the household nurse because she assists in the care of the family, as well as in the care of the patient.

The Household Nursing Association of Boston was established fifteen years ago for the purpose of meeting the community need for practical nurses, one who has been given the most important elements of professional instruction and yet who has not expended so much time in her training that she is obliged to charge regular professional rates.

The attendant nurses graduated by this organization have had six weeks' preliminary training in household management and dietetics, a year's practice in bedside care and six months' practical experience in private duty. During the past five years, thirteen young women from the Newtons have taken this training with the Household Nursing Association.

CHILDREN'S MUSEUM OF BOSTON

The Summer Field Club of the Children's Museum of Boston will go to Dedham next Wednesday, July 26, for the weekly all-day field study. This will be an interesting trip not only for animal and plant study in the Dedham woods, but also a chance to visit the oldest frame house in America—the Fairbanks House built in 1636.

The free motion picture talks to be given Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week at three o'clock entitled "Peasant Life in the Balkans." Included are interesting studies of the colorful peasant costumes, the rhythmic folk dances, and the story of the elaborate wedding festivities of these people.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday the subject will be Eskimo Life in the Far North. The film illustrating this talk is an unusually interesting scene showing the domestic life and habits of this singular nomadic people who live in the Far North and whose principal industry is the raising of reindeer. Eskimos are shown making snow houses, kayaks, catching seals and whales, and driving the dog teams. A close-up of a reindeer roundup is one of the interesting views of this picture.

The Museum is open from 9 to 5 daily and 1:30 to 5 on Sundays. The Museum is located on Jamaica way opposite Mayor Curley's home and may be reached by a Jamaica car from Park or Dudley streets to Moraine st.

THE CATCH

Marjorie arrived home full of her own importance.

"Why are you so pleased?" asked her sister.

"Mr. Hanssum has just given me a great surprise," said Marjorie.

"What do you mean?" inquired her sister.

"I'd no idea that he had such lofty ambitions and exalted ideas," said Marjorie.

"But how did you find it out?" the other persisted.

"He's just proposed to me," came the reply.

THE HAPPY MAN-

Cora—Miss Antique is to be married.

Dora—Indeed; who is the happy man?

Cora—Her father, I think.

Got It, All Right

A sad-looking man went into a druggist's shop.

"Can you give me," he asked, "something that will drive from mind the thought of sorrow and bitter recollection?"

The druggist nodded, and put him up a dose of quinine, and wormwood, and rhubarb, and opium salts, with a dash of castor oil, and gave it to him, and for a week the man could think of nothing in the world except new schemes for getting the taste out of his mouth.

Youthful Philosopher

Little Betty was sitting with her mother in church during the wedding of her elder sister.

Halfway through the ceremony she noticed mother shedding the maternal tears usually on such occasions, and whispered, wonderingly: "Why are you crying, mummy? It's not your wedding!"

Impossible

Husband—These fashion plates in the paper are absurd!

Wife—But they are all taken from actual photographs.

Husband—Well, this one can't be.
Here are two women going in opposite directions, both wearing brand-new frocks, and neither is looking back at the other!—Simplicissimus.

DIDN'T SEEM RIGHT

"It isn't equitable."

"What's the trouble?"

"A divorce costs a great deal more than a marriage license."

Ideal Mater

Two college girls were having lunch together.

"My dear," said one, "why do you always call your mother 'the mater'?"

"Because," answered the other girl,
"she managed to find husbands for all my seven sisters."—Boston Transcript.

Fortunate Reminder

experience of mine in May, 1887.

Resourceful Victim—By Jove, sir, excuse me. That reminds me. I forgot to ring Mayfair one-eight-eight-seven!—Stray Stories.

gentleman's wife in it?

Ready-witted Pickpocket—Ush, constable—No scandal, I beg of yer.— London Humorist.

Good Idea

"How do you manage to keep so cheerful these days?" asked the pessimist.

"Oh," smiled the optimist, "I just live over the good things I had when I had the money to spend for them."

Accredited Delegate

"Who will help a man to correct personality defects if not his wife?" asks a heart-throb editor.

Well, sister, there is his wife's mother.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Lets Him Do His Stuff

"What! Another new dress? How ever do you think I can find the money to pay for it?"

"Darling, you know I'm not inquisitive."—London Tit-Bits.

Willing to Oblige

Sarcasmic Mary—Say, it's twelve o'clock. Do you think you can stay here tonight?

William—Well, I'll have to telephone mother first.

About Town

Wednesday afternoons, and now on Tuesday afternoons, and with all the postoffices in this city closed Wednesday afternoons except those at Newton Centre and Newton Corner, not only are business men of the city seriously handicapped, but the residents of Newton are being deprived of the right to receive or dispatch important mail matter. It is not fair to the public that letters telling of sickness or deaths should be delayed;
it is not giving them a proper deal to greatly slow up even ordinary correspondence. The United States government can balance its budget by more sensible methods than by crippling the postal service.

State Highway Route 123 passes under the new Worcester turnpike at Newton Highlands. It carries heavy traffic. But this has not caused the State engineers supervising the construction of the turnpike through this city, or city officials, to insist that the very rough condition of the underpass at Centre and Winchester
sts. be ended as soon as possible.
For months this condition has unnecessarily continued and automobile springs have been busted. Incidentally, the crossovers at Woodward and Elliot sts., as well as the other cross-overs, should be graded and surfaced as soon as possible.

The Key Is Still Lost

The history of mankind is the ceaseless repetition of various fairy-wand

Auto Fatalities In Newton Now Equal 1932 Total

Four Killed and 285 Injured
First Six Months of Year

According to the Newton Police Department records, it now looks as though the city of Newton were destined to far exceed its favorable automobile fatalities record of last year. During the first six months of the year four people were killed in automobile accidents in the city as compared with four fatalities for the entire year 1932. Two of those killed were pedestrians, one a boy on a bicycle and the other was the driver of a car which crashed into a tree.

During these first six months of the year there were also 194 accidents in which 285 people were injured. These accidents occurred as follows: January, 19; February, 32; March, 36; April, 30; May, 30, June, 53.

One of the interesting things about these accidents and fatalities is the regularity with which they occur. Starting nine years ago, there were 3 fatalities in 1924, 5 in 1925, 6 in 1926, 7 in 1927, 10 in 1928, 9 in 1929, 8 in 1930, 9 in 1931 and 4 in 1932.

Compared with other communities similar in size, Newton has about an average safety record. It will be noted that during three months of the first six of the year there were no fatalities in the city. During the month of May there were only eleven cities and towns in the state, including Newton, which are comparable in size which had no automobile fatalities during the month.

Inspector Shaughnessy of the Newton Police Department, whose duty it is to secure and file careful records of all accidents in the city, says that this never ending stream of accident records passing through his office is appalling, but that only remedy is greater care on the part of the drivers. While no case of criminal carelessness has been found in connection with any of the fatalities so far this year, in every case the chances are that the accident might have been prevented by greater caution and more constant vigilance on the part of the driver.

Newton Police Solve Burglaries

Members of the detective force of the Newton police, headed by Captain Goode, and including Inspector King and Special Officers Feeley and Mullen, have solved many of the numerous burglaries in Newton by the detection of boys who have been breaking into many houses in the city and who have stolen thousands of dollars worth of loot. Some of the loot has been recovered from where it had been hidden in the Charles River between Dover and Medfield. This loot was placed in burlap bags before it was hidden under the water. More loot has been recovered from other places where it was disposed of.

The articles stolen included jewelry, watches, clocks, bric-a-brac, radios, cameras, an expensive shotgun and other objects. Two of the boys involved are high school students and members of respectable families.

Greet Winning Ritual Team

The ritual team of the Newton lodge of Elks, winners in the national contest at the Milwaukee convention, were met at the Newtonville station last night by 200 members of the lodge, who led a parade for the victors to the Elks' home.

Newton Industries Respond to Indust. Recovery Act

Tell Of Efforts to Maintain Employment During Depression

A Graphic reporter visited the industrial plants located at Upper and Lower Falls on Wednesday afternoon, and gleaned the following information regarding the operation of the federal industrial recovery act with these concerns and the progress they are making in rebuilding business and in the re-employment of their men.

Vincent C. Stanley, president of the Gamewell Company, which has been manufacturing fire and police alarm apparatus in Newton Upper Falls for the past 75 years, is sponsor for the following statement regarding his company.

"The Gamewell Company not only accepts the principle of the President's employment agreement, but gladly pledges its full support and hearty co-operation in doing its full part to bring about better wages, more employment for its workers and office staff.

Notwithstanding the fact that this company has not prospered in its business, due to the financial condition of cities and towns over all the country, it has endeavored to keep as many men busy as possible by painting the factories and by doing other odd jobs until there was an improvement and more orders were obtained. Some time ago this company was the first to adopt a 40 hour week schedule and has been operating on that basis for many months past. Due to lack of business it has not been possible to work full time, but it has kept a complete skeleton force employed throughout the entire depression.

The government has already approved several applications from cities and towns to finance them in the improvement of their fire alarm facilities and it is expected that this company will continue to obtain a portion of any business given out along these lines, so that by September we should be able to increase the number of our employees."

Gamewell company employed around 250 men when business was normal. The management was unwilling to give out the number of men now employed in this "skeleton force" but it was learned that there has been no increase in the number employed. The report was found in the stairway of the building where the offices are located, which tends to confirm the impression that the foregoing statement is sincere.

The office manager of the Stowe Woodward company, manufacturers of rubber rollers for paper machinery, golf balls and bowling balls, said "This company goes on the new code next Monday morning 100 per cent. While the code accepted by the American Rubber Association is not compulsory before September first, we see no reason for delay in putting a good thing into operation."

The Stowe Woodward Company has experienced a noticeable improvement in its business within the last two months. During normal times it employs 75 to 100 men and has not dropped below this minimum any time since the depression began. It has managed to keep its men employed by shifting from one department to another, since it has been fortunate in having its three products somewhat near balance each other in demand.

A call at the office of the Upper Falls Branch of the New England Spun Silk Corporation resulted in no information. The reporter called the executive office of the company in Brighton, but Mr. Pettimeret, president of the company, said that he had "nothing to say."

A call at the office of the Sherman Paper Products Company, which has plants in Boston, Los Angeles and Montreal, also resulted in no information, as the chief executives were leaving for a conference in New York. The reporter was invited to return later.

J. S. Cordingley, president of the National Association of Wool Fibre Manufacturers and owner of the wool fibre mill at Lower Falls, said that his association has joined the Association of American Woolen manufacturers and will be subject to the general woolen code. He expects this code will be in operation before the end of August. He expects the code to have the result of preventing the high peaks and deep depressions in the business, in other words, he thinks the woolen business from this time forward will become more stable.

Mr. Cordingley's own plant is experiencing improvement in its business. It is well up, toward its capacity of 60 men.

Mr. L. A. Marr of the firm of C. F. Crehore and Son, manufacturers of cards for pattern looms, of Newton Lower Falls said that his firm intends to co-operate in every way possible. As they manufacture a specialty used in the manufacture of lace and other pattern cloths, they will probably come under the cotton textile code, but are still waiting for definite instructions which a special committee has been working on for the past month.

Mr. Marr says that his company which normally employs twelve men has made a ten per cent cut in wages since the depression began, and are now far above the wage standards of any code which will be adopted.

Local Government Should Receive More Attention

Says Thomas W. White In Addressing Kiwanis Club On Business Recovery

In addressing the Newton Kiwanis Club at their noon day luncheon on Monday, Thomas W. White of Newton Upper Falls and Collector of Internal Revenue, said that American people should pay more attention to the problems of local government and local taxation, for it is here that they can exert their greatest influence over taxation. "Citizens can then demand," said he, that their state and national governments shall be properly operated." Mr. White spoke in part as follows:

"It is hardly necessary for me to inform any business man that what is needed to restore normal times is the increase in purchasing power of the people. Production is easy."

"I wish that I were a millionaire, but nevertheless I am inclined to believe that I will indirectly be the cause of this Fall of relieving the unemployment of many of our voters who are commercially inclined."

"I shall talk this noon, not in minute detail but in rather a general way about finances and taxation."

"Business is built on credit. We all realize that the bank deposits of this Nation total 40 billion and all kinds of money available total, at the present time, 5 billion, or what is owed by the banks to depositors is eight times as much as the money available to pay, so it stands to reason that if all the depositors wanted all their money at the same time, an impossible situation would arise."

"Under Wilson the National debt was in excess of 24 billion dollars with interest charges yearly of one billion dollars. Coolidge reduced that debt in 7 1/2 years to 17 1/2 billion dollars and inaugurated a budget plan which aided in a reduction of 6 billion at the same time making four tax reductions. In the four years of Hoover the debt rose to 21 billion in spite of additional taxation. The debt under Roosevelt is now 22 billion, with contemplated expenditures in excess of billions supposed to be self-liquidating."

"It was not many years ago that the economists claimed it was impossible for any Government to continue with a debt of 10 billion."

"The great problem confronting the American people is the reduction in taxation. Most of our citizens are interested in national and state governments but pay very little attention to local affairs. It is my opinion that the policy should be reversed for it stands to reason that if the local government with the opportunities for savings is sound, the citizens will demand that their State and National governments are also properly operated. Whenever a tax rate is announced, whether it be 25 or 30, it should be remembered that this is not the whole story. An analysis must be made to see if you are getting the value of your money or whether that tax rate is a fictitious figure based upon bond issues to be paid for in the future or other methods of evasion."

"Return to prosperity is not to be acquired by talk. Unless we can build on the broad base of employment for the masses and a reasonable profit to business and industry, Gold contents of the dollar and artificial methods are of no avail. Every period has had, and will have, its own fiscal problems."

"Government has always mortgaged the future for the present in times of prosperity. In adversity they find they have no surplus, no undivided profits and no reserve, so they resort to the one alternative—the power to tax—or it might be called the power to destroy—and further mortgage the present and the future by bond issues and borrowings for current expenses."

"The philosophy of the late President Calvin Coolidge was and is sound. He said: 'I am for economy in Government. Then I am for more economy. In this way I can serve the people best.' Mr. White concluded by saying:

"I believe in the reduction of taxes in order that the people may have more of their own money to spend in their own way."

Wilfred Chagnon, vice-president, presided.

Centre Woman Speeds; Fined $20

Mrs. Dorothy Hurley, 31, of 26 Hurley place, Newton Centre, was fined $20 by Judge Bacon in the Newton court on Monday morning when she was found guilty of driving a car at unreasonable speed, driving without her license in her possession and driving without the car registration in her possession. Patrolman John Green testified that while he was driving his car on Cherry st., West Newton, on Sunday afternoon, a car driven by the Hurley woman came around the corner from Derby st. at such a speed that it cut across the sidewalk. Green pursued her along Cherry street and testified that she drove by four intersecting streets at a speed of 40 miles. He said that a man in the rear seat of her car made an insulting gesture towards him and that the Hurley woman was insulting to him when she stopped her car at the policeman's command. She claimed that she was driving at a speed of 15 miles an hour.

45 Miles Too Fast Past Turnpike Intersections

Judge Bacon Observes Conditions and Decides

Judge William F. Bacon of the Newton district court does not believe in coddling motorists who drive recklessly, but the judge has been inclined to take a quite liberal view on the rate of speed at which motorists may drive on certain streets in this city, although his own car, driven by a competent, careful chauffeur, is never seen being operated at too high a speed. Recently the judge found a man not guilty of speeding when the testimony showed that this autoist had been driving a car on Needham st., Upper Falls, at a 45 mile rate. The judge was also in doubt if 45 miles an hour is a dangerous speed at which to travel on the new Worcester turnpike past intersecting streets in this city. Motorcycle Officers Dowling and Hammill have observed the hazardous conditions prevailing at street intersections along the turnpike since it was opened to traffic several weeks ago and they have contended that a 45 mile speed is dangerous. To settle the matter Judge Bacon on Tuesday morning went with Chief of Police Hughes and the officers to observe conditions at the turnpike.

The points visited were the intersections at Eliot and Woodward sts., Circuit and Meredith aves., and Dudley rd. After watching cars whiz by, the judge agreed with the police that a speed of 45 miles is too fast for automobiles to pass by these intersections; in fact, he commented that 40 mile speed is too fast. As a result, a large number of autoists who had been apprehended by the officers speeding by the intersections received summonses to appear in the Newton court.

Traffic signals are to be installed at the Eliot street intersection, but in the meantime it behooves autoists to cut speed by cross roads along the big highway.

Says Sincere Disarmament Must Abolish Submarine

Mr. J. E. Arnold Addresses Rotary on Disarmament

"There is nothing sincere about this matter of disarmament unless we are willing to abolish submarines," said Mr. J. E. Arnold, former Roman of the S4 in the U. S. Navy, who was last Monday's speaker at the Newton Rotary Club held as usual at the Brae Burn Golf Club. "England would be glad to get rid of her submarines, but France and Italy want to keep theirs as that is their only defense against England. And as for the United States, submarines would be our only defense in case of a war with Japan." The speaker calls the submarine a sneaky thing, not the open instrument of warfare approved of in this country.

Mr. Arnold, who was in the submarine service seven out of his nine years in the Navy, gave a very graphic description of the mechanism of the submarine. The great care in making all compartments water-tight, the rapidity with which it is necessary to submerge, the renewing of the air, the pains taken not to injure the ear-drums of the men—these and many other things made a most interesting story. Mr. Arnold was introduced by Orville Clapper.

Mr. R. S. Robie, of the Boston Club, in charge of automobiles at the recent convention, made a brief talk in praise of the excellent co-operation given by local club members at the International Rotary meeting last month, declaring that his part of the entertainment would have broken down several times but for the assistance of Newton members.

Frank H. Wentworth was inducted into membership by Dr. Cecil Clark. He succeeds John Kent in the classification "Electric Power and Service," he being also the successor of Mr. Kent as manager of the Newton office of the Edison Company. Mr. Wentworth is a Rotary member both at Somerville and Winchester during his Edison service in those places.

Five members of other Rotary clubs and six non-members were the guests of the Newton club on Monday.

J. F. Brocklesby First Candidate For Alderman

John F. Brocklesby of 18 Murray terrace, Auburndale, has taken out nomination papers as a candidate for Alderman-at-Large from Ward 4. Brocklesby is a life-long resident of this city and has for many years been in the employ of the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway. The office he seeks is now filled by John H. Gordon, who has indicated that he will not be a candidate for re-election. Gordon has been a member of the Board of Aldermen for 12 years.

Alfred Guzzi of Mague place, West Newton, has taken out nomination papers for Ward Alderman from Ward 3. Guzzi has been a candidate for aldermanic offices for the past two years.

Boy Scout Camp In Full Swing On Laurel Lake

Varied Program of Activities Stimulates Love of the Great Open Spaces

The new, pioneer-type of camp, now operated by Norumbega Council, Boy Scouts of America, is under full headway at Camp Barker, down on Laurel Lake in Douglass. The Camp is divided into three Troops, each with its own Scoutmaster and Senior Patrol Leader.

Each Troop has its Patrol organization; the Davy Jones Troop with Mr. Dodge as Scoutmaster and Eagle Scout Philip Trowbridge as Senior Patrol Leader. In the Troop is the Hawk Patrol with William Allison as Patrol Leader and the Blazing Arrow Patrol with Gerald Bennett of Troop 15 as Patrol Leader and Albert MacAuslan of the same Troop as Assistant Patrol Leader.

The Davy Crockett Troop, with Mr. Gove as Scoutmaster and Charles Thompson, Jr., as Senior Patrol Leader, has the Chipmunk Patrol with William Morrison of Troop 6 at PL; the Raccoon Patrol with Lawrence MacEwen of Troop 1, Gloucester as PL; and the Whip-Poor-Will Patrol with Eagle Scout George Collins as PL.

The Watch City Troop has Mr. Jones as Scoutmaster and Harvey Roberts as Senior Patrol Leader.

What "Pioneer-Type" Means

A paramount phase of the philosophy of every well run summer camp is to provide those chores for boys, to teach them to think and act for themselves, which were so vital in the development of youth in the early days of our nation and which are carried on to a greater or lesser degree in the farm homes of our country today. The Scouts are divided into Patrols, sleep together as Patrols, each Patrol has its own kitchen and does its general camp duties under the boy leader, or Patrol Leader. This teaches both leadership and fellowship which is just as essential. Food is issued to the Patrol once daily and there is plenty of it, evidenced by the weight the Scouts are putting on, and it is good, hard food. In the Patrol kitchens, they do their own cooking, every single meal and some of the dishes are somewhat complicated and require Yankee ingenuity in the cooking. However, they have been extremely successful for the most part. Burned pudding once means a good pudding the second time and there is plenty in the menu to make up for the burned dish, so no one ever goes hungry. Another noticeable point around Camp Barker is the way the Scouts are developing muscularly from chopping wood; oh, yes, they gather and cut their own wood.

Strong Water-Front Program

Mr. W. R. Speirs, Assistant Scout Executive (known as "Skipper") is the Troop Committeeman in charge of the water-front and there are classes for sinkers and beginners every day; classes in rowing and instruction in canoeing will start this week. Scouts Pete Bennett and Harold Jenkins are the camp's qualified sailors from last year and they have been scraping and sanding the two Cutit Bay skiffs and are now painting them. The boats will be finished and rigged this week and those two Scouts will start sailing classes next week. Every day, there are classes in Junior Red Cross Life Saving instruction. Junior Life Savers are used as water-front guard and in the life boat. The "buddy system" is used in swimming and the greatest of care exercised at all times on the water-front.

"Bang! Bang! Bang!" The startled visitor pricks up his ears and quickly asks where the shooting goes on and against the target range pretty near camp for safety? No, there's not a gun in camp! That's just Albert MacAuslan ("Bozo") cracking the Australian whips in the corral, or some one of his pupils who is making rapid progress in the art. So we walk towards the sound and see a rough corral in charge of "Bozo"—a corral made up just as they are on the ranches. In this one, however, the animals are two legged and they are busy cracking whips or trying to and spinning ropes on the wooden platform for that purpose. Once in a while "Skipper" gives a demonstration of snapping paper out of a Scout's hand with a bull whip. There is a 16-foot whip which no one has mastered yet and it still awaits its conqueror.

Close by is the craft cabin where Mr. Leslie St. Lawrence, the Camp Troop Committeeman in charge of that activity, is teaching crafts in everything from woodcarving, braiding to carving horn, bone and making all sorts of odds and ends of gadgets.

Weekly Over-Night Hike

The weekly over-night hikes have started and this week's has Tri-State Park as its destination. Patrols go out as units with a Scout leader accompanying them. They have a map along and try to cover the country between camp and destination without being seen or heard by another Patrol. Tri-State Park is where the boundaries of Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut meet. It's now 9:30 and the sweet-sad notes of Tame float over the quiet lake, the night birds are calling and singing and soon all are asleep, to be ready for another interesting, active day.

Earnshaw Co. Supports National Recovery Program

Newton's Largest Industry Is Giving Full Co-operation

The Earnshaw Knitting Company, one of Newton's largest industries, if not the largest, is giving President Roosevelt enthusiastic support in the national recovery campaign. In fact, this company has, during the years of depression, been doing essentially what the President is now endeavoring to have all the industries of this nation do. It has been unusually generous in its treatment toward its employees, endeavored to keep them at work as much as possible, and did not resort to the drastic wage and salary cuts made by most employers of labor during the past three years.

The manufacturing plant of the company and its offices are on California st., Nonantum, and its products, knitted garments for infants and children, have won a national reputation. They are sold under the trade name "Vanta." Under normal conditions the company employed about 650 persons and now employs about 450. It moved to Newton in 1920 from Chicago. Since its establishment in Newton the company has consistently co-operated with the Minimum Wage Commission of Massachusetts by paying a good scale of wages, although it had to face competition with companies paying lower wages. Frequently the company leaned backwards to comply with the minimum wage law of this state, a law whose only penalty has been publication in newspaper of the names of firms which did not obey it, and which has not had much teeth to it. The wages of the employees in the Earnshaw factory were not cut in 1930 or 1931. The only cut was in January 1932, when a 10% reduction was made. The company did a normal business in 1930, but in 1931 the effects of the depression commenced to be felt and business grew worse during 1932. The first three months' business of this year was poor, but the second three months showed a very marked improvement.

Although the code regulations affecting the knit goods industry will not become operative until August 7th, the Earnshaw Company on July 17th voluntarily adopted the code specified, which set a minimum wage of $13 per week and 40 hours of labor. This code applies to factory operatives, but the Saturday closing schedule will also be applied on a trial basis to the offices of the company, unless it develops that such a step would seriously affect the conduct of the company's business. Prior to the adoption of the 40-hour week in the factory, the employees there worked from 7:15 a. m. to 12 noon, and from 1 to 5 p. m., except on Saturdays, when the factory closed at 11 a. m. Now they work from 8 a. m. to noon, and from 1 to 5 p. m., five days each week, and do not work Saturdays.

The factory employees of the company on production machines will work on shift, except that the knitting machines may be worked two shifts. The majority of the employees of the company are residents of this city and the opportunities given by the Earnshaw Company to Newton persons for employment have been of tremendous value because of the closing down or removal from this city of large industries which had been established in Newton for 30 and more years. Last week George F. Earnshaw, president of the Earnshaw Sales, and Joseph H. LeConey, Superintendent of the Earnshaw Knitting Company, were in New York and Washington attending conferences of the Knit Underwear Institute group.

In accordance with the radio appeal of President Roosevelt on Tuesday night, the following telegram was sent to the President on Wednesday morning:

"As members of the Underwear Institute, our code was filed on Thursday, July 20th, and our mill has been operating on the basis of that code since July 17th. We are in hearty accord with the entire program of the Industrial Recovery Act and will lend every effort to bring it through to a successful issue."

Signed: Earnshaw Knitting Company.

G. F. EARNSHAW.

Attachment Is Filed Against Mayor's Secretary

Action Brought Against James Dempsey by Wm. F. Brennan

On July 14th an attachment for $10,000 was filed at the Registry of Deeds in East Cambridge by the law office of John H. O'Neil of 13 Tremont st., Boston. The plaintiff is William F. Brennan of 27 Waban Hill rd., Chestnut Hill, and the defendant named is James Dempsey, secretary to Mayor Weeks. The writ is based on actions of tort to damages and the plaintiff claims a trial by jury. The writ is returnable the first Monday in August. It is alleged that on July 7th, Mr. Brennan went to the Mayor's office in an attempt to interview Mayor Weeks and that he was forcibly ejected by Mr. Dempsey.

Mr. Brennan, who is 79 years of age, is a retired business man who has resided on Waban Hill road for many years. While not greatly interested in civic and municipal matters and in past years had been instrumental in effecting a number of important changes in the conduct of public affairs in this city. He forced the city to cease levying a special tax for street watering and dust laying by oil. In former years real estate owners in Newton had to pay separate assessments on such items, but Mr. Brennan, after a determined fight won out in this matter. He also waged a long battle to compel a change in the manner in which checks were made out by Newton property owners in payment of taxes. Such checks were formerly made payable to the City Collector by name. Mr. Brennan contended that they should be made payable to the City of Newton, and he also won out in this controversy.

For the past two years Mr. Brennan has been attempting to have Section 10, Chapter 2 of the City Ordinances amended. This section now reads: "The salary of the Mayor shall be $5000 per year." Mr. Brennan suggested that it be changed to read—"The maximum salary of the Mayor shall not exceed $5000 per year." His reason for wanting this change is—that the last months of Mayor Childs' term of office, on the recommendation of the former Mayor (after he had announced that he would not run for reelection) the Board of Aldermen voted to increase the salary of the Mayor from $3000 to $5000. Mr. Weeks, then President of the Board, and a candidate for Mayor, announced that if elected he would not accept the increase. Mr. Weeks has not accepted the additional $2000 per year since he assumed the office of Mayor. Mr. Brennan has contended that this is not proper procedure; that the Mayor's refusal to accept the specified salary does not release the city from liability of the difference being demanded in the future. As an answer to this phase of Mr. Brennan's contention, the Mayor last year did sign a release.

Woman Driver Hits Waiting Room

A car driven by Mrs. Alma Frederickson of 375 School st., Watertown, ran into the small waiting station at Newtonville square on Sunday afternoon with Joseph Decelle, a Newtonville taxi driver an unwilling passenger on the front bumper. Decelle started to cross Washington st. as the car came along, and was gathered up by the bumper. Mrs. Frederickson swung the car sharply in an attempt to avoid hitting Decelle, but went across the sidewalk and hit the waiting room. Decelle was fortunate enough to escape serious injuries, but received cuts and bruises on his face, body and limbs. The waiting room was moved several inches off its foundation.

Attractive Tours To Europe At Low Costs

Will Start From Boston On August 27th

Anyone desiring to enjoy a European tour at extremely low cost should take advantage of the "Labor Day Tours" of the White Star Line which will leave Boston on Sunday, August 27. These tours, which have been conducted for several years by Frederick J. Reuter, general passenger agent of the White Star Line at Boston, have won enthusiastic approval from the many who participated in them, including Newton residents. Tour A lasts 24 days and the cost is but $198. Leaving Boston on the magnificent motor vessel Britannic, Liverpool will be reached on September 3 and a trip across England, through the Shetland Islands to London will be made. On September 5 a sightseeing trip of London will be made and then the tourists will cross the channel to France to spend three days in Paris. They will sail from Havre on the S. S. Westernland of the Red Star Line on September 9 and will arrive in New York on September 18.

Tour B is the same as Tour A until London is reached. After two days in that city the tourists travel to Holland to visit Amsterdam, The Hague, Volendam by motor-coach and a side trip by steamer to the Isle of Maardijk. Then by train to Cologne, Germany, and from that city along the Rhine by boat to Bonn, Coblenz and Wiesbaden. From there the tour continues to Heidelberg and Lucerne, Switzerland, where a motor-coach trip will be enjoyed through the William Tell country. The tour proceeds to Interlaken and Montreux and Paris will be reached on the night of September 16. Three days will be spent in Paris and on September 20 the return trip will start by train to Cherbourg where the S. S. Olympic will be boarded. New York will be reached on September 26. The cost of this 32 days trip is but $339.

Tour C is the same as Tour B until London; then those taking this tour go by boat to Rotterdam, thence to Berlin for a two days visit. From Berlin a train is taken to Munich and from that city the trip continues to Lucerne where the party joins Tour B. The cost of this tour is $359. There will be a special tour which will include visits in Ireland to Cork, Dublin and the Lakes of Killarney and then will proceed to England for a two days stay in London. This tour is of 24 days duration and the steamships used will be the same as in Tour A; the Britannic going and the Westernland returning. The cost of this tour is $379.

These tours start after the summer tourist rush is over. Good accommodations are provided on the steamships, and the land tour accommodations, both travel and hotel, in England and Europe are equally excellent. Thomas Cook & Son are in charge of the European part of the tours. For further information and reservations communicate with the Newton Steamship Agency, 11 Centre Ave., Newton in the Postoffice Building. A phone call to Newton North 4561 will bring a representative to Westernland returning.

Brought No Crops
The first people to settle the American continent brought nothing with them but the dogs that trotted at their heels. Their agriculture did not come from Egypt or the valley of the Nile, according to a member of the division of historical research of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, because wheat, rice, barley and millet, the staples of Egypt, Mesopotamia and China, did not appear in the Mayan and Aztec civilization until after the arrival of Columbus. Hence, they developed their own crops—Indian corn, lima beans, tobacco and cotton.

MURPHY'S PITCHING SHUTS OUT BOSTON TWILIGHT TEAM

The first game of the series between the All-Stars of the Newton Twilight League and Daley Post V. F. W. of Boston Twilight League was played at Clafin Field last Monday night. "Porky" Murphy pitching for the All-Stars shut out the Boston Twilight team and innings he was at the points. When Coach Briedy changed his lineup in the fifth inning the All-Stars were leading 1-0 having scored on a hit followed by a walk and a sacrifice. At this point Briedy put in an entirely new team, Choquette pitching and Causteau replacing Lansed behind the bat.

A base on balls followed by an error and a two base hit by Jack Leary accounted for two runs for the Daley Post. Lombardi who had replaced Tolbaldi at second for the all stars, hit what appeared to be a home run in the last of the fifth. He was called out however, for not touching second base.

Practically the only change in the league standing the past week was the drop of West Newton to ninth place while the Newton A. C. moved up one place. Y. M. C. A. continues undefeated and with the Highlands appears certain of a play off position. Third place is still open to several teams. Standing up to July 27:

ARMOR PLATE BEATEN INTO PEACETIME OIL EQUIPMENT
The largest forging ever made—one of three huge cracking drums, weighing over 140 tons each—has just been received by the Tide Water Oil Refinery here, and is being erected under the supervision of Commander Edward Elsborg, Chief Engineer. The massive steel cylinder will be used to "crack" residual fractions of crude oil in the manufacture of Triple X Tydol gasoline. It operates at a temperature of 950 degrees, and at the enormous pressure of 1400 pounds per square inch.

The forging was made from an ingot of steel weighing more than 200 tons, produced in Bethlehem, Pa., during the world war as a step in the manufacture of heavy armor plate for Uncle Sam's battleships. At the close of the war, the surplus ingots were stored pending the discovery of some peacetime use. The characteristics of the steel made it highly suitable for the exacting requirements of a high pressure "cracking drum." As a result the steel which had been designed to ward off the impact of twelve-inch projectiles was adapted to contain gasoline vapor under high heat and pressure, and to withstand countless blows from the unimaginably small molecules of gasoline.

Local Firms Win Safety Honors For Month of June

The Governor's Committee of Street and Highway Safety report that three Newton firms, C. F. Eddy, B. S. Hatch and John A. Janse deserve honorable mention for having had no highway accidents during the month of June. The safety record of the month for the state as a whole was, however, unfavorable. Accidents rose from 402 in May to 447 in June. This rise is in part explained by increased operation of trucks with resulting greater exposure.

American Red Cross

During the past week many young people have been practicing for their Life Saving tests under the supervision of E. M. Westgate, Red Cross Instructor and Examiner at Crystal Lake. Wm. Blair, 24 Knowles st., Newton Centre, passed the Junior Life Saving Test. Howard Gallagher, 10 Howe rd., Newton Centre, Joseph Sheehan, 29 Parkview ave., Newtonville, Carleton Miller, 287 Elliot st., Newton Upper Falls, and H. Jack Purple, 335 Lake ave., Newton Highlands, passed the Senior Test. Miss Elizabeth Locke, 22 Kirkstall rd., Newtonville, has received her Examiner's certificate and is now qualified to instruct.

PARAMOUNT THEATRE

"College Humor" will be the feature film at the Paramount Theatre, Newton, for four days starting Sunday. It is said to be a cleverly written play of good clean fun. The featured players are Bing Crosby, Richard Arlen, Mary Carlisle, Jack Oakie, George Burns, and Gracie Allen. On the same program will be "Cocktail Hour," a title which is a bit misleading. It is a corking good romance. For the last half of the week Nancy Carroll and Edmund Lowe will be seen in "I Love That Man." Nancy Carroll who is developing into quite a star, does a clever bit of acting in his play. On the same program will be Lee Tracy and Madge Evans in "The Nuisance." On Saturday afternoon there will be vaudeville for the afternoon as well as evening performance, as well as the serial, "The Three Musketeers."

Spiders Patiently on Watch for Any Victims

Spiders are small gods, living solitary, unsocial and predacious lives. They sit in their webs or near their webs, watching for the innocents of the insect world. They contemplate their surroundings with eight or twelve eyes and enmesh their victims with innumerable strands of silk from tiny spinnerets beneath their abdomens. Most spiders have seven principal silk glands with which to weave, tie victims and go ballooning.

"The young spider," writes a naturalist in the Kansas City Star, "flings out a strand to the wind and is carried away. When he wishes to make a landing, he simply hauls in his sail." Perhaps the only practical aspect of spider study is in its relation to the silk industry. Silk worms are communists. Spiders are dangerous individualists who cannot live together in a community. They devour one another. One probably would survive a community of spiders. Perhaps it is too expensive to maintain separate stalls for spiders. Silk worms are produced in mass.

"It is possible to weave good silk from spiders," he says. "If you wish to try it, tie the spider to a table, seize the strand he always wears behind him and keep pulling. It is possible to pull strands from several spiders simultaneously."

"Evening Red" Apt to Be True
The jingle about "evening red and morning gray," which also is interpreted in another widely-known couplet beginning, "a red sky at night is a sailor's delight," is apt to be true, a weather bureau man said. This belief is based on scientific facts about atmospheric conditions. The meteorologist explained it like this: The red color caused by the setting sun is not due to the same conditions as the red color when the sun is rising. The earth has been warmed all day and by sunset the earth is warming the air, causing an uprush of air and moisture. The rays shining through this cause redness. However, in the morning no warm air is rising from the earth and if the sun's light shows red, it is because the air already is full of moisture and therefore rain is probable.

The Swearless Indian
American Indians possess no swear words in their language. "No way our language to take God's name and throw it at you, so must use white man's words," one Indian is quoted. Religion holds a prominent place in Indian life. American history is filled with dramatic and sympathetic narratives of campfire tribal rites, sacrifice of maidens to appease disfavor of much feared gods, or elaborate preparation of graves for contented life of dead tribesmen in the happy hunting ground.

You've Seen Him
A common type of leader of men is one who first finds out which way the crowd is headed and then hops out in front, waves a banner and yells. "Come on, fellows."—Florida Times-Union.

HER FEAR

Doris sat on the edge of the sofa nervously twitching her handkerchief in her hands.
"What's the matter with you?" asked her sister. "Why are you so nervous?"
"This is the day John said he was going to ask father for his consent to our marriage," Doris informed her. "Are you afraid dad will refuse?" asked her sister.
"No," murmured the unhappy girl; "I'm afraid John won't ask."

NO ROMANCE THERE

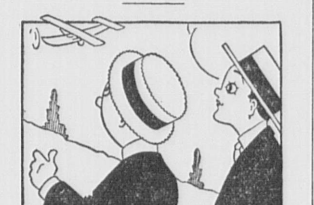

"Did you ever know a girl to die for love?"
"Yes."
"Did she just fade away and die because some man deserts her?"
"No, she just took in washing and worked herself to death because the man she loved married her."

Just the Opening
Tommy wore his father's clothes, which his mother cut down for him as best she could. As he was putting on a waistcoat which had been cut down from an overcoat, he began to grumble.
"What's the matter?" asked his father.
"Why," said Tommy, "this pocket ain't got no bottom to it."
"That's not a pocket," said his father; "that's a buttonhole."—London Tit-Bits.

Desperate Determination
"You are indulging in puns a great deal of late."
"I am trying to be personally merry," answered Miss Cayenne, "to counteract the influence on my own disposition of the melancholy news articles I write."
"But why should you become a sob sister?"
"It seemed the only way I could be sure of subsistence."

The Desire to Confide
"Why do you consult a doctor when you are so careless about taking his advice?" asked the physician.
"Well," replied the hypochondriac, "it's worth what it costs to find a man who is willing to sit down and listen to my troubles."

RAPID DROP

"It's an awful come down for a man."
"What is?"
"When he's five miles up in the air and his gasoline gives out."

One of Many
"Have you seen Grey lately?" asked Mr. Brown when he met Freeman on the morning business train.
"No," replied Freeman; "but I heard that he was engaged in research work."
"What the dickens is he researching for?" inquired Brown, puzzled.
"Work," came the reply.

Laughing It Off
"No matter how anxious about the future I may be," said Senator Sorghum, "I keep a smiling face and give a gentle answer."
"Growing indifferent?"
"No, I'm trying to be one of those happy worriers you read about."

Kismet—Fate

In Arabic the word kismet is "kismet" and means fate. This word was used by Mohammed when he preached in the Koran the duty of submission to all that God had preordained. He believed that a man's every action was predestined, yet he never suggested the folly of struggling against an adverse doom. The doctrine of Kismet has prompted Mohammedans to utmost heroism and fortitude in the cause of their religion.

The Iron Heart

A strange find was made in Nagykoros, where the site of an old cemetery is being leveled for building. A coffin containing an ancient form of tons was unearthed and no traces exist that any corpse was ever buried in it. As the tons was found to hold a rusty iron heart in its teeth, and as the site is not far from the place where witches were burned in the Seventeenth century, it is believed that the tons and the iron heart are relics of the witch-burning period.—Montreal Herald.

TELEPHONE

is Insurance

No matter how many policies you have for protection, you need a telephone. In emergency, it protects you against loss of time when every minute is precious. It insures against loneliness the homebody who seldom sees kinsfolk and friends. No one with a telephone is ever really alone. It fetches and carries—engagements, greetings, invitations, gossip—the small change of neighborliness and friendship without which your family's outlook is limited by the four walls of home.

It runs the housewife's errands, protecting her against inconvenience and downright discomfort, come sun, come storm. And, not least important if you rely on it for work, your telephone protects you against loss of income.

A telephone is indeed insurance, giving you, not only protection, but daily dividends of comfort and convenience.

By letter, by wire, by word-of-mouth, Essex Terraplane owners have told us of experiences with their cars that have seemed even to us almost incredible until we learned the details.

Thousands of trouble-free high-speed miles, emergency high-gear runs over rocky mountain roads in record time, accidents prevented by Terraplane agility, trips

. . . in every story a thrill, in every thrill the assurance of Terraplane ruggedness, dependability and safety.

Yet the Terraplane is a gentle car—quiet, smooth, comfortable, instantly responsive. It is an amazingly economical car. It is a beautiful, sleek, low-slung car.

Have you driven a Terraplane yet?

It is unusual for Chinese to be haled into court for scrapping. Two of this race were to have appeared in the Newton court last Friday charged with mutual assault and battery. The pair, Chung Lee, who runs a laundry at 247 Walnut st., Newtonville, and Sun Hom of 176 Harrison ave., Boston, walked out another at Newtonville on July 28th, after Hom had gone to the laundry to collect money he alleged was owed him by Chung.

Amos Samuda, colored, of Rutland square, Boston, was found not guilty of assault and battery on Thomas O'Rourke of Somerville when his case was heard by Judge Bacon in the Newton court last Friday. The two are truck drivers and became engaged in a brawl at Newton Centre last week after Samuda's truck had collided with that driven by O'Rourke. Samuda testified that O'Rourke was the aggressor and his contention was substantiated by a witness.

STRANGE fact about the tire business is — the PRICE of all tires is about alike. You might as well pick the best—in quality, in safety, in mileage.

What's the best in quality? The public says Goodyear—preferred by more people than any THREE other makes.

What's the best in safety? Accurate tests on wet concrete show Goodyears will stop a car quicker than any other tire. The next best tire skidded 10% more—other tires skidded up to 77% more under exactly the same conditions.

What's the best in mileage? Bus fleet records show Goodyear Tires give 97% more mileage than they gave five years ago.

Now that all prices are headed UP—it's more important than ever to get the most for your money. Better look over your tires and buy new Goodyears now while prices are still low.

Newton Store Owners Break Health Laws

Lillian Cohen who conducts a grocery store at 882 Walnut st., Newton Highlands, and who has a common victualer's license, and Eugene Capelle who manages a grocery store at 362 Watertown st., Nonantum, were in the Newton court on Wednesday charged with violations of the health laws. The complainant was Irving House, inspector of the Newton Health Department. He testified that he had caused the Cohen woman to be summoned into court after he had warned her several times. He said that pressed meat had been kept in a refrigerator at the store after it had turned rancid, and that food receptacles there had not been kept clean.

House testified that Capelle has exposed food on the counters at his store without properly covering it and that he has placed bags of flour on the sidewalk in front of the store. Both defendants were found guilty and placed on probation.

ARRESTED FOR DRUNKEN DRIVING

Patrolmen McCarthy and Murphy of the Metropolitan police arrested Bertram Nickerson of 111 Evans rd., Watertown, on Sunday for alleged violations of several automobile laws. The policemen charged that Nickerson drove so unsteadily on Nonantum rd., Newton, that he crowded their car to the side of the road; that he was driving under the influence of liquor; that he was driving without a license and after his license to drive had been revoked. Nickerson appeared in the Newton court on Monday and his trial was continued until August 7.

Miss Alice R. Marsh has been appointed superintendent of the Whidden Memorial Hospital in Everett. Miss Marsh has had long experience in hospital work. She is now superintendent of nurses at the Worcester Memorial Hospital. She has been at that institution eight years.

Early Sunday morning a young woman was found lying unconscious near Needham st., Newton Upper Falls, by a passing autoist. She had a bump on her head and it was first thought she might have been hit by an automobile. She was taken to the Newton Hospital and when she recovered consciousness identified herself as Mrs. Fred Newhart of Wyoming, Pa. She said she had been employed as a domestic at Westerley, Rhode Island, and later came to Boston seeking employment. She said she had walked from Boston to Upper Falls and it is supposed she fainted from fatigue. She was released from the hospital on Wednesday.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The Middlesex County Council meeting will be held in Old Armory Hall, Main st. and Flint ave., Stoneham, on Saturday afternoon, July 29. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock and the meeting will be called to order at 2 o'clock. Election of County Officers will be held.

The delegates and alternates from the Newton unit are Mrs. Mary McCarthy, President, Mrs. Mary Weizoreck, Mrs. Mary Foran, Mrs. Jessie Drew, Mrs. Helen Miller and Mrs. Catherine Reichert.

Robin Hood

Doubt is pretty general of any truth in the story of Robin Hood, inasmuch as very similar tales are found in Germany and Scandinavia and appear to be part of the common heritage of all these related northern peoples. There is, at any rate, no proof of Robin Hood's existence, although the exploits of some local hero may have been the center around which the Robin Hood tales crystallized. Some authorities think he represents simply the remnant of the old Saxon race, living in perpetual defiance of the Norman conquerors.

Free Boston Symphony Concerts in Lexington

The entertainments will be free, but a small charge will be made for chairs. Any balance of profits over expenses will be used as a nucleus of a fund for a similar course of concerts next year.

GOVERNOR SUCCEEDS IN DIVERTING GAS TAX MONEY

Governor Ely has had his way at last through the action of the Legislature, prior to its prorogation early last Sunday morning, in authorizing the diversion of eight millions of dollars of gasoline tax receipts into the general fund of the Commonwealth. During the past seven months several attempts were made to distribute this money to the cities and towns. Theoretically these funds were to be used for highway purposes by the municipalities, but actually the money might well have gone for other uses. None of these attempts to distribute available funds were successful and the Governor had repeatedly stated his belief that the transfer to the general expense account was the proper use to which they should be put, but the Legislature was not ready to see it that way.

Last week a bill, distributing eight millions of dollars that was available to the cities and towns in a similar manner as five and a half million was allotted last year, was brought in and passed by both branches with a fair majority despite attempts to amend the bill so that the money could be used for general expenses of the Commonwealth. On Saturday Governor Ely sent this bill back to the Senate with the recommendation that the bill be changed so that such transfer could be accomplished. The Senate agreed to the change readily but the Republican majority in the House put up a lengthy but vain battle, eventually giving in as the minority finally got the upper hand when a number of Republicans, apparently feeling certain that the Legislature would not finish its work and that the session would go over into this week, left the State House.

Motorists who have paid the money into the highway fund with the understanding, which was as much of a promise as the 1928 Legislature could make it, that the gasoline tax money would be used for roads, will not take kindly to the Governor's views. It is true that Massachusetts has spent millions upon its roads in the past few years, but there are still several important projects which should be completed. However, it is likely that highway funds which the Federal Government will grant to Massachusetts under the National Industrial Recovery Act, which grants will total about six millions of dollars, can be used for these projects. It would seem that such a plan is the only one which will satisfy the motorist. The violation of the original principle of the gasoline tax is the issue which stands out above all else despite the fact that the motorist may be repaid by completion of highway projects. It is to be hoped that the precedent set by the 1933 Legislature will not be followed in the future.

THE STATE HAS DONE ITS PART

The diversion of gas tax receipts into the general fund of the Commonwealth made it possible to keep the net state tax, which is assessed upon the cities and towns, at nine millions of dollars, slightly less than the figure of a year ago. Last year a common, though unfounded excuse among these municipalities which were forced to raise their local tax rates, was to the effect that such increases were due to a much larger state tax than in 1931. It should be remembered, however, that in 1932 cities and towns shared in the distribution of five and a half millions of dollars of gas tax money for highway purposes which they must do without this year.

The State, we believe, has accomplished all that it set out to do in keeping down the burden of the taxpayer. With the announcements of municipal tax rates expected shortly the effect of economies in local governments will soon be determined. Any increases in local tax rates will be due largely to local conditions.

Under The Gilded Dome

Few sessions of the Massachusetts Legislature have undertaken and accomplished as much as the General Court of 1933 which prorogated at the unusual hour of 3:38 last Sunday morning. Not only has the year been of marked historical significance but there have been almost innumerable problems to be solved. Possibly no session within recent memory has struggled with a veritable deluge of important matters equal to that which fell to the lot of 1933 members.

Federal recovery plans, involving a wide variety of bills, presented alone a stupendous task. Then there was the return of legalized selling of beer and wine. The common run of bills was never greater while added to laborers ordinarily imposed was the unpleasant duty of unseating of a House member, with numerous sensational public hearings, etc. And the return of the center of the Legislature to the Legislature request the Governor to remove the presiding justice of a district court. This, too, demanded weeks of public hearings and aroused debate that consumed hours.

The available records, which extend back as far as 1844, show that five sessions have been prorogated late in the year as that of 1933. Neither does the memory of long-service employees recall one of those Sunday morning sessions such as Massachusetts experienced this year. Yet it will go down in history that pryorogation actually occurred in the early morning of Sunday night, July 22. This is because Sunday is not a legislative day and the only way business accomplished on the Lord's Day may become legal is by setting the clock back. Three times a man with a long pole from the Superintendent of Buildings' office went around and shoved the hands back a full hour. Thus the Sabbath was not desecrated and no one was the loser, unless you reckon the loss of sleep as something missed.

The General Court of 1933 disposed of 369 acts and resolutions which were given executive approval. There were 15 acts and five resolves in addition which the Governor refused to sign and sent in vetoes. Three acts and one resolve of this latter group were passed over the Governor's veto. He allowed one minor measure to become a law without his signature.

As is only natural, at least so it seems, there arose differences throughout the year between the Governor and the Legislature and some sharp things were said on both sides in criticism of the other. In the end, however, all was harmony again. Governor Ely was most gracious in the closing moments for he sent by the Secretary of State a special message in which he congratulated the members, told of his gratification at what had been done, thanked the legislators for their co-operation and bestowed upon them his best wishes. He even went as far as to say that had they passed legislation for the control of intoxicating liquors in anticipation of the repeal of the 18th amendment, the Legislature would have been "nearly perfect."

Newton's Senator and Representatives stood by until the last gun was fired. They had plenty to do, too, for there were committee demands, due to last minute measures, and there were also party demands to be kept in mind. On the bill for the transfer of approximately $5,000,000 of the gas tax to cities and towns Newton legislators kept faith with the Republican party and opposed the Democratic plan to transfer the money to the general fund as suggested by the Governor. The latter was victorious, however, due in part to the fact that a number of Republican members living at distance did not stay for the big clash in the closing hours.

Speaker Saltonstall, for whom it has been a trying year, stood out prominently at all times but never more so than during the last hour before prorogation when an attempt was made to increase the mileage allowance by $17,000. All along a certain number of legislators who live in the western and southeastern part of the State have felt that because of the extended session they should be given extra compensation in the form of additional mileage. The proposition was approved by the Senate and also by the House, but when Speaker Saltonstall took the floor and appealed to his colleagues to reconsider their vote they did so. He made a quiet, direct and personal appeal against the voting of additional appropriations to members and it proved most effective. It also won the Senate over for it voted to recede. The result is that there can be no charge made of extra salary grabbing this year, while the members may be praised for reducing their pay of $2000 for the session by 10 per cent.

From the grist of important measures it is difficult to select the few which may be said without exaggeration to be the most vital. Possibly industrial Massachusetts is affected more by the repeal of the 6 o'clock law so called than any other bill of the session. This measure gives the State Commissioner of Labor and Industries authority to suspend temporarily the law prohibiting the employment of women after 6 p. m. in textile and leather industries.

The railroads have for some years complained of the competition of trucks which was injuring, they said, their freight business. The second last bill signed by the Governor gives the Department of Public Utilities authority to supervise the routes, rates and operation of long-haul trucks. This measure is said to meet the approval of the railroads and the larger and more successful trucking concerns.

Banks and credit unions have been authorized to exchange mortgages for bonds of the Federal Home Loan Bank. This is expected to relieve property owners who have encountered great difficulty in hanging on to their properties during the depression.

The crime situation, another major problem, has been turned over to a special commission of three. At least, the Governor is authorized to appoint three persons to study the administration of the law and endeavor to remove any obstacles which may exist

In past years we heard of the Morse code, the Marconi code, the Napoleonic code and a few other codes. But, there are so many codes being formulated in the national recovery program that one would need an adding machine to take care of them. We haven't noticed any code which pledges State and municipal governments to refrain from awarding contracts on public works to contractors whose bids are so low that they are much less than the cost of the work to be done; provided that the contractors making such bids pay living wages to their employees and the bills incurred for material and equipment. Usually, such low bidders try to keep "out of the red" by paying starvation wages and not paying many of their bills.

Patrolmen Dalton and McGrath of the Newton police were first prize winners at the contests in revolver marksmanship held last Saturday and Sunday at the range of the Mass. Rifle Association in Woburn. Patrolman Dalton won the intermediate class with the highest score of the meet; even bettering the score made by the winner in the "expert" class. Patrolman McGrath won the "tyro" class. The events were completed in by the best pistol shots from police departments from all parts of New England. The revolver team of the Newton police department, although in competition less than two years, has made rapid progress under its coach, Richard Dwyer of the Newton Buick Company.

According to press reports the emblem adopted for the National Recovery campaign was designed by the artist while he "was up in the air" in an airplane enroute to Washington. From the appearance of the alleged eagle, we believe it. No wonder the eagle looks "fattered" now; when he has the tough assignment of trying to hang onto a bolt of lightning.

Perhaps the morbid females who were ordered ejected from the court room at Salem by Judge Fosdick will spend some of their time days at their homes getting the meals for their husbands and children, if they have any.

Governor Ely seems partial to Newton residents. He has, within the past year appointed several of them to important positions. The latest appointment is that of Robert T. Bushnell of Waban as a member of the commission which will combat crime. Mrs. Bushnell's fitness for this position is well known to citizens of Newton and Middlesex County who observed his career as District Attorney.

That there have not been fatal accidents on the new Worcester turnpike is not due to the lack of precision taken by the contractors. Large blocks of granite are lying along the sides of the turnpike without lanterns near them at night to protect motorists. The dividing curb at the roadway leading towards Chestnut st. is also unlighted at night and presents a traffic menace.

Old Parr's Record

On the hillside near Middletown, Wales, is Old Parr's cottage, where Thomas Parr lived in the reign of ten kings and queens of England. At the age of one hundred fifty-two he was taken to London to be exhibited to the king, Charles I, but died a few months later. The doctors, after a post-mortem examination, attributed his untimely death to this removal, for he reported: "In short, his inward parts appeared so healthy that if he had not changed his diet and air, he might perhaps have lived a good while longer." He continued his work as a farmer till he was one hundred thirty years old. He was buried in Westminster Abbey. —National Geographic Magazine.

Relics of Vanished Race

Amazing discoveries were made by an amateur archeologist of Johannesburg, South Africa, in northern Transvaal. His discoveries include sacrificial graves of an entirely new type, a sacrificial altar approached by ceremonial causeways and staircases, small that they could only have been used by pygmies, an irrigation system of enormous extent, and remnants of a large dam made by a vanished race, and an authentic mining implement used by unknown copper miners of the Palabara.

Population of Alaska

The 1930 census gave Alaska, including the Aleutian Islands, a population of 59,278. This included 18,460 native born white and 10,150 foreign born white; 29,938 Indians, and 655 others. The largest city is Juneau, with a population of 4,043.

as regards a full enforcement of the statutes relating to punishment for crime.

All Federal legislation for assisting States to recover from the depression in one way or another has required appropriate legislation on the part of each State. These requirements have been met by the General Court of Massachusetts which has passed laws that will permit the carrying out of many projects in the public works program of not only the State but by cities and towns. The plan for removal of slum areas is met by the creation of a housing division in the State Department of Public Welfare. Cities and towns in financial distress have had their credit rehabilitated, while funds available for public welfare have been increased. Altogether it has been a remarkable year.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Love" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 30.

The Golden Text is: "Sing, O heavens; and be joyful, O earth; and break forth into singing, O mountains: for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted" (Isaiah 49:13).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him" (1 John 4:16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Science taught in the original language of the Bible came through inspiration, and needs inspiration to be understood. . . . A misplaced word changes the sense, and misstates the Science of the Scriptures, as, for instance, to name Love as merely an attribute of God; but we can by special and proper capitalization speak of the love of Love, meaning by that what the beloved disciple meant in one of his epistles, when he said, 'God is Love.'" (p. 319).

Creatures of the Veldt

Are Afraid of Hunters

Antelopes, zebras, pigs, and smaller creatures of the veldt, such as wild dogs, jackals, little cats, and others, are wildly afraid of man. They have been hunted, trapped, chased by dogs, and shot at so consistently by both whites and natives that they know they have no chance. Therefore it is not surprising to find mother animals of these species apparently deserting their young when a man finds their hiding place. At times, in their anxiety, they have come so close that I have had the greatest difficulty in restraining my natives from going after them, writes a correspondent in Tit-Bits Magazine. But these mothers could do nothing against us, and knew it.

Lions, buffalo, elephants, rhinos, and leopards can and do fight furiously and recklessly in defense of their young. Elephants will track a party which has captured a calf and attack a camp in an effort to rescue. Lions always keep a watchful eye on the lair where their cubs lie hidden, and woe betide any man who attempts to carry the cubs away.

La Marseillaise Thrilling

The martial strains of "La Marseillaise" are always thrilling. It was composed by Capt. Rouget de Lisle, a young artillery officer, while quartered in Strasbourg in 1792. He wrote it one winter evening, and sang it the next morning to a group of friends at the home of Baron Dietrich, mayor of the city. It stirred the furor of patriotism whenever it was played or sung. The insurgents of the French revolution assembled at Marseilles marched on Paris to its strains, and chanted it during the attack on the Tuilleries.

Futile Statistics

A statistical report shows that for every four men more than eighty-five years old there are seven women. But it's too late then.—Atlanta Journal.

Trigger Fish Bait Thieves

Trigger fish are the bane of anglers in southern waters. They will clean out the inside of a crab while you are still fishing for tarpon, leaving only the shell, and while they are doing it there is not a tremor of the line or big cork float to warn you the bait is being stolen.

Elements Recognized

Eighty-eight elements are generally recognized by chemists and claims have been made for the discovery of four more, for which places can be assigned in the periodic system, namely, elements of atomic numbers 43, 61, 85 and 87. There is some uncertainty about each of these.

Butterfly's Sense of Taste

A butterfly's leg is 1,600 times as effective as a man's tongue as an organ of taste. That is the conclusion reached following experiments with more than 200 butterflies, representing ten species, made at the University of Minnesota. In making the tests, the legs of the insects were dipped in water, then in solutions containing sugar of milk and ordinary sugar. As soon as the butterfly was able to detect any sweetening in the water, its proboscis became uncoiled and extended. Gradually reducing the sugar in the solution, the smallest amount the insects could detect was discovered. Further tests showed that this amount had to be increased 1,600 times before the human tongue could detect it.—Montreal Herald.

Blanket Makers in Caste

In a recent district of Meerut, India, there are 55,000 sheep, which yield 51,000 pounds of wool for blanket weaving. Caste plays a part there. The British Empire Chamber of Commerce Magazine, and one may see Gadaris or Hindu shepherds tending these sheep while Mohammedan kamallas carry on the actual manufacture of the blankets. When the industry engaged in boom, these workers were assisted by Jullahas, who are otherwise engaged in cotton or silk weaving.

The Cotillion
The cotillion is a dance of French origin and is performed to quadrille music. It was a fashionable dance at the court of Charles X, where it had been adapted from a peasant dance. At first for one, then for two performers, it soon became a round dance, in which form it was introduced into England. There are hundreds of possible figures in the modern dance and the accessories are most elaborate.

Augur or Soothsayer of Early Rome Was Wise Guy

The word "augur," meaning to prophesy, is derived from the augur, or soothsayer of early Rome. The augur held a position of great respect in the Roman government and seldom was any great undertaking launched until the augur had been visited to ascertain what the fates might be holding in store.

Usually there were two augurs, there being more work than one could handle and in later years the number was increased.

The prophecies of the augurs were based on certain birds and other mystic signs known only to the holder of the office.

The augur held office during his lifetime and thus none knew his secrets save those destined to succeed him, the secrets being imparted only when death was at hand.

Making of the Crate

Notwithstanding the increasing use of pasteboard cartons for packing good of various kinds, it is stated that about one-sixth of the entire lumber output of the United States goes into boxes and crates. The engineers of the American forest service have gone into detail and experiments with boxes and crates which led them to the following conclusion after testing 550 different crates built of Ponderosa pine, western hemlock and Sitka spruce: "The strength and rigidity of a crate increases with each diagonal brace added, the maximum increase occurring with the addition of the sixth brace."

State Board Of Tax Appeals Makes Decision

Renders Verdict on Appeal by
R. C. Taylor Estate

The State Board of Tax Appeals rendered a decision this week on the appeal taken by the R. C. Taylor Estate in the matter of the valuation of this property by the Board of Assessors of Newton. The issue was raised over the valuations placed on the Taylor properties in 1931 when the properties at Newton Corner were assessed as follows—

Stevens Building	$180,000
Willard Building	110,000
Nonantum Building	245,000
Whitman Building	115,000
Weld Building	48,000
Taylor Building	155,000
Charlton Building	52,000
Rear lot of land	8,200
Total	$913,200

The owner, a resident of Worcester, claimed this was an over-valuation on the whole property, of $346,165 and applied to the assessors for an abatement of this amount, which would be equivalent to a tax refund to him of $9,208.00. The assessors were unable to agree with the owner as to this, and the matter was taken to the Board of Tax Appeals.

At a three days hearing before the Board, the assessors gave a full explanation of their procedure in arriving at the valuations in question, supporting it by testimony of experts, and by recent sales in the locality; and the owner presented his side of the case exhaustively.

As a result of the evidence presented, the Board of Tax Appeals, after a period of several months, gave their decision sustaining the assessors' valuation on the Stevens, Willard, Nonantum, Whitman, and Weld properties aggregating $698,000. The abatements the Board allowed were $4000 on land in rear of the Whitman, $3000 on the Charlton, and $20,000 on the Taylor Building. This amounts to a tax refund to the owner of $718.20 instead of $9,208 petitioned for by him.

This decision of the Board of Tax Appeals however, was not unanimous, one of its members dissenting from the decision on one of the parcels as follows: "I concur in the foregoing findings of the Board, except in the case of the parcel located at 283-295 Washington st., and 19-29 Pearl Court known as the Taylor Building. Considering the evidence of a recent sale of an adjoining parcel, other recent sales in the immediate locality, and all other evidence as to the value of the Taylor Building presented to the Board, I find that the Assessors did not overvalue this parcel."

Real Estate Tide Has Turned

In the darkest days of last February, articles over my signature in several magazines stated that real estate prices were unlikely to go much lower, advised buying then and holding on courageously for future improvement.

"Buy real estate from a pessimist! Buy it now! Later on you'll sell it to an optimist!" I emphasized my belief that real estate prices were unlikely to go much lower and that wise investors should take advantage of panicky prices.

Friends who followed this advice said that their profits prove I was right. Now, several months later, real estate is having its first upward swing since 1929. Records from 245 leading cities report improvement since March of this year. The 21st semi-annual survey of the National Association of Real Estate Boards states that this is the first time since June 1929 that the survey has been able to show any improvement—and this improvement is a definite upward swing.

The report indicates that while demand has improved and prices have started to stiffen in some cities, depression levels still prevail in many cases. In 19 per cent of the cities reporting, prices have stopped falling and in a number of cases, prices are definitely rising.

In 33 per cent of cities having a population of 500,000 or more, there is a shortage of single family houses. Because capital hesitates to invest in first mortgages, even at these low levels, new house construction seems sure to lag behind demand. In the meantime, prices for lumber, plumbing and heating are rising rapidly. It is foreseen that before capital starts to move more freely into mortgage fields, costs for new building will be considerably higher. This should increase the value of existing houses.

Rents have not kept pace with increasing commodity prices. They are now actually lower in many cities than they were a year ago. It seems reasonable to suppose that rents must soon go higher.

The tide has been going out for four years. The tide has turned. How soon and how far will it come in? In the meantime, the sun is beginning to shine overhead!

PETER TURCHEON.

SUSPENDED JAIL TERM FOR YOUTH WHO TOOK TRUCK

Gregory Russo of 15 Cook street, Nonantum, was given a 30 days suspended jail sentence in the Newton court on Wednesday by Judge Lynch for using an automobile without authority. Russo was employed by Antonio DeMare of Belmont to drive a truck. On July 3rd Russo brought the truck to Newton to adjust the brakes on it, according to DeMare. On July 4th Russo used the truck to convey 27 persons on an outing and it was in a collision at Lawrence.

Church, Upper Falls, in the garden of the groom's parents, 94 Harvard st., Newtonville, at seven o'clock Saturday evening, July 22, in the presence of 100 relatives and friends. The bride wore a gown of white silk crepe and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses.

The ceremony was performed before an arbor decorated with evergreens and pink hollyhocks. The bridal party was assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and groom. Ancient "For Rent" Signs

To rent signs are said to have been painted in red and black letters on the sides of buildings excavated among the ruins of Pompeii and Herculaneum which were destroyed during the eruption of Vesuvius volcano in 79 A. D. The translation of one of such signs follows: "On the estate of Julia Felix, daughter of Spurius Felix, are to let from the first to the sixth of the Ides of August, on a lease of five years, a bath, a veranum, and 90 shops, bowers and upper apartments."—Detroit News.

Ruskin's Philosophy

A good story is told of one of Ruskin's disciples who, having read the master's diatribes against "foul and filthy railways," resolved to prove his belief by walking from his home to Ruskin's, a matter of many miles. When he reached the master's presence, very dusty and very proud, he breathlessly explained what he had done. "Young man," said Ruskin, "abuse railways, but use them."

STUDEBAKER raced 28 cars off the track at Indianapolis!

Out of 42 entries only 14 finished . . . and 7 were Studebaker powered! 5 were 85% stock Studebakers which went through entire race without a repair!

THOSE five Studebakers—and two privately entered cars with Studebaker engines—finished in the first twelve. Not a repair was made to any car in the Studebaker team throughout the 500 miles. No other proving ground in the world could give a car the test the Studebakers took in this fastest race in Speedway history. Why not come in today and drive a new Automatic Studebaker so that you can see for yourself why Studebaker engineering is so flawless and Studebaker stamina so superior?

Biggest June Sales Since 1930! Studebaker June sales were 147% greater than March—in fact, greater than any June since 1930. And sales already recorded show that July will substantially surpass June. Put your money on a winner. Come in and let us put a price on your present car today.

Beasts Once Summoned Before Judicial Courts

Among curious legal cases before the courts, few bear comparison with those recorded in bygone days, when suits were really heard against the lower creation, says the Law Journal of London. While it is difficult to suppress merriment over the quaint ideas of our ancestors, regarding the culpability of animals, there is no doubt that the trials were viewed seriously.

The warrant for holding animals amenable to the law appears to have been taken from the Judaic law: "If an ox gore a man or woman that they die, then the ox shall be surely stoned and his flesh shall not be eaten; but the owner of the ox shall be quit."

Following this command Moses proceeds to enforce the doctrine of the responsibility of the owner of a dangerous animal and to insure his due punishment in the event of his wittingly allowing a harmful beast to run loose. These injunctions, therefore, which sound so strange today, were pursued more or less to the letter in medieval Europe, and, extraordinary though it may seem, in France and other European countries animals in general were held to be amenable to law until the middle of the Eighteenth century.

By the old law of France, if a vicious animal killed a human being and it was proved that the owner knew of its propensity to attack people and suffered the beast to be at large, the owner as well as the animal was hanged.

Blood Combination That Has Bred Moron People

The name "Jackson Whites" probably was formed from the words jacks and whites, a jack being a hybrid. The Jackson Whites of New Jersey are a mixture of negro, Indian and white blood, showing all possible combinations of the traits of these three races. The historical records of the subject show that a number of the freed slaves settled in the Ramapo mountains, where they were joined by occasional whites of very low standing from the surrounding communities. Just how the Indian blood is to be accounted for is uncertain. One theory is that some of these freed slaves were Indians, as it is a well-authenticated fact that at one time some Indians were held as slaves. Another theory is that these were Indians who joined this group of people just as the low-grade white people joined them. As far as mentality goes the average mental age is from nine to ten years. In other words, these people are practically all of the moron level of intelligence.—Washington Star.

Fascinating Word

The word "kaleidoscope" is orthographically fascinating, almost alphabetically picturesque. It is no wonder, then, that "kaleidoscope" is a favorite adjective with critics, journalists, and other writers. Sometimes it is well used, but often its precise meaning is forgotten or neglected. The definition given in Webster's new international dictionary reminds one of the popular children's toy:

"An instrument invented by Sir David Brewster, which contains loose fragments of colored glass, etc., and reflecting surfaces so arranged that changes of position exhibit its contents in an endless variety of symmetrical varicolored forms. Its figures have been much employed in arts of design."

Slow to Recognize America

On February 6, 1778, signatures were affixed to a treaty of commerce and a treaty of amity and alliance between France and the United States. The definitive treaty between the United States and England was signed at the end of 1783. Although Frederick the Great wrote Franklin that he probably would soon follow France in recognizing the United States in 1778, no recognition was extended until about 1786. A treaty of peace and commerce was signed with the Netherlands in September, 1785. A treaty of peace and friendship was signed by Morocco in January, 1787. A treaty had been signed with Sweden in April, 1783. Russia did not recognize the new country or send a diplomatic representative until 1809.

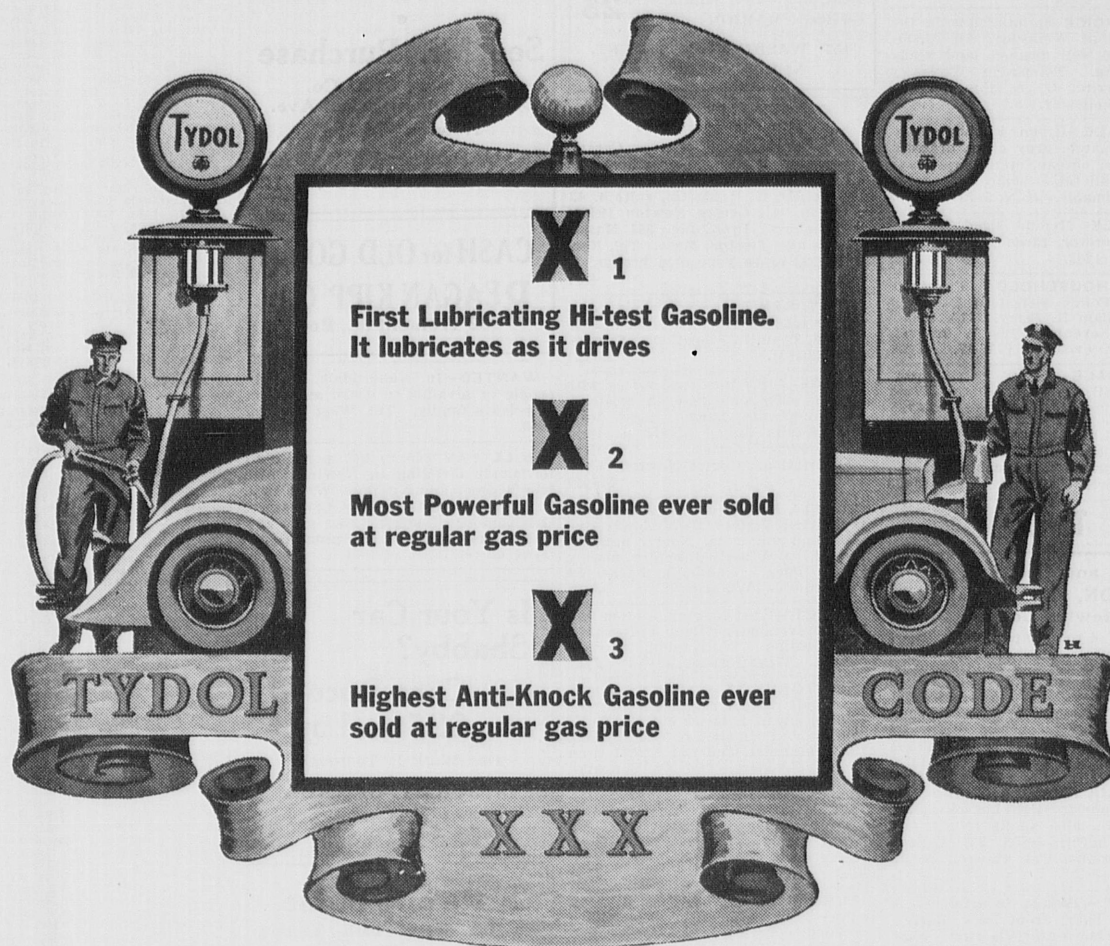

Fly Plague in Eastern Lands

Flies of death must swarms of eastern flies be to the people of those otherwise heaven-blessed lands, where sanitation is still almost unknown, and proper drainage is yet frequently absent. It speaks eloquently for the disciplined care of old Rome for the countries it conquered, that in the New Testament the annoyance and dangers of swarms of flies are so little in evidence, although the malaria so fatal to those who spent their summers in Rome itself, according to many writers, was no doubt spread very considerably if not mainly by mosquitoes and other fly pests.

Stag Hunting as "Sport"

Stag hunting has been a popular sport among the upper classes in England for almost a thousand years. Sir Walter Scott began his famous narrative poem, "The Lady of the Lake," with the opening line (hinting of a stag hunt to follow): "The stag at eve had drunk his fill." The matter of its cruelty may be open to debate, but it is beyond dispute that stag hunting has had a prominent place in English life and literature for centuries.

Bulldog Descendant of the Bull Baiting Breed

The short-legged, heavy-set animal that we know as the bulldog is the descendant of dogs used for ages in bull baiting. Until this sport was forbidden by law, it was popular in many countries.

In the contests between bull and dog, it was the dog's duty to seize the bull by the nose and hold him, for the bull would gore his adversary if possible. The nose of the bull, when seized by the dog, had a tendency to swell, thus shutting off the dog's breath, making him lose his hold.

The nature of the sport, therefore, made the breeders of the dogs which participated develop animals for the following points: First, low-set dogs that were hard to gore; second, courageous dogs that went far and fairly in; third, dogs whose up-turned noses enabled them to breathe comfortably while the bull's flesh swelled, and fourth, dogs whose teeth were so short that no unnecessary damage was done to the bull.—Boston Herald.

War Epidemic

War was as epidemic as the plague in the Middle Ages, and probably never ceased for a single day in one part of Europe or another.

"White" on Moths Ultraviolet

Butterflies and moths, as seen by each other, are very different from the way they appear to human beings, because they see ultraviolet radiations and reflections beyond the range of the eye of man. The American Museum of Natural History has demonstrated this by taking photographs of butterflies, moths and flowers in which only the ultraviolet patterns were visible. It was found, for instance, that all patches and spots on butterflies and moths which appear to be Chinese white to the human eye were in reality a deep ultraviolet in hue. Other white shades were also found to be ultraviolet when seen by the insects.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

World's Fiercest Dog

The Tibetan mastiff is considered the world's fiercest dog, exceeding in savagery the half-wolf huskies of the Arctic. In its native country it is never left off the leash from puppyhood and this may account for its ferociousness. It is surly, suspicious and of rare strength, and is used solely in Tibet as a watch dog, having been bred for centuries with this one idea in mind. The dogs resemble our Newfoundland in some respects and possess a heavy coat of black and tan or black and red.
